Preview, Tuesday, and Wednesday—Song of the Eagle.

At the Assembly Hall
Saturday, 12:30 a. m. (makeup show)—Black Beauty.
Saturday night—Whistling in the Dark.
Wednesday night—Secrets.

Acclaimed generally as a great picture "Cavalcade" sets a new style in motion pictures. The story by Noel Coward, is of an English family and tells of their trials through a quarter of a century. Excellent acting and photography, but the story moves slowly.

Cast: Diana Wynyard, Clive Brooks, Ursula Jeans, Herbert Mundin.

Following the cycle of circus and animal pictures, "Murders in the Zoo" offers a gruesomely thrilling story. An insane zoologist, played by Lionel Atwill, gives his jealousy full reign and uses his knowledge of wild animals to murder his wife's boy friends. Naturally there is a handsome hero to bring the fiend to justice. Comedy relief supplied by Charles Ruggles who takes the part of a press agent for the zoo.

Cast: Charles Ruggles, Lionel Atwill, Kathleen Burke, Randolph Scott, Gail Patrick.

Back to the heyday of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the odor of race-track manure, "Black Beauty" tells the tale of the intelligent horse we read about in public school and didn't find when we took equitation in Military Science. The super-intelligent mammal, I think, ends up by winning the Osh Kosh handicaps to lift the mortgage of the old Hemingway homestead. Excellent for the young neighborhood imps that pull off fly's wings, or in other words, a PTA picture unless the gambling atmosphere of the sport

Two More Corps Dances Complete Social Program

Remaining Hops Are Scheduled for the Nights of May 6th and May 14th.

Two corps dances, one to be held on Saturday, May 6th and the other one week later on May 13th, remain on the social calendar of the present term, according to Don Elliott, social secretary of the senior class.

With the exception of the Cattleman's Ball on May 5th, the Senior Prom on May 12th, and the Junior Prom and Final Ball on June 1 and 2, respectively, these will be the only dances on the campus before the end of school.

According to the present schedule, Joe Dillon's Campus Serenaders will play for the corps dance on May 6th, having won that privilege by their victory over the Aggeland Orchestras in a recent waltz, and also for the corps dance on the following Saturday night, May 13th. The Aggeland Orchestra will furnish the music for the Senior Prom and the Junior Prom and both the Serenaders and the Aggeland will play for the Final Ball.

As has been the case in the past the hours of the remaining corps dances will be from 9 'til 12.

Woman is the revolutionary animal; man the conservative.—S. K. Ratcliffe, British editor.

Cast: Esther Ralston, Alexander Kirkland, Hale Hamilton.

Since no one else has deigned to notice them, authors have been forced to take recourse to writing stories about their own kind. "Whistling in the Dark" is another one of the products of this movement and the hero is an author of mystery tales who is forced by gangsters to evolve a perfect crime for them. A good plot not without humor.

Cast: Merkel, Corday, and Truex.

Y.M.C.A. TRAINING CONFERENCE HELD HERE APRIL 21-23

Dr. W. D. Weatherford, National Y.M.C.A. President, Delivers Address.

Fifty-nine delegates from Texas University, Rice Institute, Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State Teachers College, Austin College, and twelve members of the Texas Aggie "Y" held a Young Men's Christian Association-Young Women's Christian Association Cabinet Training Conference at the local Y. M. C. A. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 21-23.

Dr. W. D. Weatherford, president of the Y. M. C. A. graduate school, delivered inspirational addresses to the visiting boys and girls, and the members of the A and M "Y" cabinet during the three days of the conference. Members of the schools represented at the conference also led in the devotional services. After each meeting Dr. Weatherford presided over an open forum.

Matters pertaining to the Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association work were discussed along with student problems and world problems of general interest.

The conference closed at noon Sunday, April 23.

Engineering And Math Professors Attend Meeting

J. J. Richey, Head of C.E. Department, Is Re-elected To Executive Committee.

A number of engineering and mathematics professors of Texas A and M attended the annual meeting of the Texas Section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education held in Austin Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

This was the third meeting of the Society which was organized at A and M two years ago.

Officers elected for the following year were T. U. Taylor, dean of engineering at Texas University, president; and E. H. Hath, dean of engineering at S. M. U., vice-president. J. J. Richey, head of the civil engineering department at A and M, was continued as a member of the executive committee. Dean Taylor will succeed F. C. Bolton, dean of the school of engineering at A and M, retiring president.

Professor V. M. Faires of the mechanical engineering department at A and M will be on the program at the national meeting of the Society for the Promotion of $10 for the best play by a non-student member of the Theater club.

According to Mr. Hays, the contest is expected to serve as an incentive for people of the community to become interested in the writing as well as the staging end of dramatic production. The Campus Theater club is encouraging the same sort of creative activity in drama as has been pioneered in by Carnegie Tech, Chicago Art Institute, North Dakota University, and North Carolina University, Mr. Hays also stated.
