

New Wrestling Champions Crowned Sunday

Victors of Two Remaining Classes Will Be Decided This Afternoon

New champions were crowned and old champions released the claims to their titles Sunday afternoon when the campus wrestling stars met in the intramural wrestling finals. The winners were determined in all but two of the eight weight divisions. The 125-pound and 155-pound classes will have their finals on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Many thrills and laughs were provided for the group of wrestling followers who braved the chills of a cold and windy afternoon and sat through the bouts. The quality of the wrestling which was witnessed is attested by the fact that those who attended did not leave until the end of the last bout.

In the first struggle of the afternoon, H. C. "Champ" Smith, attempted a comeback to regain the title which he held two years ago in the 135-pound class, was defeated by H. B. McGrady, "A" Field Artillery from Abilene, after thirteen minutes of furious wrestling which ended with a short time advantage in McGrady's favor.

Paul Callahan, defending heavyweight champ from Dallas, lost his title to R. F. Hartman of "H" infantry in a bout which required an extra time period to decide the winner. This was one of the closest matched encounters of the afternoon and was finally won by Hartman with a ten second advantage in time.

The match between John Worley and C. J. Charske, both of whom are in "D" Battery and live in Dallas, provided more action than any other one bout of the afternoon. These boys tore into each other at the start and were still going strong at the end of the regulation nine minutes wrestling, neither having pinned the other and with no advantage in time for either. In the four minutes extra time period required, Worley gained the advantage in the last two minutes and came out winner.

Frank Brendle, senior in "B" Engineers, from Dallas, showed real class in the 155-pound finals when he disposed of R. J. Hodge of "B"

Aggie Track Stars

IRWIN WINS NEW AWARDS AS SHOT AND DISCUS MAN

Sets New Record In Discus Throw, and Takes Second Place in Shot Put in Louisiana Relays.

B. M. "Honk" Irwin, Koss, has added two more medals to his collection. Friday he left for Lafayette, La. to represent A and M in the Southwestern Louisiana Institute carnival relays and took first place in the discus by sailing the plate a distance of 146 feet 11 inches to beat the record of 143 feet 5 inches set at the relays in 1933, and took second place in the shot put by a throw of over 50 feet.

In the shot, Irwin bowed only to the 260 pound giant, Jack Torrance who set an all-time world's record in this event by nearly a foot. Torrance pushed the 16 pound shot a distance of 53 feet 6 inches as compared to the old official record of 52 feet 7 7/8 inches set by Zygmunt Helgass of Poland. Leo Sexton of the New York Athletic Club held an unofficial record of 53 feet 1/2 inches in the shot.

Irwin now holds the official Southwest conference record in the shot put with a distance of 49 feet 7 3/4 inches and has an unofficial record of 50 feet 4 inches. In practice he has bettered the existing conference record of 154 feet 5 inches in the discus several times.

CORRECTION IN HONOR RATING

An error was made in an article published in the Battalion last week with reference to the students who were eligible for distinction at the end of the year. J. A. Johnston was cited as having accumulated 59 grade points and was ranked with D. W. Lay whereas he actually amassed 64 grade points and should have been ranked with K. Buchanan.

Watching the Aggies

BY CARROLL ROBERTS
Battalion Sports Editor

MANNING SMITH, who will assist in coaching the Texas Aggies next year, is more than a football player. Here is some interesting "dope" on this all-around athlete.

Besides being mentioned on several All-American teams and being placed on the "Liberty Magazine" all-South team, Smith was an "A" student at Centenary. In the eyes of Homer Norton, Smith is the smartest football player he has ever coached and one of the smartest young players in America. He was elected president of the student body, president of the Y M C A, was a member of the Dramatic Club and was voted as the best all-around athlete at Centenary this year.

HOW MUCH THE AGGIES swimming team was hurt this year by ineligibilities will be shown next Friday night as the entire squad will be allowed to participate in the swimming meet with the Houston Y M C A team. A slant on what kind of team the Cadets will have in store for next year will also be given as the star freshman swimmers will also be able to enter in this exhibition. Most outstanding of the ineligibles is Joseph Cockrel of Dallas who was counted on at the first of the season as being the mainstay of the team, until he was ruled ineligible. Color will be added to this meet as Arthur Adamson, former Olympic swimming entrant will take part in the events. Although it was in 1924 when Adamson entered the Olympic games, he is said to still have the color and speed that he had then.

POLO IS AGAIN making headway as a sport at A and M. For the last six years no teams of any kind have been organized to play the so called sport of kings but at the beginning of this year, the Cavalry squadron, under the tutelage of Major J. P. Wheeler and Lieutenant M. L. Marcus, star polo players from West Point, began organizing a team, buying equipment, and practicing during their off afternoons.

Not to be outdone, the Artillery Battalions then started a Polo Club organized a team and began practicing three times a week under the direction of Lieutenant J. V. Carroll.

It takes intensive training over long periods of time to develop a polo team that is capable of playing anything near a representative game and for this reason, there will not likely be any regular games held this year with any outside teams but the two teams expect to have their horses and men in shape to play a regular game between themselves after the Spring Holidays.

Field Artillery Has Trainer Battery For Firing Problem Drill

The "Field Artillery Trainer" a miniature battery, has been in use for a week by the drill classes in firing problems. The trainer is a hundred-to-one reduced scale model of the French 75 mm light gun, firing a twenty-two calibre cartridge and using for a projectile a ball bearing one inch in diameter. The reduced arrangement has attached to it all the instruments used in plotting data for the regular 75. With these instruments firing problems on small scale are studied. This smaller scale enables the student to see more clearly his probable errors and trains him in the use of instruments which are all important in action.

The actual firing of the little gun adds to its attractions. "Hit" and "miss" can be observed easily, and the amount and direction of error determined quickly. Colonel Emery, highly pleased over the little gun's success, expressed belief that it would go far in making cadet officers adept with their instruments and more accurate in their problem plotting. The idea is an ingenious one, and the little gun's accuracy is unfailing.

New York—(IP)—Orange as a color produces more pleasure in those who see it than any other color in the spectrum, in the opinion of Prof. Joseph Cummings Chase, head of the art department of Hunter College here.

His studies, he says, also show him that in general men respond to color more readily than women.

McMillan, Ex-Aggie, Head Coach At I U

"Bo" McMillan, ex-Aggie and former erstwhile football player on our team, seems to be getting along in the world. Indiana University is giving him the glad hand and hailing him as savior, although he has been at the Indiana campus but two weeks or so since being contracted for position as head coach at the university. "Bo's" systems are colorful and exciting, as has been proved by his Kansas State teams, and Indiana fans are looking forward to his work on their own eleven. "Bo" stated that his system would be the "Touchdown System," which tickled Indiana's fans to no small degree, since they claim they need a few touchdowns to settle some old scores. They feel fairly confident with the ex-Aggie in the saddle, since he put out a team last year that was beaten only by Nebraska. Good luck to "Bo" and his blossoming coaching career.

New York, N. Y.—Lou Little, head football coach at Columbia University, has completed plans for the various coaching schools which he will either conduct or assist in during the coming summer months. He and two of his assistants, Herb Kopf, back field coach, and Sam Cordovano, line coach, will conduct a school here August 27-September 1.

The United States had 222 telephone calls per person in 1922. Two hundred of these were wrong numbers.

AGGIE TRACKMEN IN PREPARATION FOR LONGHORNS

With only slightly over a week before the first regular meet of the 1934 track season, Coach Frank Anderson is sending his cinder-classes through intensive training in preparation for the meet that will bring the Aggies against the best that the Southwest conference has to offer. In determining the men who will go to Austin in this first meet to compete with the highly touted Longhorns, Coach Anderson will put his thinly-clad into a triangle meet Saturday afternoon with the Aggie freshman team and the Bellville high school team.

Injuries and sickness have cut deeply into the Aggies' hopes for showing well in the first half of the season.

Especially in the dashes will the Aggies be weak for the first few meets but Coach Anderson expressed the hope that by the latter part of the season and for the conference meet that he would have his sprinters back in shape.

"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"

If you're forced to go chorine in the interests of art, let a pipeful of BRIGGS restore masculine poise. BRIGGS Pipe Mixture has a rare and Rabelaisian gusto that's tempered by long aging 'til it's genial, mellow, biteless. When a feller needs a friend there's no blend like BRIGGS.
