

AGGIES PLAY SAM HOUSTON TEACHERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Every Man That Played In Tulane Game To Be Available; Three More Return To Squad After Illness

Out of the limelight of winning one of the most colorful of the interseasonal games in the history of the Southwest Conference from Tulane Saturday, Coach Matty Bell's Aggie Grid Warriors will go into a different kind of light Friday night when they travel to Huntsville for the second game to be played under floodlights in the Cadet's history.

Fish Footballers To Open Schedule With 9th Infantry

Coach "Little Hig" Higginbotham's strong freshman football team will open its season in a night game November 1, at San Antonio with the 9th Infantry whom they defeated last year 26-0. On November 10 they will journey to Bryan and meet their ancient rivals, the Allen Academy Ramblers, who fell before the Freshmen last year 9-0.

Light workouts under the floodlights of Kyle Field during the week have composed the main part of the Aggie training for the Sam Houston mele.

Although considered as being hardly more than a good workout for the strong Aggie team, the Huntsville teachers will not be a set up by any means, having already won two of their pre-season games and looming up as a strong contender for the Lone Star Conference Championship. Sam Houston has turned in victories over Southwestern and Blinn Memorial and has received no defeats to date.

Every man that played in the Tulane game will be available for use Friday, no injuries other than bruises having taken effect into the Aggie team. Besides these, Wilbert Randow, swift quarterback; Rue Barfield, shifty half; Percy Reid, fullback, all of whom have been out of the game because of slight attacks of flu, will be ready for action.

Polo Approved For Cavalry Squadron

Equipment for instruction in polo have been ordered and work in this field will begin soon, according to Major John P. Wheeler. There will be no team to represent the Aggies this year as the only competition will probably be among the cavalry squadron in the spring after the unit has been properly trained.

T.C.U. Frogs and Arkansas Open S. W. Conference Saturday

When the gun sounds Saturday at Fayetteville, the prelude will be over and the first act of the 1933 Southwest Conference grid race will begin for the conference members. T C U and Arkansas will have the honor of starting the annual trek on the narrow path to glory and a Southwest Conference Football Championship that every member of the conference dreams of possessing at the beginning of the season, at least until the first game is played, as the Frogs invade the Razorback territory for the first conference tilt.

T C U has won three non-conference games to date and is ready to start on the jinxed trail for a second consecutive conference championship, while the Razorbacks, already being picked as a strong contender for the championship because of heavy pre-conference victories, are getting set to gig the Frogs and avenge the 34-12 defeat handed them last year.

In the two games that Arkansas has played, the Razorbacks have chalked up 82 points to their opponents 7, having given the Oklahoma Baptists a neat 42-7 trouncing the past Saturday. T C U, in three games, has stacked up 74 pointers to their opponents 6, however the Frogs have had a heavier program than the Razorbacks, especially in the game played last Saturday with the strong North Texas Teachers when the Fort Worth boys won 13-0.

Watching the Aggies

At the beginning of the season, there was only one thing that the Aggies needed to be really set for a Southwestern Conference Championship. That thing was confidence. After having been tossed around in the storm for five years, sometimes losing hard fought games by what seemed merely tough breaks and again losing were out on account of injuries, the Aggies had lost a good bit of the old time confidence in themselves.

But now there is no such obstacle in the way. That little bit of confidence necessary for any aggression to put over a winning season has been added to the team. It has found out that IT CAN BE DONE.

KEEN INTEREST IS SHOWN FOR OPENING INTRAMURAL SPORT

W. L. Penberthy announced Monday that interest in the intramural sports had reached its peak. He revealed the fact that every organization in the corps had entered teams in tennis and both A and B classes of basketball competition. This is the first time that the corps has ever competed one hundred percent in any sport since the advent of extensive intramurals under the direction of Mr. Penberthy. Mr. Penberthy is confident that this unusual interest will be sustained and expressed the hope that the teams go through their seasons without a single forfeiture.

Tennis matches were postponed Monday due to inclement weather but both Class A and B basketball teams swung into action with a total of four games played Monday. In Class A competition, Battery E won their game with Troop B with a score of 17 to 3 and Co. B Engineers beat Troop D 14 to 0. In the Class B events Co. A Signal Corps played Co. G Infantry and won 26 to 4 and the Band won their match with Battery A Coast Artillery 10 to 4.

Speedball contests will be started Monday and this, together with the two sports just mentioned, will hold its place in the lime light until the Cross Country competition begins on November 26th.
