"Sophisticated young thing, isn't she?"

He: "Hello Baby."

She: "I'll have you know I'm no-body's baby."

He: "Well, wouldn't you feel like hell at a family reunion?"

Prof: "I shall not keep the class any longer this afternoon. You may all leave now."

Fish: "But I don't want to leave for home. There's a new baby just come to our house."

Prof: "A little baby—you should be happy."

Fish: "I'm not happy—Pa'll blame me—he blames me for everything."

The biology Prof. was speaking: "I have here some very fine specimens of dissected frogs, which I will show you."

Unwrapping the parcel, some sandwiches, fruit and hard-boiled eggs came to view.

"But, surely—I ate my lunch!" he exclaimed.

Lecturer (speaking on the value of education)—"Yes, what can take the place of a university education? Nothing. Look at the man who only finishes grammar school. Where is he now? He is a motorman on a street car. But where is the man who has gone through university and has gotten his diploma?"

Voice in Audience—"He's the conductor!"

"So you're no longer a struggling stenographer?"

"No, as soon as I stopped struggling I didn't have to be a stenographer."

Her: "Oh yes I've been married for the best part of the year."

She: "But I thought you were married only about ten days ago."

Her: "Yes."
