

AGGIES SHOW CLASS IN INITIAL GAME

BILL COUSER LEADS MAROON-MEN TO VICTORY WITH FLASHY RUNS

"Muggins" Fowler Presses Couser for Prominence, Turning in a Very Credible Afternoon.

The Texas Aggies showed much class in the opening game of the season as Bill Couser and Odel "Muggins" Fowler furnished the fireworks for the charges of Coaches Norton and Hubbard when the Fighting Farmers scored a 28 to 0 victory over the Sam Houston Bearkats on Kyle Field Saturday afternoon.

The Cadet offense began to click in the first quarter, but a pair of fumbles near the Bearkats' goal line prevented the Aggies from scoring. On the opening play of the second quarter, however, Sid Martin, speedy little back from Gilmer, dashed twelve yards for the first Aggie touchdown of the season. Thompson kicked the extra point. The second quarter of the game came in this quarter after the Farmers had made a 47 yard march on line plunges and a heavy aerial attack. Randow scored the touchdown on a one yard plunge.

Little Couser hurled a 35 yard pass to Wilbur Randow in the third quarter for the third touchdown of the game. Couser kicked the extra point making the score 21 to 0. The Cadets were rushing madly toward the Bearkats goal line featuring Couser's passing and broken field running as the quarter ended.

Reese Newsome, sophomore back from the Masonic Home in Fort Worth, scored the final touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter when he plunged the line for two yards.

The line, coached by Cal Hubbard, held good in the game against the Sam Houston Teachers. Six yards were all the husky Kats could gain over the Aggie line the entire afternoon.

The only Bearkat threat came in the second quarter when a barrage of passes placed them on the Aggie five yard line. The Cadet line held like a brick wall, and secondaries knocked down two passes that sailed over the goal line.

Bob Madeley and Marvin Rushing, half backs, were the outstanding players for the Teachers. Madeley was the only man who consistently stopped the Aggie backs.

Intramural Sports Now Being Planned

Plans for the intramural sports program for the coming year are now in the period of formation, Mr. Penberthy, director of intramural sports announced.

Mr. Penberthy announced his senior managers as William E. Fitzgerald, Battery E. Field Artillery, and Bill Percy, Company C Engineers; and Bill Hahan, Battery C Field Artillery, R. E. Spiker, Troop D Cavalry, and George Nickerson, Troop A Cavalry, as Junior managers.

Competition will start in basketball Monday, October 1, with speedball and tennis starting October 8. All freshmen and upperclassmen who have not participated in Southwest Conference athletics or

Aggie Eleven Meets A and I Javelinas

After brushing up on the rough spots revealed in the game with the Sam Houston Bearkats, Coaches Homer Norton and Cal Hubbard will send a neatly groomed eleven against the A and I Javelinas from Kingsville when they clash in the second game of the season on Kyle Field Saturday afternoon, September 29.

The lads from the South Texas city will bring a much better and more experienced team than the Cadets encountered here Saturday afternoon. The Aggies played the Arts and Industry eleven in San Antonio last September under the lights and downed the scrapping Javelinas 17 to 10 after a hard fought battle.

After struggling in a downpour of rain at Kingsville last Saturday, the Javelinas posed out the North Texas Aggies from Arlington 7 to 6. The strength of the South Texans was not shown in this game because they are primarily a passing team and could not show their greater strength with the slippery ball.

Coaches Norton and Hubbard will drill their men principally on the defense. Defensive play is the type play that Coach Norton has made his past record on and even though the process may be a slow, the head Mentor will place a team on the field in each game to display plenty of good blocking, hard tackling, and other defensive tactics.

Polo Club Prepares This Year's Program

At their first meeting Monday night, the polo club was officially organized. The meeting was called by J. B. Johnson, Dallas, president, for the purpose of obtaining new members and generally discussing problems that have arisen since last spring.

The team is composed of thirty members, coached by Lieutenant J. J. Binns of the Artillery; the membership is to be limited only to members of the Artillery, and a small charge of twenty-five cents a month is required to take care of incidental expenses.

The team has rather a hard schedule in view, although final arrangements and details have to be worked out later. Johnson stated that he hoped to have two games here; one with Oklahoma University and the other with Texas University. If the plans work out there will also be return engagements with both schools. Then, each Sunday the weather permits there will be practice games with the Cavalry.

REVIEWING THE AGGIE SPORTS PARADE

with ALTON S. QUEEN, Battalion Sports Editor

HUBBARD WELL PLEASED
"We think we'll win every game" remarked the likable Cal Hubbard, varsity line coach, as he lay sprawled on the floor of his living room. "If we didn't think so, we wouldn't be playing", he continued. "No one can convince us that we are beaten until that final gun is fired". Cal should have been an Aggie long before he joined the ranks of the Aggies as a coach. He has that old Aggie Spirit you hear so much about.

Hubbard expressed himself as being well pleased with the showing of his linemen against the Sam Houston Bearkats. Although they need much polish added to their play, their first actual trial of the new system was pleasing.

Two Sam Houston punts were blocked and a number of others were missed only by a split second. One punt by Sam Houston showed a loss of four yards and another a loss of one yard. The first one was partly blocked and the other one was kicked out of bounds because the punter was being rushed on his left.

COUSER SHOWS CLASS

Bill Couser, pride of Breckenridge, was an outstanding star in the 28 to 0 victory over the Bearkats Saturday. The Teachers seemed to have trouble holding the darting Aggie as he would spin right out of a tacklers arms and continue to gain. "Little Bill" made a 22 yard run through the center of the line late in the third quarter and continued to run and pass down the field on a 43 yard drive. Couser's 35 yard pass to Randow was the outstanding play of the afternoon. He gained one hundred yards through the Bearkats line of scrimmage and kicked two extra points.

NORTON ALL SMILES

"I am delighted over the showing of my boys in their first actual contest of the year", said Coach Norton as he recalled the Aggie-Bearkats tussle Saturday afternoon. "The support of the Aggie cheering section means a lot both to me and to the team".

Coach Norton is a developer of both football players and of men. In his seven years at Centenary he developed twelve All-American football players or with a high reputation as some might think. Manning Smith, who is now an assistant coach under the Aggie mentor, was turned down in many large colleges before he entered Centenary. Last year he was placed on almost every All-American selection in the country and was rated the best field general in the South.

Aggie supporters should keep Norton's past record in mind and watch his development of the team through the season . . . not expecting him to put out a championship, for a team cannot be developed in one season. Norton admits that he has a world of outstanding prospects, but these men cannot be developed over night.

Norton's system is based largely on defensive play. The Aggies at the present time do not have any first class blockers, and if the Coaches can develop a good defense along with the offense they are now developing, the Aggies will go places in the football world. The game at Temple University with Pop Warner's crew will be an early test for the Aggie Gridsters. The Cadets will again be handicapped in this game by several days of travel without sufficient workout.

POP WARNER HAS STRONG CREW

When the Aggies clash with Pop Warner's Temple University Gridsters in Philadelphia on October 5, they will be playing one of the strongest teams of any Southwest Conference school. Temple had not made such an impressive showing in recent years until Pop Warner became Head Coach. Last year the team made a fair showing. He had a group of freshmen last year from all parts of the United States and those men are eligible for the varsity this year. In an intra-squad game this September, the sophomore team beat the last year squad by three touchdowns. Temple University has an enrollment of more than twelve thousand students and Pop Warner should have a football team from such a school.

If the Aggies can hold that heavy Temple team with the Warner system of football (which is noted for its power), they have something to be proud of.

FORMER SPORTS EDITOR OF BATTALION WITNESSES AGGIES

Mr. Caldwell, Sports Editor of the Battalion in 1924, was in the Press Box Saturday afternoon to see the Aggies' pounce on the Bearkats in grand style. The former Sports Editor highly praised Coaches Norton and Hubbard for the splendid showing of their club. Mr. Caldwell wrote sports when such stars as Joel Hunt, Mule Wilson, and Dieterich were playing at Aggieland.

In looking over the campus the following basketball men who are present for the varsity can be seen daily: Captain Breazeale, Wilkins, Tohline, Carmichael, Stansel, Davis, Bisby, and Hutte—lettermen; Lee, Jones, Evans, Black, Johnson, Creighton, Helbing, Dowling (in hospital) all numeral men; and Spivey and Button from the freshman squad.

MOOTY AND SODD RECEIVE GREAT OVATION

The high hand of fellowship was extended freely to all old acquaintances the first of the week as Aggies from over the state began to pour into Aggieland, but over in the Mess Hall Monday at lunch the congratulations seemed to be centered on two members of the 1934 baseball championship club. They were Jake Mooty, ace hurler and captain-elect, and Bill Sodd. They were members of the Laundry team that won the State Amateur Baseball title. Mooty has had a great year. He pitched the Aggies to six Southwest Conference victories last spring and won fifteen games for the Laundry team in Fort Worth. His season record shows a total of twenty one wins against two setbacks, besides the two games he won in the state finals. Slim Kinzy, former TOU pitcher and now a member of the Chicago White Sox, beat him for the first defeat, and the other one was lost after pitching a two hit ball game. Mooty pitched five shutouts during the year, two of which was in the State finals. The powerful TSC Motor Lines team of Houston that went to Fort Worth in the state finals could not score off the offering of Mooty the two days they faced him.

Sodd did not recover from the injury he received on the Kyle Field diamond in the game with Baylor until the first of August. Since that time he has been a member of the Fort Worth Laundry team and played in the finals. Sodd batted in clean-up position for the Laundrymen the short time he was with them.

Dutch Voelkel, All-Conference second baseman for the Aggies last season, also had a good season of baseball. He played the keystone bag for the Brenham Sun Oilers, winners of the Colorado Valley League. Dutch was the Oilers' lead off man and dealt the Colorado Valley catchers plenty of misery when he was on the paths. Voelkel teamed with Ike Lowenstein, star outfielder at Aggieland last season, who was knocking out three base hits in the Colorado Valley League parks as frequently as Eddie Moore was in the Texas League parks.

There seems to be something at A and M besides a baseball park to play on. Besides Mooty, Sodd, Voelkel, and Lowenstein, members of the 1934 Southwest Conference championship baseball club, who have all made good records this summer, Coach Higginbotham has sent out such men as Beau Bell, Galveston outfielder, and Ash Hillin, leading Texas League hurler, who toiled with San Antonio this season. Little Hig deserves plenty of credit.

REMINISCENCES OF AGGIE ATHLETES

Each week in this column a paragraph will be devoted to famous Aggie athletes of the past who have helped make Aggie athletic history great.

This week I will use as an opening selection, a man who needs little or no introduction to those who are familiar with Aggie athletes. The man is CHARLEY DE WARE, SR., who now resides at Brenham. The great Aggie immortal played end for the 1908 and 1909 football teams.

Charley came from the Piney Woods to Allen Academy and while there he displayed a lot of football ability. He made All-Southwest Conference end in 1908. The 1908 Longhorn carries the following article about the great end. "He is quite a student . . . of magazines . . . and carries one of the largest schedules available . . . one hour daily." In 1909, a junior student, he was captain of the football and baseball teams. He was a first baseman while on the dis-

Now that the world can have the sacless pen it has always wanted, rubber sac pens and squirt-gun piston-pump types are being laid aside as rapidly as silent pictures went out when talking pictures came in.

For not only does Parker's revolutionary Vacuumatic hold 102% more ink, but it also shows when your ink supply is running low. Hence it doesn't go dry in the midst of tests and exams.

A famed designer created this shimmering laminated Pearl Beauty—an utterly smart and alluring style. The only transparent pen that doesn't LOOK transparent.

Its amazing two-way Point of pen-closable Platinum, Gold and Iridium is slightly turned up so it cannot possibly scratch or drag.

All stores are daily demonstrating this new wonder of science. Go and try it. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis.
