LEADER

The First Baptist Church of College Station has secured Walter Johnson to help in the denominational program here. Mr. Johnson will have charge of the music, direct the choir, and assist in the student program.

Mr. Johnson has had several years of experience in church work. He was with the Magnolia Avenue Baptist Church, Beaumont, Texas, for three years and with the Valence Street Baptist Church, New Orleans, La., for two years. He is a product of the Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans.

NEW EQUIPMENT NOW BEING USED IN MESS HALL

A large order of new equipment was received by the mess hall last week, consisting of twelve "bus-carts" for carrying dishes between the kitchen and the table during the after-meal cleaning.

The carts cost $149 apiece, but are economical in that each cart is made of stainless steel with an indestructible seamless construction and will outlast three of the older type of carts. This first order replaced the old carts in the main dining room; replacement of the other carts will follow as soon as finances permit.

Favorable comments on the improvement in appearance of the mess hall brought about by the addition of Venetian blinds to the windows and staining and waxing the floors have been received by the management since school began.

Mr. Dhalkemper, the new chef, reports that a more rapid handling of "seconds" has been achieved by an arrangement of the distributors into a single line where the waiter picks up all hot foods.

Senior Collegiate Chapter of Future Farmers Reorganized

The Senior Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers was reorganized with J. F. Bennett as president, A. A. Mayberry as vice-president, B. Mathews as secretary, O. L. Fitzhugh as treasurer, G. Baker as reporter, C. Brookshier, as farm watch dog, J. Carroll as parliamentarian, W. E. Cowley as historian, B. Hurley as adviser, and A. J. Banister as song leader.

The Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers is organized to give majors in Agricultural Education training in Future Farmer activities which will be part of their job when they begin work after graduation. The Future Farmers have a long list of objectives which they plan to carry out. Some of the activities upon which the spotlight will shine are; their booth at the Bryan Fair, their Future Farmer dance, their Student-Prof Banquet, and the way they manage the annual Smith-Hughes Contest here in the spring.

FAMOUS HORSE TO BE HERE

This action photo is of "Gray Back," the nationally known trained horse owned by Emit Digby of Temple. The horse, together with its owner will be shown to the spectators at the Saddle and Sirloin Club's rodeo next Friday afternoon and night.

Consolidated School Students To Hold Carnival Thursday

On Thursday night, the students of the Consolidated School will hold their annual carnival. This carnival, which is sponsored by the local PTA, is to raise money for school projects and necessities and is being put on by the entire school, all grades sharing the work.

Supper will be served at 5:00 p. m. The supper, which will be prepared by the older girls, and the ladies of the PTA, will give the Aggies a chance to taste some real home cooking.

The main event is to be the coronation of the king and queen of the carnival, who will be selected from the high school students by contests now in progress. The winners will not be known until time for the coronation. The prince and princess are to be chosen in the same manner from either the sixth or seventh grade, depending on which grade wins the contest.

Among the many attractions will be a counting store, booths for the sale of ice cream and cold drinks,

Ag Engineer Seniors Make Inspection Trip

Twenty-five seniors taking agricultural engineering returned Sunday from an inspection trip to Dallas and Garland.

The first stop for the inspection party was the Western Grocery Association food storage plant which is the largest modern food storage plant in the southwest and serves over a hundred stores in several different towns. The members of the inspection trip were entertained by a banquet in the plant.

At Garland they were shown a soil conservation project covering 15,000 acres where strip cropping, contouring, terracing and reversion to pasture of badly eroded land is practiced on a cooperative basis by the farmers.

and home made candy. The paddle-wheel method of selling the home backed cakes, which was popular last year, is to be used again this year. There will also be plenty of chili, hot dogs, and various other kinds of food.

"Sing You Sinners" Palace Film; "Tropic Holiday" at the Assembly Hall

Mussolini strikes again, but this time in a far more different place than Ethiopia. Due to the fact that the Ritz brothers are of Jewish nationality, he has banned all pictures wherein they are cast. His reason, the one he uses, is that they are "unfunny" and not the sort of thing Italians will enjoy. The twist is that Al Ritz is married to an Italian!

Palace—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—"Sing You Sinners."

There seems to be an overflow of family pictures since the success of the Hardy Family. "Sing You Sinners" is a picture worth seeing because of the singing of Bing Crosby and the acting of Fred McMurray, two of the top flight stars. The picture is funny, sad, and what have you. There seems to have been every director in the studio helping with this picture. In all respects, to see this picture is to have an enjoyable portion of your time well spent. The songs Bing sings are new and you will enjoy them, for it isn't often Bing gives out and theatergoers object. It is said that the fight staged during the filming of the picture was the most realistic fight ever put on. Of course Bing had a double, but who cares, it was a good fight.

Assembly Hall, Tuesday and Wednesday—"Tropic Holiday." This is possibly the last time Bob Burns will be seen in a musical picture. As we stated once before in this column and which has since been verified, Bob Burns will attempt to move into the place left vacant by the untimely death of the beloved Will Rogers.

The picture is funny and should be seen by all. Martha Raye is at her best and gives out to the last note. It is interesting to know that she also gave up to the love bug, for last week she was married.

Instead of a show Friday night, Students on the Senior Poultry Judging Team judged several classes in the show and were graded by the team coach, E. D. Parnell.

"Check Everything but the Chesterfields"

You'll find smokers everywhere keeping Chesterfields with them all day long. They add to your pleasure when you're on the job and when you take a night off.

It takes good things to make a good product. That's why we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have—mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper—to make Chesterfield the cigarette that smokers say is milder and better-tasting.
