Voters Approve Plan Of Incorporating College

Get Those Pictures!

Seniors should get in pictures of their Vanity Fair candidates and also pictures for the Senior Favorites section of the Loughorn as soon as possible, according to Paul Anderson, Vanity Fair editor of the Loughorn.

Vanity Fair pictures must be 8 x 10—one full length and one head view, and the senior favorite photos should be 5 x 7. All pictures should be a glossy print in order for the best reproduction on an engraving. In having the pictures made, the girls should be reminded that a natural pose should be assumed and not an artificial one.

All pictures should be sent to Paul Anderson, 74 Law.

STUDENT LABOR ON DORMS STILL IS QUESTIONABLE

No further word on whether or not jobs for students will be available on the construction of new dormitories was forthcoming today from O. R. Simpson, Chairman of the Student Labor Committee.

Mr. Simpson said nothing definite could be known until the contract for construction was finally let. At that time, he said, he and Col. Ashburn, executive assistant to the president, will attempt to get the contractor to use some student labor. He warned, however, that there is a possibility that no student jobs will be available on the work.

Every available job on both the State and National Youth Administration payrolls is now taken, he said. Almost 1,000 students have jobs this year on one of the two payrolls, with 452 Aggies on the NYA rolls.

An innovation for the Student Labor office will be the organization of a new card file to be used in assigning temporary jobs. Mr. Simpson said members of the college staff, the Experiment Station, the Extension Service and Bryan residents will be asked to give odd-time jobs to A. & M. students.

Mitchell Gives Official Returns Of Wednesday Vote

Incorporation Committee Sees Many Benefits, Few Disadvantages in New Move

Prof. Alva Mitchell, presiding judge of the college incorporation election, returned the count Wednesday night as being 217 to 39 in favor of incorporation of College Station and its adjacent districts.

A committee on incorporation composed of J. H. Binney, Chairman, J. Wheeler Barger, attorney, L. P. Gabbard, J. T. L. McNew, E. W. Steele, S. A. Lipscomb, D. B. Marburger, and W. M. Sparks, decided that the limits of incorporation shall include the campus proper, the North Gate and its adjacent residences, a portion of College Hills Estate extending 1000 feet east of Hi-Way 6, Oakwood Addition, and College Park. The railroad track is the western boundary except for the inclusion of the College Creamery and Zoo lake.

An election for city officers will be held after an order of the county judge. The city government will be composed of a mayor and five aldermen to be elected at-large, one marshal, and a secretary. A treasurer, attorney, engineer, and assessor-collector will be added at a later date unless it is decided that their duties shall be fulfilled by the mayor and his council.

President Walton and the Board of Directors of the College have expressed approval of the plan and believe that it will prove to be of many benefits and no disadvantages.

The incorporation committee is of the opinion that the action will result in a lowering of insurance rates and in better traffic regulation. It is also believed that the new movement will not obstruct any desired change in the school system, and may help to hold valuable revenue areas in event the district decides to remain independent. An estimated cost of government has been outlaid at $3500; accordingly, this will prove a substantial saving to the individual taxpayer.

NEW EQUIPMENT INSTALLED FOR CHEM ENGINEERS

The chemistry department has procured some new equipment which is being installed now by students. The equipment will be used to furnish additional instructions in the principles of chemical engineering.

Included in the equipment is a still with a twenty plate bubble cap column. This still can be used in a number of ways. It can be used as a batch still with or without live steam, a continuous feed still, or a still with the feed coming in through either of the twenty plates in the bubble cap column. The still, which cost approximately $4500, is exactly the same type as the modern petroleum and cottonseed oil stills. It will be used to provide additional instruction in the principles of unit operations. The course will be taught by Dr. Lindsay.

Also included in the equipment is a new filler press and a series of wooden vats to be used in connection with it or for other purposes as the need may arise. Filter presses are extensively used in the industrial world, especially in the cotton seed oil industry.

A three-tray vacuum drier has been purchased to allow the study of heat sensitivity substances, that is, substances such as gelatin and dyes that decompose at high temperatures. The drier is steam heated and operates at such a pressure as will dry the substances at low temperatures.

SOPH HEAD

DATELESS FISH NOT ALLOWED TO MAKE CORPS HOPS

A movement to restrict all unclassified seniors from wearing boots and senior hats was begun last night at a meeting of the senior class in the Assembly Hall. Other motions brought up by members before the class were to restrict freshmen from making corps dances unless with dates, and to try to get corps sections at home football games moved up to the 50 yard line.

According to the discussion concerning those seniors who are wearing boots, it was pointed out that the number of unclassified seniors who were wearing boots had been noticeable. Section III, Article 3, of college regulations says "For Cadet officers and classified seniors only: Riding breeches of bombay cloth, bedford cord, twill or similar material, slightly lighter in color than the service coat, and dress boots, field boots, or lace boots (for riding) with spurs and straps." Members of the class referred to this paragraph in college regulations. By a vote of every senior present at the meeting it was decided to enforce this measure.

There has been a large number of freshmen at recent corps dances without date. The class decided to restrict all freshmen without dates from making the corps dances. The class decided to send a committee to the athletic council to see whether or not the corps can be seated from the 50-yard line.

PROF EXPLAINS EUGENICS CONTEST

Details for a contest sponsored by the American Eugenics Society have been received by Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, who is a member of the American Eugenics Society. The Society is offering a first prize of $100.00 and other prizes of $50.00, $30.00, and $20.00 respectively, and five prizes of $10.00 each for essays on eugenics. Term papers or other required work in any course having a eugenic slant may be offered in competition. Students may compete regardless of what courses they are taking. The conditions of the contest are as follows:

The essays must be the original work of undergraduate students in colleges.

They must be from 4000 to 5000 words in length, and must be typed or written by hand so clearly that they can be read very easily.

They must be mailed to the American Eugenics Society, 50 West 50th Street, New York, N. Y., on or before April 20, 1939.

They must discuss the personal reactions of the student to the problem of eugenics as presented in class in current publication, or in books.

They must express the student's own view point.

Rodeo Queen To Reign Over Aggie Cowpunchers

Helen Schneemann Of San Angelo Picked For Rodeo Royal Honors

Miss Helen Schneemann of San Angelo has been selected to be the reigning queen of the Saddle and Sirlin rodeo according to announcements made by Herbert Mills, president of the club and King of the rodeo. Also in the royal party will be Miss Lynnell Ellis, duchess of Menard, escorted by Emil Prugel and Miss Clellia Reese, duchess of Waco, who will be escorted by Sammy Harris. The queen and court will reign over one of the wildest, toughest, fastest rodeos ever presented at A. & M. College, according to all reports of business and ring managers of the event.

Rodeo goers will have the opportunity to witness some of the hardest-bucking, meanest horses ever used in the Saddle and Sirlin Rodeo according to Frank Corder, business manager of the rodeo. The horses to be used are the pick of the Huntsville Rodeo string which have a reputation for being tougher than the men that ride them, as is clearly shown by the records of the rodeo where it can be found that there have been injuries at every performance of the prison rodeo.

The rodeo in addition promises a full program with something doing every minute and with lots of snap and action to be seen by all. In an effort to speed up the performances three heavy-duty chutes have been built and by the use of these the action will be continuous, with two comical clowns, Juke Allen and Duke Harrison, who will provide plenty of laughs along with the spills.

JUNIORS PLAN FOR TRIP TO DENTON

Monday the Junior Class met to discuss plans for the trip to Denton on Friday, the day before the Dallas Corps trip, at the invitation of the C. I. A. Juniors.

The juniors who go to Denton will be individually introduced over a loud-speaker to the junior class of T. S. C. W. (C.I.A.). Then there will be a banquet, followed by a ball, in honor of Aggie juniors.

Varner urged all the juniors who could to make the trip. He said that to get a special train from here to Dallas there would have to be at least 200 juniors going to Denton; and there will have to be 267 going from Dallas to Denton in order for them to get a special on the last phase of the trip up.

It was decided that all who had junior blouses would wear the No. 1 uniform with blouse at the events to be held in Denton. Those who do not have the blouse must register their names with Varner before the trip, and wear serge shirts in Denton. Their names will be checked off at the door as they enter the dance, if they do wear the serge shirt.

The class decided to petition for moving the Aggie section at football games at Kyle Field back to the 50-yard line. A number of Aggies have been forced to sit at the goal end of the stadium, and many complaints about this have been heard. Woody Varner appointed a committee of three to confer with the Athletic Council and other authorities to see if the Aggie section cannot be enlarged and have its limit at the 50-yard line as it was formerly.

Market and Finance Club Meets Tuesday

Dr. J. S. I. Lund, recent addition to the faculty of the Department of Agricultural Economics, was guest speaker at the first regular Market and Finance Club meeting held in the Asbury Room Tuesday night.

Free Barbecue

In a letter to The Battalion, the Brazos Valley Fair, the Waco Chamber of Commerce, and the Waco Junior Chamber of Commerce announced that they will act as hosts to the A. & M. Cadet Corps while it is in Waco for the A. & M. Baylor football game this weekend.

There will be a free barbecue for all A. & M. cadets in uniform at the Brazos Valley Fair Grounds immediately following the parade. The Fair Grounds are within walking distance of the down-town district, where the parade will be held.

Arrangements have been made for admitting A. & M. students in uniform to the official A. & M.-Baylor dance to be held in the Cotton Palace Coliseum, located at the fair grounds at less than the regular admission price. Other amusements will cater to Aggie trade by offering a special price to Aggies in uniform.

WILCOX MEETS WITH LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TODAY

George B. Wilcox, of the Department of Education, met in Austin last weekend with a legislative committee on education. He will return to Austin today to meet again with the committee.

The bills that Mr. Wilcox and the committee worked on were the completion of the Retirement System in 1939, a protective tenure bill, a bill providing for a modern system of teacher certification, a bill providing for a public school land board, an efficient and fair equalization bill that will make possible for every school child in Texas a nine months term, a tax commission for public schools, and the appointment of a state Commission of Education.

Mr. Wilcox, who is the first vice-president of the Texas State Teachers Association, has been recently mentioned for president of the association. There are 30,000 members in the association. A delegation of 300 members will elect officers of the association at Austin on Friday following Thanksgiving.

A. & M. Holds Important Place In Training Infantry Officers

BY L. E. THOMPSON

The infantry is the backbone of the army. All military training has combat as its aim. And in combat, the infantry, armed with rifle and bayonet, are the troops around whom all else is centered. The tactics of attack defense, maneuvers and security are essentially infantry tactics. The other arms have as their sole reason for existence the support of the infantry, their one mission those operations which will effectively aid the foot soldier. And for the infantry to function as it should it must be properly armed, trained, and officered.

Territory must be conquered and held by the infantry. Once the infantry is in position, it is well nigh impossible to dislodge them except with other infantry. In every war in which America has engaged, this foot soldier has decided the war.

And the worst blot on our military record, the Battle of Bladensburg, in which 4000 British soldiers defeated 7000 untrained poorly officered Americans, was caused primarily, by the lack of proper leadership for the men.

The World War gave decisive proof of the value of the dough-boys. The Allies though supported by America, fresh and well supplied

Cadets In Good Shape For Bear Tilt

Conservative Play Of Bears Contrasts Ags' Bag of Tricks

The Texas Aggies left for Waco by train this morning and will work out on the Bear's field in Waco this afternoon for the last time before they meet Coach Morley Jennings charges Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Cotton Palace. The game will be the second conference fray for both teams. Baylor has won over Arkansas while the Aggies have lost to T. C. U.

Wednesday night the Aggie coaches and two newspaper men sat in on the picture show of the game between these two clubs last year. The Bears won over the Cadet 13-0. The pictures show that it was not the great playing of the Bears but the poor playing of the Aggies that won the game.

Baylor uses no tricks to speak of, but rather plain football. On their passes they send only two men out to receive and that leaves about five Aggies to cover two men.

Baylor uses three linebackers on defense and all three play close in to the middle of the line. The Aggies plan to skirt their ends if they use that defense this year.

Aggie coaches do not fear Patterson as a runner. They agree that he is very ordinary in this department. When he gets the ball it is either a pass or a punt. Dick Todd voiced the team's opinion at supper last night when he yelled: "I don't want any frog legs, give me BEARMEAT."

Both teams are in great shape. The only man on the Cadet squad who is injured is "Big dog" Dawson, tackle, and he will be ready if needed.

Coach "Hub" McQuillan, who always draws the job of scouting the Bears, returned with his regular story after last Saturday's game. He said, "The best Baylor team that I ever saw." Then he proceeded to tell the boys how to stop it. It is the same story that he tells every year.

"Slick" Rogers, one of the outstanding backs of the conference, said, "We've got all our losing behind us and now watch us go."

Baylor will be playing before a homecoming day crowd and it is to be remembered that it was before (Continued on Page 4)
