

WHERE'S TIGE?

1st Drunk: "Shay, ya seen my dog Rover?"
 2nd Ditto: "Naw, whash his name?"
 1st Drunk: "Spot."

"Why did you divorce your husband?"

"Incompatibility."

"Incompatibility?"

"Yes, He always woke up about two o'clock and wanted to go home."

Jim: "You know that pretty blonde over there? She's a warm mama, and how she does neck"

Jimmy: "Uh-huh. Know who I am? I'm her husband."

Jim: "Uh-huh. Know who I am? I'm the biggest liar in town. S'long."

Stutterer (yelling at pedestrian): "H-h-h-hey, l-look out, t-t-there's a c-c-c-ar. Aw, hell, h-h-h-he didn't j-j-jump quick enough!"

A village parson's daughter eloped in her father's clothes. Next day the village "Blatter" came out with an account of the elopement. It was headed "Flees in Father's Pants."

A motorist stopped at a wayside general store and inquired of the rustic proprietor, "What have you in the shape of automobile tires?"

"In the shape of automobile tire I have funeral wreaths, life preservers, invalid cushions, and doughnuts," was the quick reply.

A tramp paused outside of a farm house and knocked timidly.

"Clear out," shouted the woman of the house, "I ain't got no wood to chop. There ain't nothin you could do around here."

"But there is, madam," retorted the wayfarer with dignity. "I could give you a few lessons in grammar."

THE DANGER OF IT

Picking pockets doesn't begin to be a dangerous business till you get your hand in.

Prof: "When two bodies come together with force is heat generated?"

Stude: "Yes, sir, but force is not necessary."

"No, you can't take my daughter riding."

"Why not?"

"I don't allow my daughter to go out with college boys."

"But I ain't a college boy, I work over to Kelly's pool hall."

"I beg your pardon, sir, my daughter will be ready in a moment."
