16th Vocational Ag Contest To Be Held Here Soon

Annual State Judging Contest For Agricultural Students To Be Held Here April 17.

In cooperation with the State Board of Vocational Education, the schools of vocational teaching and agriculture of Texas A and M College are preparing for the sixteenth annual state judging contest for vocational agricultural students (Smith-Hughes) to be held at the college Monday, April 17th. The entries are expected to equal the past year's record breaking mark of 1,409 boys, according to E. R. Alexander, professor of agricultural education at the college, who is in charge of the entire.

Eighty-six schools have already entered teams for the contest as a result of the entry blanks distributed a few weeks ago among the 255 high schools of the state which offer vocational agricultural work. Mr. Alexander stated. The contests include entomology, farm shop, dairy judging, poultry and egg judging, soil conservation, and plant production. Each school is allowed to enter three teams and a total of ten students.

According to Dean C. H. Winkler of the school of vocational teaching, and chairman of the Smith-Hughes contest committee, contest fees and expenses have been reduced considerable over last year's.

Teams were entered by a total of 159 high schools last year at the Smith-Hughes Contest.

GROWING
FLOWER

ILLUSION:
The magician exhibits a flower pot with hinged sides on a table in the center of the stage. He opens out the sides to show that this container is empty. Closing it up, he places a screen between it and the audience. After a short period of magic incantations he removes the screen. The astounded audience sees a beautiful girl, covered to the shoulders in lovely flowers, rising from the "empty" container. Where did she come from?

EXPLANATION:
The girl was aiding behind the drape of the table. There is a trap door in the bottom of the flower pot, with a hole large enough to allow her to crawl through. The flowers, called "magicians' feather flowers," are a regular part of a magician's outfit. The flower girl wears a rubber tunic and a bathing cap to keep the flowers compressed into small space. She slides the tunic down and the flowers expand when she emerges.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

A trick frequently worked in cigarette advertising is the illusion that mildness in a cigarette comes from mysterious processes of manufacture.

EXPLANATION: All popular cigarettes today are made in modern sanitary factories with up-to-date machinery. All are heat treated—some more intensively than others, because raw, inferior tobaccos require more intensive treatment than choice, ripe tobaccos.

The real difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. The better the tobacco, the milder it is.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.
