Colorado Taxpayers Favor Reduction In Costs of Education
Denver—Charges that Colorado colleges are violating the spirit of the NRA by allowing professors to draw salaries from more than one job at once, have been made by the Colorado Federation of County Taxpayers' Association, which is on a rampage against the costs of education in this state.

One of the aims of the federation is to force drastic reductions in the state's appropriations for its colleges, according to its leaders. This has led to considerable criticism of the sort of education offered by some of the institutions under fire. In a recent report an official of the federation said of the State Teachers College:

"We find a school which is supposed to be teaching boys and girls to be teachers, which has 84 courses in physical education alone. The school offers courses in speed ball, touchball, spring football, varsity football, volleyball, baseball, playground baseball, tennis, swimming, gymnastics, clog dancing, natural dancing, scarf dancing, folk dancing and dancing technique."
"But if you want your children to study kitty ball you will have to send them to the University of by making two penetrations to the Signalers 0 when the score was deadlocked 0-0 in the first of the four games. The Second Battalion, Infantry, trounced the Cavalry Squadron 6-0 in a hard fought contest by coming out in the third quarter with a 15 yard pass that went over for a touchdown. After the Cavalry had made several threats to score under the leading of Bill Young, San Antonio, the Infantry completed the pass from O. L. Billimek, Poth to W. W. Simpson, Bridgeport for the winning score.

In the game between the First Battalion Field Artillery, and the Coast Artillery, neither side had any advantage until only two minutes were left to play. In these last precious minutes, R. C. Smith, Beeville, skirted left end for the touchdown that won the game. The extra point was good and the game ended 7-0 in favor of the First Battalion.

The fourth game of the day was won on penetrations by the Second Battalion, Field Artillery over the Engineers after the teams were deadlocked in a 0-0 score. The decision was given to the Second Artillery on penetrations, the Artillery having 3 penetrations of the 20 yard zone to the Engineers 0. First down honors also went to the second Battalion by a 6-2 count.

Stephen F Austin; then went to Shreveport on the 19 for a two game series with Centenary and from there they moved over to Tullos, La. where they played the Hunt Oilers on the 21. After this the team came back to College Station and disbanded for the holidays until Wednesday afternoon, January 3, when it held the first workout since the game at Tullos, La.

Stephen F Austin's Lumberjacks were the first victims of the Aggie quintet. In a rather evenly fought game, the Cadets wound up on the large side of a 39:30 score. The Farmers easily took the first game from Centenary by a lop-sided score of 44-26, and although the Gents tightened up some in the second game, the Aggies again showed their supremacy by an effective 41-29 count. The strong Tullos Hunt Oilers were next and fell before the fighting Aggies 30-17.

Coach Reid will take his charges to Huntsville next Saturday for a return game with the Sam Houston Bearkats in the only game before the conference opens with Rice Institute at Houston the following Wednesday. The Aggies smothered the Bearkats in the first game between these two teams this season by a score of 38-24.

WATCHING THE AGGIES

BY CARROLL ROBERTS

The Texas Aggies will start their 1934 Athletic year off next Saturday, at Huntsville by meeting the Sam Houston Bearkat quintet. The year of 1933 was not so encouraging for the followers of athletic events of Aggieland—the new year gives a shuffling of the cards but whether the new hand will win the game will be seen later.

Out of the maze since last January, the Cadets have only finished in the lead in one event—the cross country meet held at Houston November 25. The University of Texas Longhorns and The Texas Aggies tied for the championship in this event.

Although the cross-country was the only event that the Farmers won any championship honors in, they had a fairly consistent athletic record, placing second in track and swimming; third in baseball and basketball; and took fourth place in the football race just finished. Although water polo has not been recognized as an intercollegiate sport, the Aggies played a game with the Longhorns and won it last year.

The basketball team was wakened by the fighting A and I Javelina basketball team and stormed through the holiday games with four straight wins and no losses after the Javelinas gave them the only defeat thus far in the season out of seven games. Coach John Reid seems to have good medicine to give the boys after they fall behind because they seem to play their best when they are down. In the game with the Texaco Scotties from Houston, the Farmers were lagging at the half. Coach Reid took up the score book, took two glances at it, scowled and slammed the door behind him as he entered the dressing room where his downcast followers were waiting to hear his words. When time came to resume play, the boys came tearing out of the locker room like mad and looked like a different team the second half. The formerly winning Scotties were able to make only one field goal during the remaining part of the game and the score ended Aggies 29, Scotties 20.

Matty Bell is being mentioned as one of the prospects for the Texas University coaching job, along with Voyles and Chevigny. The athletic committee seems to be at question on the salary to be paid and how they agree on the amount to be paid will largely determine who will occupy the position next year. The committee meets next Friday and will decide at that time who they want.

The committee would not go wrong if they selected Bell for this position. Say what you may, conditions out of the control of any coach have hampered Bell from putting out a championship team at A and M and with the ample football material that the University of Texas attracts, he could put out a team that would deal misery to any in the Southwest conference. It does credit to any school to have a team with the good sportsmanship, clean, and fair play that a Bell coached team shows.

No football captain has been elected by the members of the team for 1934. The team will wait until Homer Norton takes over the reins for spring training and may not choose a captain even at that time.

The reason for his delay is that Coach Norton has not had captain of his teams for the entire year before but instead has selected the man to run the team for each individual game. Although Coach Norton told the team that he would not endeavor to change any of the customs of the players, the lettermen decided to wait until later to act.

The policy of having a different captain each game is a good one from several different views. It does not put the load on one man all year, it gives every man a chance to pilot the team, and it causes every man to keep up with the plays and signals at all times because he does not know at which time he may be called on to run them. Such small matters as these may seem trivial at times but small things sometimes mean the difference of winning or losing a football game.

The new state high school champions, Greenville High School, uses the same method. Coach Henry Frnka chooses his captain usually a week before the game, and whether this detail was a factor or not in the teams winning the championship, it surely did not hamper it. The Greenville Lions had one of the smoothest working teams that I have ever seen when they plastered the Dallas Tech Wolves 21-0 in the State Championship game.

The picture you see here was taken inside one of our modern storage warehouses where the tobaccos for Chesterfield are put away.

There are about four and one-half miles of these Liggett & Myers warehouses filled with thousands of casks of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos, most of it lying there ageing and mellowing for Chesterfield cigarettes.

It takes just about three years to age the tobacco for your Chesterfields.
