Exam Week

JOE K. BUSH

Gosh, golly, darn, and damn!
The night before a term exam!
My studying has scarce begun,
Yet old "Big Ben" is striking one.

Last night I studied until three,
(This life will be the death of me)
Yet, when I took my quiz this morn,
I found my last night's knowledge gone.

Now I the midnight oil must burn,
Though for my bed I strongly yearn.
And when I finally hit the hay,
'Twill almost be another day.

Tomorrow comes; the night has passed;
And I must take that quiz at last.
Oh Lord, what can the questions be?
Oh, Roommate, say a prayer for me.

Yes---
