WHO, ME?

Wise Guy (boarding a street car): "Well, Noah, is the ark full?"
Conductor: "Nope, we need one more jack-ass, come on in."
—Log

Gladys—"Mabel is two laps ahead of Emily in their leap year race."
Phyllis—"Two laps?"
Gladys—"Yeah, Harry's and Bob's."

"How did you like the girl you took home from the dance?"
"Awful."
"I couldn't kiss her either."

Burglar (after being caught stealing in an old maid's bedroom): "Please let me go lady, I never did anything wrong."

Old Maid (all smiles): "Well, it's never too late to learn."

Kisses carry germs, 'tis stated;
Kiss me, dear, I'm vaccinated.
—"Banks Gazette"

A Harlem sheik who has heard a lot of talk about the great White Way says it's probably no better than the Colored Way.
—Eye-Opener

The meanest Scotchman we've heard of is the one that tells his children boogey-man stories so he won't have to buy them oil.
—Bored Walk

There was a girl named Passion,
I asked her for a date
I took her out to dinner
My God, how Passionate!
