

FRONT BASEMENT

Football Fan: "What does 'not transferable' on this ticket mean?"

Rigdon: "It means that no one will be admitted unless he comes himself."

—Duke-n-Duchess

Actor: "So you're one of my fans, eh? Well, I'm a great believer in hero-worship."

Fan: "Really? I suppose you have some hero that you worship, too?"

Actor: "Yes, indeed, but there are also times when I just hate myself."

—The Tab

A Harvard man out on a drunk
Saw a six-legged, purple-hued skunk.
Having taken Psych. A,

He knew what to say:
"It's my glands that are causing such junk."

—Lampoon

Wife: Well, what did you find out about my family tree?"

Husband: "That the entire crop was a failure."

—Silhouette

Anybody could be one of those realistic painters if he'd get a model with the hiccoughs.

—Exchange

"I always eat in this restaurant. You know, in lots of restaurants the waiters grab the plates away from you before you have finished."

"And they don't do that here?"

"Oh, yes they do, but here you don't mind it so much."

Prof: "Name two ways to turn a man's head."

Coed: "Rattle money or rustle a skirt."

—The Old Line

Then there's the one about the three sailors shipwrecked on a raft with only pack of cigarettes between them and no matches. After a period of deep thought, one of the sailors got up and threw a cigarette overboard, thus making the raft a cigarette lighter.

—Gargoyle.

HOW TRUE

In a sort time thousands of college Seniors will begin to apply their corkscrews to the bottle of life, and find a good bit of it only fizz anyway.
