

GRANGE MEET—

 trime departures in the regimental control given to the government. He praised the work of the Farm Security Administration and the Farm Credit Administration as being agencies doing splendid work in behalf of the farmers.
 Recommendations for further legislation in favor of the farmer advocated by Mr. Moore included those which will protect the farmer's rights to American markets, equalize the tariffs and restrictive legislation, find new uses for farm products, hold down distribution costs, give the farmer advantages of research and education, hold down taxation, equalize freight rates, and most important of all, recognize as a national responsibility the conservation of soil wealth along with water, mineral, forest and wild life resources. "The most valuable legislation in recent years," said Mr. Moore, "has been the Soil Conservation Program. As we stop erosion, as we restore fertility, we are protecting both the producer and the consumer. The soil conservation program deserves the support of all citizens and the Grange will continue in its efforts to support adequate legislation so that the farmers will receive the maximum benefit of soil conservation."

 in various types of structures". Halbouty received his Bachelor of Science degree in geology from A. & M. in 1930 and his Master's degree in petroleum engineering and geology in 1931. He has attained a wide reputation throughout the Gulf Coast area for his articles on heaving shale, Gulf Coast structures, methods of production in the Gulf Coast fields, use of muds and types, and other papers.
 At the time that he was a student here he was editor of The Longhorn in 1930. He was also president of the Petroleum club and one of the charter members of the Scholarship Honor Society.
 He is a member of the Houston Geologic Society, A.I.M.E., American Petroleum Institute, American Association of Petroleum Geologists, New York Academy of Sciences, American Association for Advancement of Science, Society of Paleontologists and Mineralogists of America, and the Mineralogical Society of America.
 The talk tonight is sponsored by the Houston Chapter of the A.I.M.E.

living or working here should take the test.

Representatives of the Board of Health advises that if residents of the community prefer they can make appointments for the nurses to call at their homes to make the test by telephoning College 12. There is no charge for the test. Since this is a movement in the interest of the community, your cooperation is requested.

CIRCULAR NO. 22:

1. The State Health Department in cooperation with the College authorities, is conducting a malarial survey, one feature of which is a blood test for malaria for all students of this College.
 2. In order that the above test may be accomplished without interruption of classes and yet be done in a reasonably expeditious manner, students will report to the College Hospital for this test during a vacant period between 8:00 a. m. and 5:45 p. m., on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, and between 8:00 a. m. and 11:45 a. m. on Saturdays, beginning Nov. 30, 1938.
 3. The test will take less than two minutes per person.
 4. Upon completion of the test, individuals will be given a card showing date of test which will be turned in to dormitory organization commanders by members of those organizations, and to the Commandant's office by members of day student organizations, and by students not assigned to organizations. Dormitory organization commanders will turn all cards in to the Commandant's Office when the test of their organizations is completed.
 5. The provisions of this Circular apply to graduate students as well as undergraduates.
 6. Commanding officers of dormitory organizations will be responsible for seeing that members of their organizations comply with the provisions of this Circular. Members of day student organizations and students not assigned to organizations will be held individually responsible.

Call a halt on needless NERVE STRAIN

GREYHOUND
 Swift, graceful, and remarkably wise. Ancient Egyptian and Greek royalty stamped him as a symbol of aristocracy. Distinguished lines and proud bearing can be found on Egyptian carvings dating to 3500 B. C. Racing has made this breed popular in the U.S.

IT'S THRILLING to watch the flashing greyhound in full flight. But it's important to note that when the race is over he rests—as the greyhound above is doing now. Though the dog's highly keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, the dog relaxes instinctively! Life as it is today leads us to ignore fatigued nerves. We carry on despite increasing tension, strain. Be kind to your nerves if you want them to be kind to you. Pause a while, now and then. LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Let the frequent enjoyment of Camel's mild, ripe tobaccos help you take life more calmly, pleasantly, profitably!

"A THOUSANDTH OF AN INCH is important in my work," says Charles Dietrich, lens grinder. "I've got to be absolutely accurate, and so I've got to concentrate. Naturally, my nerves would be on the spot if I didn't pause now and then. I let up—light up a Camel. Camels comfort my nerves."

TRAP-SHOOTING CHAMPION of North America (Women's Clay Targets), Mrs. Lela Hall, says: "Holding a shooting title four years straight puts plenty of pressure on the nerves. I give my nerves frequent rests, especially during matches. I let up—light up a Camel—often! Camels are so soothing."
