"But, my good man, you're not blind."
"I know it, lady, I'm working for me brudder; he's sick today."

—Sun Dial

She: How old do you think I am?

He: Oh, about twenty-one.

She: How did you guess?

He: I just counted the rings under your eyes.

—Royal Gaboon

My father is my favorite author.

Howzat?

He writes checks.

—Log

Prof: The boys were so entranced this morning that they remained in my class all through the dinner hour.

Wife: Why didn't you wake them up?

Suggestion to college youth: Rome was not built in a day-bed.

—College Humor

When she starts singing, "But, Honey, are you making any money?" be nonchalant and answer, "I can't give you anything but love, Baby." Then she'll most likely come back with "Just friends, lovers no more." But by heck, "Good times are coming."—Yeah—so is Christmas.

—Buccaneer

"Say prunes."

"Say apples, boob; that kind of kiss has gone out of style."

—Widow

A girl is sometimes like your money in a closed bank—the figure looks like a million dollars but you can't get your hands on it.

—Exchange

"So your son left college on account of poor eyesight?"

"Yes, he mistook the Dean of Women for a co-ed."

—Punch Bowl
