Aggie Corps Will Parade In Austin Before Game

Expenditures Explained By Champ Clark

Overlapping Jobs Blamed for Increase Of Federal Expenses

BY HILL MURRAY

"The expense for all the branches of our federal government totaled $4,000,000 for the first year after it was established; as an example of the enormous increase in federal expenditures since that time, we have a bill for $5,500,000 for traveling expenses during the last year for officials of the Resettlement Administration alone—which is just one of the thousands of branches of our government existing today," declared United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri in a speech on current political affairs and problems delivered Tuesday night at Guion Hall.

"Of course," continued Senator Clark, "any such comparison between federal expenditures of earlier and later years of our history must take into account the great increase in the area, population, and resources of the United States and the correspondingly greater demand for services made upon the government. Still, hundreds of big

OFFICIALS MAKE TRIP TO CHICAGO FOR CONVENTION

President T. O. Walton; Dean Gibb Gilchrist, Head of the School of Engineering; A. B. Conner, Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station; H. H. Williamson, Director of the Agricultural Extension Service; and Jack Shelton and Miss Mildred Horton, Vice-Directors of the Extension Service, comprise the six representatives of A. & M. who are now attending the annual convention of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities of the United States, meeting at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago, Monday through Wednesday of this week.

President Walton is Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Association, and will preside over all the executive meetings. Dean Gilchrist is attending as the representative of the school of engineering.

Every state of the Union is represented at the Chicago convention by some five or six delegates. A number of prominent men of the nation are attending the meeting. One of the main problems being taken up before the convention is the accrediting of land-grant colleges and universities. The Association hopes to set its own standards for all the institutions of this kind in the country.

"Heavenly" Gates Welcomed Back to Dartmouth

Barrington Kenneth "Heavenly" Gates (right), 24-year-old grid star, who quit the football team and fled to the seclusion of the "Holy Ghost and Us" cult farm at Amhurst, N. H., is welcomed by school-mates on his return to Dartmouth College at Hanover, N. H. Gates, admitting "maybe I made a mistake," also declared he was through with football forever.

RESULTS OF ENGLISH TESTS GIVEN BY SUMMEY

Dr. George Summey, Jr., head of the English Department, has announced that the grading of the English review test recently taken by 1083 sophomores has been completed. The test, an objective one, covered thoroughly matters of usage; spelling, punctuation, the placing of modifying expressions, sentence structure and grouping.

The highest score made on this test, out of a total possible score of 200, was 183, made by J. R. Innes.

Dr. Summey declared, "In the two highest deciles or tenths of the class in their scores, more than

WHEN THE SENIORS WERE FISH

BY RAY TREADWELL

Aggieland prepared for an invasion of the Texas Longhorns as "Jocko" Roberts, chief yell leader, worked to put the corps in top shape for the game. Coach Sikas prepared his fish team, with a backfield of Todd, Audish, Rogers and Caffrey, for what looked to be their first real opposition of the year and a chance to show the students the material that would be available for next year's varsity.

Dorm Jobs Available After Thanksgiving

Student labor on the new dormitories will be given immediately after Thanksgiving, through the student labor office, according to O. R. Simpson, chairman.

Students desiring to work on the project during the summer but not during the regular term should not make application for the jobs before the last of school. The priority of application will not effect the giving of jobs, because of the method to be used in selection of applicants.

Contrary to a statement made last week, students not passing more than 10 hours at the December 1 report will not be dropped from the student labor rolls. No action will be taken on these cases until the end of the semester.

TURKEY DAY GAME SELL-OUT DUE AT AUSTIN

The Texas Longhorns haven't won a football game this year and the Texas Aggies have lost a couple inside the Southwest conference. Offhand, a game between these teams would seem of such tremendous unimportance that the customers would fairly trample one another trying to stay away.

Not so with the Aggie-Longhorn clash that is coming up Thanksgiving day at Texas Memorial stadium. In fact, if any of the big horseshoes' 40,000 seats are unoccupied next Thursday afternoon, Business Manager Ed Oll will be mildly surprised.

"About 8,000 tickets, all calling for seats in the north end, are left," Oll said today. "Granting normal sales between now and next Thursday, and at the gate on game day, we should come out about even."

In other words, a full stadium is in prospect for the first time since 42,000 saw the '28 Texas-A. & M. game here.

If sales are brisker than expected, Oll said, temporary bleachers will be thrown up at the south end of the field to accommodate the overflow.

Nearly 5,000 seats have been set aside for the "Knothole Gang"—school children from all over the state who secure Knothole cards through their superintendents and see Texas home games for 25 cents.

DR. BACON TO MAKE TALK AT SCIENCE SEMINAR

"A Geologist Rambles Through the Craters of the Moon, Yellowstone Park, the Badlands and Black Hills" will be the topic discussed by Dr. Charles Bacon at the first meeting of the year for the science seminar. The lecture will be given Monday night at 7:30 in the Physics Lecture Room.

According to Dr. Bacon, "the craters of the Moon National Monument contains one of the world's finest examples of spatter cone chains along a large earth rift. Yellowstone Park is renowned for its geysers and its scenic canyon of the Yellowstone River. The geysers are a late phase of a formerly active volcanic period, the heat of buried magma still being sufficient to produce this unusual thermal phenomenon. The Black Hills are an example of a huge up-arching of surface rocks by upward movement of once molten rocks, which however, did not break through to the surface. In this rock the Rushmore Memorial is now being sculptured. Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln already clearly defined. The Homestake Gold Mine, one of the largest in the world is located there. The Badlands are soft sandstones and clays which break down rapidly when wet and assume various grotesque and castle-like shapes are a result of differential erosion."

Unofficial Corps Trip Is Scheduled

Added Holiday May Boost Number Of Students at Game

Despite the fact that the corps trip to Austin Thanksgiving for the University of Texas-A. & M. football game is unofficial, a parade of the entire cadet corps will be held preceding the Turkey-day tilt.

Because of the extra holiday on Monday, Nov. 28, it is hoped that a large percent of the student body will see fit to make the trip. A special train will carry the corps to Austin Thursday morning, arriving there in time for the students to fall in for the parade down Congress Avenue.

Reports from Texas show that attendance at the game will be a capacity crowd of about 40,000 people. Since student tickets went on sale at Austin Monday over half the Texas allotment has been sold. Only 8,000 seats in the end-zone remain to be sold.

Details of the parade and trip will be announced to the corps the latter part of the week, Colonel George F. Moore, the professor of military science and tactics and commandant, announced today.
