

ARTILLERY POLO TEAMS SCHEDULE PRACTICE DATES

Practice Will Be Held Each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday Afternoon on the Artillery Polo Field.

Members of the Field Artillery Polo Association met last night for the purpose of adopting a constitution and assigning mounts. Practice will be held from one fifteen Wednesday, and Friday on the practice field which is located across from the horticulture farm about three quarters of a mile west of the campus. Immediately following mounted practice on designated days, a "skull" practice will be held at the stables.

W. E. Scarborough, Abilene, president of the Association, announced that games will be played each Sunday morning between teams within the group as soon as the fundamentals of the game have been learned. Thirty-two students have paid the cost of necessary personal equipment consisting of a mallet and four balls. It is hoped that the dues, which have been set at fifty cents a month, may accumulate to an amount sufficient to purchase shin guards for the horses and helmets for the players, Scarborough said.

Any member of the Field Artillery regiment is eligible to participate in the sport. Other club officers are, H. C. Smith, Ft. Worth, vice-president, and J. R. Taylor, Dallas, secretary-treasurer.

College To Enter Stock In Contests At Houston Feb. 24

Various lots of fine cattle and swine, bred and reared by the animal husbandry department of Texas A and M College, will be entered in contests at the Houston Fat Stock Show, which will open Saturday, Feb. 24, at Houston, and the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, scheduled to open March 10 at Fort Worth. In addition a number of fine American Saddle and Percheron horses will be exhibited by the college at the Fort Worth Show.

The college will enter ten steers in the Houston show, including specimens of Herefords, Short-horns and Aberdeen Angus. Swine entries will include Duroc Jersey, Poland China, Hampshire and Berkshire barrows. Approximately the same number of animals representing the same breed, will be shown at the Fort Worth Show, although the individual entries will be different.

Watching the Aggies

ALL-AMERICAN! No better words could express the new Texas Aggie coaching staff that will begin their duties at Aggieland next week as the Spring Training for 1934 begins. Heading the list comes Homer H. Norton, known not for being an All-American player but for the greater thing—a maker and developer of All-Americans. Assisting Norton will be two men who have played under him and who are thoroughly familiar with his style of football—and incidentally these two men are real proofs of Norton's capabilities of developing All-American football men, for both have risen under the direction of this mentor from practically obscurity to the heights and glories of the greatest desires of any football player—that of making the mythical teams selected annually over the entire United States.

CAL HUBBARD, the new line coach, did not go to Centenary as a heralded football player. In fact he was hardly known for any pig-skin honors when he first reported at the Gentleman school, yet Norton immediately saw the inherent abilities and began to develop them until in 1927 Hubbard was selected as a tackle for All-American honors. Seeing the unusual speed for a man of the size of Hubbard, Norton played him as tackle on the defensive and used him as an end on offensive play. After leaving Centenary, Hubbard went into professional football and is now recognized by sports writers as being one of the greatest tackles that has ever lived or played in America.

NEXT MANNING SMITH, a new assistant coach who was mentioned on nearly every All-American team selected this year. It is interesting to note that when Smith attempted to get a job at one of the large Southern schools he was turned down—then he entered Centenary and was this year recognized as one of the smartest and best field generals in the entire South. Under Coach Norton, this player who had been turned down from a "Big" school blossomed forth as an All-American player.

OF COURSE, it could be said that every coach will in all probability have an All-American player under him once in awhile but that does not explain the remarkable record of having TWELVE SUCH PLAYERS in a period of seven years. That is almost as great a number as the total of those that were developed in the entire Southwest Conference by ALL the schools during the same period. In the same year that Hubbard was an All-American tackle, there were two other men who gained national recognition—Hanna, a halfback and Jennings, an end. In 1929 came Fred Willis and the 1930 crop listed three more: Blanchard Johnson, guard; Ben Cameron, halfback and Alvin Brown, halfback. The name "wonder players" has been attached to Norton's 1932 men who are Ralph Murff, quarterback and Joe Oilphart, tackle. His well known 1933 All-Americans are Paul Geisler, end; Smith, mentioned at quarter; and Oslin, mentioned halfback.

THE TEXAS AGGIES are extremely lucky in securing such a combination of coaches. Already signs of interest are being shown with many high school graduates who are contemplating attending A and M next fall who have written for permission to visit the school during the spring training which opens March 2 and extends until the end of March to get acquainted with the coaches and to also see the Cadets go through their training. Coach Norton has invited all high school athletes regardless of their ability or the town from which they have played, to visit A and M during spring training to get acquainted with the members of the athletic department.

ALL JUNIORS AND SENIORS ADMITTED TO A I E E DANCE

Richard Shannon and His Orchestra Have Been Secured To Play for the Annual Dance.

Besides the Electrical Engineering students in the four classes, all Juniors and Seniors will be admitted to the dance held by the A and M branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Friday evening, March 23, according to C. K. Swanson, chairman of the dance committee.

Richard Shannon and his orchestra have been secured for the affair and promises unusual entertainment in the form of novelty numbers and a floor show.

According to G. H. Fairbanks, chairman of committee on decorations, plans for the motif to be carried out have not been completed, but will be announced in the near future.

Officers of the Rice Institute branch of the A I E E have been invited as honor guests.

DISTRIBUTION OF LONGHORN TO BE MADE ON MAY 15

Hundred and Sixty Pages Are Ready for Printers.

The 1934 Longhorn is rapidly assuming a finished form, as one hundred and sixty pages are wholly complete and are ready for the printers. The handicap of lack of funds among the students encountered during the first of the year which greatly hindered progress of the book has been overcome, and, barring unforeseen difficulties, distribution will begin on the scheduled date, May 15.

According to Bill Dryden, Robstown, editor, the Longhorn staff is highly pleased with the enthusiastic cooperation shown by campus clubs and organizations, and heartily congratulate the officers of the various organizations for their effort in creating such a splendid interest.

ENGINEERS HOLD ANNUAL BALL ON FRIDAY EVENING

Military Motif, Using Colors and Insignia, Will Characterize Decorations for the Dance in Mess Hall.

The Annual Engineers Ball, to be given by undergraduates in honor of juniors and seniors in the engineer regiment, will be held Friday night in the mess-hall annex from nine until two.

A military motif will characterize decorations for the dance, with the use of National and regimental colors, and guidons of the three companies. Panels, lining the wall, will carry organization insignia.

C. C. Porter, prominent architect of Dallas, is in charge of the decorations.

Officers in charge of affairs are: C. B. Lyle, Denison, chairman of the dance committee; C. C. Porter, Jr., Dallas, chairman of the decorations committee; T. J. Guerdum, San Antonio, decorations; N. C. Wiley, Houston, chairman of the finance committee; J. F. Hudson, Wharton, finances.

WALTONS ENTERTAIN

All seniors and fourth year men will be the guests of President and Mrs. Walton at a reception given in their honor at the home of the president next Monday night, February 26, from eight until ten o'clock.

It isn't cowardice— it's jangled nerves

No one likes a sudden, unexpected noise. But if you jump or even wince uncontrollably at such a time—check up on yourself.

It isn't cowardice. It isn't timidity. (You'll find many ex-service men doing the same thing.) It's jangled nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation. And make Camels your cigarette.

For you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves of the most constant smoker.

How are YOUR nerves? TRY THIS TEST

Take a pencil in your right hand, hold it about two inches above the point. At the space marked "start," begin to draw a continuous line backward and forward (touching the little markers on either side). Stay within the side margins—your lines must not cross. Be sure neither hand nor arm touches the paper. Average time is 7 seconds.

Bill Cook (Camel smoker), famous hockey star, completed the test in 4 seconds.
