

Brown Glen Urquhart p'aid suiting with blue overplaid, rounded collar-attached shirt of cream broadcloth, brown and blue striped rep tie, brown snap brim hat.

Black worsted with blue stripes; tab collar shirt of blue broadcloth, black foulard tie with blue polka dots, chamois gloves (not British touch of buttoning bottom button only).

Fine checked Saxony suiting with a darker overplaid, brown and white madras shirt with tab collar, tie of wine red with narrow gold stripes.

For the Christmas vacation . . . to give you a distinguished appearance . . . without sickening movie-idol sleekness . . . we recommend the style of duds worn by the gentleman above: Double breasted suit of black and brown cheviot, worn with an even-striped soft madras shirt and matching stiff collar, a solid color silk tie and a green felt Homburg, buff pigskin gauntlets and a natural tan covert cloth topcoat.

Blue-grey hard worsted with D. B. waistcoat, shirt with colored body and white starched bosom, collar and cuffs, blue Spitfields tie with spaced red and white figures.
