could not really "deliver the goods".

Shannon Carpenter, now a student of Dairy Husbandry at A. & M., followed with a talk given for the present students of the Department. He began by giving the "low-down" on the various Exes and faculty members present; and then praised Mr. Shepardson's work highly. Col. Ike Ashburn, executive assistant to President Walton who regretted being unable to attend, spoke in behalf of Dr. Walton and himself in praise of Mr. Shepardson.

Lastly, Overton Faubus, president of the Kream and Kow Klub, presented Professor Shepardson with a gold Hamilton pocket watch, complete with chain, knife, and case, as a token of the genuine esteem which he has merited.

Professor Shepardson, before becoming head of the Dairy Husbandry Department at A. & M., was an instructor in this work at Colorado State College, where he coached some of the athletic teams, in addition to his dairy work.

He earned his degree of Bachelor of Science at Colorado State in 1917, and his Master of Science at Iowa State in 1924. In school he lettered in football and other sports.

At national dairy conventions Professor Shepardson is always a featured speaker. He was one of the ten men selected by the Federal Government to represent the United States at the World's Dairy Congress in Berlin, Germany, during the summer of 1937. Just recently he delivered a main address before the American Butter Institute in Chicago.

During the course of the banquet given Mr. Shepardson, many a hilarious tale of the good old days at A. & M. passed between the many ex-Aggies present.

HORT STUDENTS POSTPONE TRIP

The proposed visit of the horticulture 317 class to Palestine yesterday was postponed until Monday of next week because of bad weather. But the classes of Wednesday and Thursday will have their trip as planned if the weather will permit.

The intended trip is for the purpose of conducting a field laboratory study in which the students of the horticulture classes may observe the practical applications of theories of spraying, terracing, pruning, and planting as related to orchard care.

Slacks, Dog—Cost Her Job

Wally Weiseltier, Austrian sculptress at the Louisiana State University, New Orleans, is pictured after her release from the school because, authorities claim, she wore shorts or slacks to classes and insisted on taking her dog, Niky, to the University cafeteria for meals. She denies the charges, though seeing nothing wrong in slacks, shorts, or dog—and adds that she quit, anyway.

CANADIAN PROF VISITS CAMPUS

A. & M. last week was honored by the visit of Dr. J. B. Harrison who is Professor of Field Husbandry at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon, Canada. Dr. Harrison is visiting various universities and colleges in the United States for the purpose of collecting information valuable to Saskatchewan institution in Canada.

Dr. Harrison admired the work of the project house here and said that his home University needed something of the sort.

After interviewing numerous officials, teachers and experiment station workers for a week, Dr. Harrison left yesterday en route to San Antonio. He will make an extended study in northern Mexico and California.

Dr. Harrison and family were well pleased with the agreeable weather in Texas.

A PEACE COUNCIL TO coordinate the peace activities of all existing campus organizations has been organized at New Jersey College for women.

well pleased with the development of the phone situation at College. All the boys seem to be pleased and express their satisfaction with the service, and new orders are coming in all the time for phones in the halls. The telephone service rate is only $2.50 a month, and the phones themselves are loaned to the organizations, the service being the only charge.

"It has taken us somewhat longer than we had hoped to install the phones, because so much equipment had to be obtained and so many entirely new lines laid for which there was no previous provision. We have gone to a good deal of extra expense to give the college dormitories the accommodations, and we hope the Aggies are pleased with them. We will make every effort in the future to render them the best possible service."

"The only thing about which we can complain is that some damage—possibly unintentional, possibly normal wear and tear—has been inflicted. Two or three receiver shells have been broken, and one phone disappeared during the Christmas holidays. We hope that this loss can be lessened in the future."

ten says there has been some attempt to influence him, the poll reveals that student bodies in the West and South are very seldom approached with such propaganda.

A staff of interviewers have asked this question to a carefully selected cross-section of students of all descriptions: "Has any attempt been made on your campus to influence you with communism, socialism, or fascism?" By geographical sections, they have answered:

	Yes	No
New England	8.2%	91.8%
Middle Atlantic	19.5%	80.5%
East Central	12.2%	87.8%
West Central	4.2%	95.8%
Southern	5.2%	94.8%
Far Western	5.8%	94.2%

CAMPUS CLEANERS

In the West Central, Southern, and Far Western states, it is noted influence almost negligible. But when all the results are pooled for the entire country, the sections with much higher percentages raise the total figure of "yes" answers to 10.5 per cent.

And how are these students being affected? They name personal contact with other students as the most frequent way, and in addition name class discussions, invitations to meetings, printed material, and professors who, as a University of Minnesota freshman put it, "are so 'progressive' I believe they tend toward communism."

This poll, like all others conducted by the Student Opinion Surveys, attempt merely to sound out student thought; Perhaps students are unaware of propaganda. Perhaps their individual definitions of the "isms" differ. But their answers about represent what all American college youth responds to the question, and should not be construed to mean that one-tenth of the students have actually been influenced. The Survey points out only that one-tenth has felt attempts of propaganda.
