

F Coast Wins Intramural Rifle Shooting Contest

Handball Makes Debut as Five Games Are Played

BY "CHICK" DENNY
Rifle shooting scores have just been compiled and F Coast is the leader with a score of 474 out of a possible 500. The team composed of Cullum with a 96, Tunlinson 94, Bailey 96, Lewis 93, Parks 93, had an average of six points better than the team that was runner up, A. Eng., with a 468.

C. F. A. was third with a 465. These scores were fired from four different positions, prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. The 474, scored by F Coast, was considerably higher than any score posted in past years. This victory in rifle shooting also denotes the first sport of the year to be completed in the department and should give F Coast a fine start, towards doing something in an intramural way. They are a day student organization and deserve plenty of congratulations.

HANDBALL STARTS
Handball made its debut on this year's program Wednesday, with five games being completed. A. Sig. nosed out C. F. A. by a 2 to 1 count. Hartman and Jackson had the superior combination of the teams and won handily over Whall and Schaffli. Trapline and Trail teamed to whip Lyons and Ralford in a close match. With the count at one-all, McKenzie and Hutchins nosed out Rogers and McElwath for the deciding game.

B. Inf. and A. C. W. S. played an uninteresting match with B. Inf. finishing in front by a 2 to 1 decision. Warner and Woodman took Collins and Stued in straight games while Smith and Winn were taking Porter and Warrick, Amundsen and Carson for C. W. S. turned back Martin and Elwell by taking 2

CONTRIBUTIONS REACH QUOTA FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Dan Russell, head of the Rural Sociology Department and chairman of the College Community Chest said today that the quota will be reached and possibly more than the quota will be donated.

The College Community Chest is an organization which stages a single drive every year for twelve different organizations, thus keeping them from soliciting haphazardly at various times during the year. The response has, according to Dr. Russell always, been excellent. By everybody giving, the total amount each one has to give is cut down to the small sum of three-fourths of one day's pay for each college employee.

Last year the budget for the Chest was $2575; this year the budget will be $2850.00.

Gettys Says High Standards Restrict Admittance to Bar

According to Dr. P. L. Gettys, who addressed the Pre-Law Club Monday night, the difficulty of attaining admittance to the bar to practice law is caused chiefly by the rising standards by which lawyers are judged. The diligent work necessary to pass the required work in school should not be measured by grades in the student's mind, but by his ability to master any question that may confront him.

Dr. Gettys urges the pre-law students to take their time in getting out of school and to train themselves to look at both sides of a question and try to develop their power of analysis in order to understand legal procedure better. He advocates making haste slowly, learning to think rather than to memorize, and to base all argument on solid foundations.

Senior Scouts To Meet With Rovers

Plans for the student chapter of Senior Boy Scouts will be perfected at a meeting of the Rovers in the auditorium of the Electrical Engineering building Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The Rovers are affiliated with the Boy Scouts and upon perfection of this club a very entertaining program will be offered.

This program is designed for the older boys who once enjoyed the scout work and for all others who may be interested in participating.

games to 1.
A. F. A. used nine men and finished ahead of F. F. A. by a 3 to 0 count. Rutherford and Wilson took Butler and Prove in straight sets. Couch and Denton did the same to Bailey and Seaberry while Mager and Conly turned the trick over Criswell and Hutchins.

C Coast was given a scare by E. Eng., but nosed them out 2 to 1. Sharp and Williams took Roddy and Halton, Burgess and McMahon took Firnberg and Rabinowitz. Nolen and Perrin for E. Eng. turned back Davis and Edens of the Coast.

In the last game G. Inf. won by a forfeit from E. Coast.

Aggies Doped to Win; T.C.U. Only Pre-Season Favorite Still on Top

BY E. C. "JEEP" OATES
Battalion Sports Editor

Games of this week should find Baylor, Arkansas, T. C. U. and Rice coming out on the top.

Baylor won over Loyola at Beaumont last year with a score of 27 to 13. We think that the Bruins are weaker this year, but that they still have enough strength to top the Coast team at Los Angeles.

Arkansas was the victor over Bell's Ponies last year, 13 to 0. A. & M. beat the Porkers, as did Rice and Baylor in the last few seconds last year. The gun is going to fire this week in their favor. Arkansas over S. M. U.

T. C. U. has finally nosed into the first spot on the national rating by Associated Press. They have belonged there for some time. Texas may give them a battle, but the Frogs will continue unbeaten.

That leaves us with this Rice-A. & M. game. It is a grudge battle. Rice has been coming along in great style of late and they will have some of their key men back in the lineup this week. Either team may win, but it looks like the Aggies will bounce back and give the Owls their first conference defeat. Ernie Lain has fizzled out. Aggies 13, Rice 7.

George Branson, the big 215 pound right tackle of the Aggies, has certainly been playing some football during the last two games. George never played what might be called an outstanding sparkling game, but he certainly plays good consistent football. He comes from Burleson, Texas, a little town of about 600 people.

Have just been looking over the way the sports writers picked the conference teams to finish. They made their selections before the first games were played. A composite result of their selections show the following:

1. T. C. U.
2. Rice

SIGNAL CORPS—

all signal communication facilities at General Headquarters, Army Headquarters, Corps Headquarters, Division Headquarters, and down to but not including the Brigade Headquarters. The construction of telephone and telegraph lines in rear of Division Headquarters follows the present practices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and here we find bare wires on poles, aerial cable, and underground cable. Forward of Division Headquarters a twisted pair of insulated wire is laid on the ground. In addition, each Headquarters is provided with radio stations for communication with superior and subordinate headquarters, pigeons for emergency messages, and a Message Center which is a clearing house for messages addressed to or originating at the headquarters. The Message Center receives the message from the staff and selects the best means for sending to destination.

The breeding, training, and distribution of pigeons. During the World War the pigeon proved to be a fast and reliable means of communication from front to rear.

The conduct of a Training Center for Signal Communication Personnel. This is the Signal Corps School located at Fort Monmouth, N. J., about fifty miles from New York City, the electrical center of the United States. At this school officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, National Guard, and the Organized Reserve are trained in all phases of signal communication.

The Signal Corps may be defined as a combined American Telephone Company, Western Union Telegraph Company, and United States Post Office. The work of the Signal Corps is always interesting due to its diversified activities and the contacts made with all of the other branches of the Army.

The temporary systems include

Jinx Tucker is still raising hell about our school song. We like the song, although we would like to have some other songs as well. As long as we like the song for a school song the rest of the world can make a one way trip to — Jinx might do well if he would stick to his sports writing and let the Aggie "Spirit of Aggieland" alone.

We wish to express our sympathy to "Jo-Jo" White. Joe has been plagued with an ankle injury this fall, and Saturday he was injured in the mid-section. One of the S. M. U. lads butted him and injured an intestine.

Tuesday afternoon old old friend Dr. "Sawbones" Marsh got out his tools and cut into White. He found that the intestine was in bad shape and he fixed it some way. I never did know what a doctor did when he got to feeling around in a fellow's stomach. White will be in the hospital for about a month.

Dean Brooks has sent down the following article on how to watch a football game. Of course the Dean doesn't advocate this kind of business.

SEASONABLE HINTS

How to enjoy all the thrills of a football game without leaving your own home.

1. Sit on the front steps in the rain.
2. Hire a freshman to hit you over the head with a score card and yell. "Team, team, team."
3. Engage a flapper to drop peanut shells down your back.
4. Bring the hat rack out and let the hats and coats fall on you once in a while.
5. Munch on a hot dog of du Pont texture smeared with axle grease.
6. Occasionally hit yourself with an empty pop bottle.
7. Finally walk around the yard as if looking for your car.

Three Conference Contests Are Slated

For the third successive Saturday three conference games are on the grid schedule next week-end. T. C. U. meets Texas in Fort Worth, A. & M. entertains Rice at College Station, and Arkansas comes to Dallas for an encounter with S. M. U.

Baylor, with four conference contests behind, goes west for an Armistice Day engagement with Loyola of Los Angeles. The Bears rate a good chance to give the Southwest another intersectional victory, which have been all too scarce this season.

Frogs and Longhorns will perform before a T. C. U. homecoming crowd in Fort Worth, and it requires no particular clairvoyance to give the Christians the nod. But there is always a chance — and that's one of the things that keeps the crowds flocking to stadiums.

The Aggie-Rice game ought to be a dillie. They played to a 6 to 6 tie in Houston last year, with the Owls picked to win. The Owls will again be picked by many to win, but you can usually count on those Cadets being tough on their home sod.

Arkansas took the Mustangs by two touchdowns last year in Fayetteville and their air attack is being doped to do just as well this. S. M. U. could beat Texas only 7 to 6, while Arkansas took the Longhorns 42 to 6. The signpost certainly reads "Razorbacks."

After next Saturday there will remain on the Southwest grid schedule six conference games and two intersectional contests. Both of the latter concern Arkansas, who completes her conference slate with the Mustangs. The Razorbacks meet Mississippi State in Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19 and Tulsa in Tulsa Nov. 24.

WINDY DAY MAY BE IN MODE AT COLLEGE STATION SATURDAY

Saturday may be a windy day at College Station. For at that time, the "Crowell Cyclone" and the "Haskell Hurricane" will be out to renew faith in the effectiveness of the Aggie backfield.

Stopped at Dallas rather effectively by Matty Bell's great defense, the two backfielders—better known as Dick Todd and John Kimbrough—will be doubling their efforts this week in an attempt to slough-

BARGER AIDS IN ORGANIZING EXTENSION CLASS

J. Wheeler Barger, head of the Agricultural Economics Department, went to Dallas last week for the purpose of aiding in the organization of an extension course in land economics, which will be conducted in the Farm Securities Administration Building in Dallas.

The new course in land economics, which is offered under the auspices of the Farm Security Administration, will be taught by S. A. McMillan, who is now regional farm management advisor for the Farm Security Administration. The material covered by the economics course will be that of an extensive study of problems involved in developing state and national policies for proper utilization of land resources. The students in the course in land economics are the officials of the Farm Security Administration.

Members of the Agricultural Economics Department here will visit the land economics class in Dallas from time to time for the purpose of delivering lectures there.

ter Jimmy Kitts' Rice Owls.

For Todd, the rule of the day will be, as usual, sparkling running. Since he has been at A. & M.—one year on the fish team and two years on the varsity—Todd has never scored a point against the Owls. He'll be trying to make a scratch on that record.

Kimbrough, a sophomore who has developed into the second most colorful player on the Aggie roster, will be rarin' to go in his first game against Rice as a varsity player.

Football fans will be chiefly interested in these two Aggie backfielders, although they will probably also show some interest in Ernie Lain—the guy who wanted to be "All-Texas"—in case he gets into the shuffle.
