

Adamson Has Promising Tank Team Nucleus

BY TOM DARROW
Assistant Sports Editor

Even though Coach A. D. Adamson has lost Yust and Crow and perhaps Smith from his last year's water polo team, he has high hopes of the team's returning from St. Louis next spring as National Junior Water Polo Champions—an honor they lost to Northwestern University last year—for working out each week is a group of sophomores who are showing up well. They give promise of more than filling the places of the lost men. Ponthieux and Couch at backs, Hensley at a forward, and Webb at goalie are the promising sophomores.

Members from last year include Hall and Armstrong at forwards, Spangh at a back post, and Zelman at goalie. The big fight now is between Zelman and Webb for the goalie's spot. These two boys will have a mighty hard time in trying to fill the shoes of last year's goalie, Captain Crow, one of the nation's outstanding players.

Practice won't officially begin until after February 1, the same time the swimming team starts work, but the boys are working out once a week just to be in shape for the spring matches.

One of the biggest problems facing Adamson is that of a good backstopper. George Japhet, the most outstanding backstopper on last year's fish time, is the possible key to a successful Aggie swimming team. He has a long way to go before being ready for conference play, but Adamson is counting very heavily on this lad to come through for the Mason and White of Aggie land.

Another task facing the coaches is the job of filling the places of Smith, Yust, Crow, Scales, and Simpson—all lost to the team because of graduation. Then there is always the peril of ineligibilities which seems to hit the swimming team harder than another team on the campus. In spite of these "ifs," Adamson is very optimistic about things and fully believes that the Cadet swimmers will suffer only one defeat—that at the hands of the All-American team from the University of Texas.

Six Schools Represented On A. & M. Players' All-Opponent Grid Team

BY E. C. "JEEP" OATES
Battalion Sports Editor

While the football players are waiting on the coaches and athletic council to announce who the letter sweaters will go to this year, they have compiled an All-Opponent team.

Six schools are represented on their eleven. T. C. U. leads by pining three men, Baylor, Texas and S. M. U. place two men each, and Arkansas and Santa Clara each place one man.

The team is as follows:
Ends—Dewell, S. M. U., and Boyd, Baylor; tackles—Wolff, Santa Clara, and Hale, T. C. U.; guards—G. Sanders, S. M. U. and Rhodes, Texas; center—Aldrich, T. C. U.; backs—O'Brien, T. C. U.; Patterson, Baylor; Atwood, Arkansas; and Lawson, Texas.

Todd said that Lawson was the toughest back he has ever faced in eight years of football. O'Brien and Patterson were unanimous picks for the backfield. Aldrich and Boyd were unanimous in the line.

The Aggies have a double captain in Owens "Slick" Rogers, a kid who hung up his football shoes last week and returned to the student body as just another student. "Slick" has served as captain of the football team this year and is also a captain of the Infantry division of the R. O. T. C. He has been one of the most underrated football players in the conference.

The pistol team is working on getting a match scheduled with a team in England. According to Captain Enslow, coach of the team, the match is certain and only final

It seems that the football team is not the only team that had a bad trip. The stock judging team cleaned 17th place in a contest recently. — LET'S FIRE THE COACH.

Patterson Field General on T. C. U. All-Opponent Team

The footballers from Texas Christian University have selected Billy Patterson of Baylor as their choice for the quarterback post on their All-Opponent team of 1938. Patterson was the only player who was a unanimous choice from the rosters of the ten teams that the Frogs have met this year, and defeated.

The other backs selected along with Patterson are Dick Todd, A. & M.; Jake Schuehle, Rice; and Kay Eakin, Arkansas. The rest of the team includes the following: Sam Boyd, Baylor and Bill Dewell, S. M. U. ends; Joe Boyd, A. & M. and Cal Thomas, Tulsa tackles; Jack Rhodes, Texas and Mat Landry, Rice, guards; and Bob Nelson, Baylor center.

Basketball To Start At A. & M. On December 10

BY TOM DARROW

Tuesday the Texas Aggie basketball team officially began practice, under the direction of Coach Hub McQuillan, for their approaching 1938-39 season, with over a dozen men reporting for duty. This year's team is being led by Sammy Dwyer, letterman guard from El Paso, and since he is the only returning letterman, the Aggies are somewhat of an unknown quantity as yet. Coach McQuillan believes the boys will end the conference play in about the same position as last year.

"Big Dog" Dawson, star fish center last year and a tackle on this year's football team, has not reported for practice yet, but will play this season, nevertheless. He is being groomed for the starting center position. Other likely starters are B. J. Adams and J. A. Carrigan at forwards; Sammy Dwyer and J. T. Lang at guards. The other members of the team have not had time to prove their value as yet; so many changes will probably occur in the starting five from time to time. The Cadet's first game is scheduled for Dec. 10 at College Station.

Team members other than the ones mentioned above include H. V. Duncan, A. S. Eden, C. D. Ellwell, R. G. Folk, H. F. Holland, D. J. Jarrill, A. Y. Scarborough, J. W. Smith, J. T. Tinker, R. E. Wheels and D. B. Varner.

A Boy May Win 12 Letters and Not Learn One, A Prexy Says

Complaining that "in many American colleges it is possible for a boy to win twelve letters without learning to write one," Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, suggests in today's Saturday Evening Post that the best way to rid college football of overemphasis is to have a ten-cent gate. He would also give athletic directors some kind of academic position "so that their jobs depend on their ability as instructors and their character as men, and not on the gates they draw."

President Hutchins denies that college football is a moneymaker and cites, as example, an institution "that was the country's most sensational football college." Last year, he says, when it was sold at auction and bought by bondholders, it was discovered that it was running $72,000 a year behind its budget.

"The Daily Maroon," Chicago University's undergraduate newspaper, recently suggested that Chicago abolish intercollegiate football.
