Football Banquet Success; Texan Sports Editor Is Running Wild Again

BY E. C. "JEEP" OATES
Battalion Sports Editor

Banquets are changing for the better. At most banquets you have off colored green peas to eat along with some other stuff and then you sit for hours listening at some dry speakers rattle about nothing.

Wednesday night at the football banquet there were no green peas and there were no speakers. The awards to cross-country runners, freshmen football players, and varsity football players were announced. Then came the awards to Joe Boyd as the most valuable player for the past year, Jim Thomason for the best blocker of the season, and to Todd and Boyd for making All-Conference.

Derace Moser was elected as freshman football captain for the year and he was awarded a pen and pencil set by Aggeland Grocery.

That bunch of football players were hungry. Marshall Foch Robnet took off his coat before he sat down so he could eat and fight the others off at the same time.

"Pelly" Dittman informed us that the Aggies will again have a track team this year. Thanks "Pelly" we are glad that you have finally decided to have a team. No kidding "Dough" Rollins is going to have a better than fair team this season.

One so-called sports editor of the Daily Texan, sloppy tabloid of the University of Texas, has again stuck his mouth into Brazos county in general and College Station in particular. He says, "Why not Stiteler as Aggie coach?" Stiteler is no doubt a great coach as his record shows. He was a fiery little guy when he was going to this school, and was well liked by all.

There may be a day when Stiteler comes home to man the tiller of the football ship here, but there is no opening now. LaRoche says that Stiteler's success is due to the fact that he plays straight football, doesn't use trick plays, uses the right amount of deception, and his are always a "team without a star."

Well, that sounds to me just like the man needed at the University of Texas. He can be had for less than $15,000 a year also.

In Bible's first year at Texas he beat Texas Tech and Baylor and tied Oklahoma U. In his other year he won only one game.

That figures up to something like this. Three games won and one tied. His first year was his best. Maybe they won't win a game this year. Texas has paid one man $30,000 to win them three games—$10,000 a game. It seems to me that there was a lack of harmony over there a couple of years ago. Didn't one guy get kicked off the club? Seems to me like they had a star on their team the year they won two whole games in a year, too. Is that correct, Mr. Texan Sports Editor?

We have stars at A. & M.; we win several more ball games each year than the state university; we don't pay a fortune to a coach that wins only a game or two a year; we are satisfied. There has been lots of howling around the "forty acres".

Here is the dope, Mr. LaRoche. We don't give a hang what you think about A. & M., its coach or its football team. We like the whole setup. We can't see how a guy like you at a school like that and with a coach and a football

DEAN KYLE OF THE SCHOOL of Agriculture will attend the Texas Agricultural Workers association meeting in Fort Worth today and tomorrow and will act as chairman of the horticulture section. This afternoon he is to appear before the executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association in Fort Worth to discuss the agricultural situation in Texas as it relates to the cotton, cattle and sheep industries.

Fasts for Youth

team like you can sit down and write anything about A. & M.

We never have cared what a "tea-sipper" had to say because we never figured that they knew what they were talking about anyway, but this year the stuff is beginning to stink.

I have been informed that a car loaded with cats is being sent from Dallas to the "forty acres" at Austin to cover up some of that stuff.

In other words the voice from A. & M. to Texas says, "Go to 'B' & 'A'. Stay on the "forty acres"; they would probably kick you out of the "hot place".

TALL BOYS FROM OZARKS MEET T. U.

The tall boys from the Ozarks will be bumping their heads against Gregory gym's rafters and rattling their long, persistent shots off the Texas Longhorn's backboard Friday and Saturday nights.

Coach Glen Rose will shove one of his lengthiest Arkansas teams onto the Austin maples in this important Southwest Conference series. John Freiberger, the center, is six feet eight, and Gerald Gammill, a guard, stands six-four. John Adams, sophomore shooting star, stretches six-three; then the Razorbacks taper off through Howard Hickey, six-two guard, to Capt. Neil Martin, who is a mid-get only six feet one inch tall.

Martin is the one veteran among Arkansas' defending champions. He lettered last year, although he could not break regularly into a combination that included Don Lockard, Jack Robins, Ray Hamilton and Jim Benton. The other four starters are sophomores.

Adams is considered the most dangerous Pocker goaler, and Coach Jack Gray of Texas will plot his defense carefully in an effort to forestall the youngster's scoring intentions. The elongated Freiberger also affords Texas a nice defensive problem, as no Longhorn towers within three inches of his height. They expect trouble from Freiberger on tip-ins.

Either Weet Willie Tate, the Steer captain, or Speedy Houpt, sophomore forward, probably will draw Freiberger for a playmate. They are Texas' tallest at six-three and six-four respectively.

Bounding Bobby Moers had to throttle down on his fast driving through the heavy traffic of Gray's second-stringers this week. The aggressive little guard bruised his hip severely by falling hard several times on a slippery floor at Houston last week. Special training attention may put him back to normal by Friday night.

Coach Homer Norton has just completed the 1939 football schedule for the Aggies which will see the Cadets playing in Oklahoma City, San Francisco, Tyler, Ft. Worth, Fayetteville, Ark., Houston, and four games here at College.

The home schedule finds Centenary playing here September 30, Baylor October 28, S. M. U. November 11, and Texas November 30.

Again the Aggies will play Santa Clara in San Francisco. This time it will be the third game for the Cadets and the contest will either be played on Friday night or Saturday afternoon October 6 or 7.

After returning from the "Golden Gate" Norton's men will hasten to Tyler where they will meet Villanova in the annual Rose Festival classic. The date is Oct. 14.

Texas Christian will entertain the Cadets Oct. 21 in Ft. Worth. Baylor is scheduled to play on Kyle Field Oct. 28. November 4 will find the Aggies in the Ozarks playing the Arkansas Razorbacks. On returning the Nortonmen will pick up Matty Bell's Mustangs and bring them home where they play on Nov. 11.

Again the Cadets will journey to Houston for their battle with Kitt's Owls on Nov. 18. The cadets will then have a rest until Nov. 30 when they battle Bible's disciples in the annual Turkey Day fray.

FDR JUSTIFIED IF HE SEEKS THIRD TERM, CLUB SAYS

Half the members of the A. & M. Pre-Law Club believe President Roosevelt would be justified in seeking a third term, balloting at a meeting held Monday night in the Geology lecture room showed.

Other prominent Democrats mentioned by club members for the 1940 campaign were Vice-President John Garner and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, with Garner far in the lead. While the members thought Roosevelt would be justified in seeking a third term, they favored Garner for the Democratic nomination.

Tom Dewey was the most prominently mentioned Republican.

After a heated argument the club decided to draft its own rules of parliamentary procedure and quit abiding by the Roberts rules.

Ag Workers Go To Fort Worth for Meet

Fort Worth will be the mecca for a large number of Agricultural and Mechanical College workers January 13 and 14 when the state meeting of Texas Agricultural Workers Association is held.

Among those who have reported their intention to attend are Dr. John Ashton, Historian for the Association; A. D. Jackson, publications chief of the experiment station; Maurine Hearn, home demonstration agent, district No. 7; Dr. E. P. Humbert, head genetics department;

F. R. Brison, horticulture department, to arrange pecan short course;

Henry Ross, acting head of the Agricultural education department and W. E. Sherrill, subject matter specialist in the same branch, will attend the meeting; also a conference for vocational agriculture supervisors and teacher trainers on January 15 and 16;

IN THE U. S. THERE ARE 675 endowed colleges and universities which have a total of more than $1,500,000,000 in endowment.

Cadet Quint In Lead In Most Of Heated Fray

BY E. C. "JEEP" OATES

Baylor's fast quintet outlasted McQuillan's Aggies here last night and trimmed them 38-34. Dub Walters sunk four goals in the last nine minutes.

"Big Dog" Dawson led the scorers with a total of 11 points and was trailed by Jude Smith and Grady Vaughn who tallied ten each. Dawson and Smith were the Aggie stars. Vaughn was the outstanding man for the Bears.

Lang

The Cadets lost no friends in that fray. It was nip and tuck all the way with the score being tied six times. Both teams played hard, but there were only 12 fouls called on the Cadets and 10 on the Bruins.

McQuillan's men scored first, but the Bears came back in two minutes to even the count. Lang dropped one through the hoop and the Aggies went ahead where they stayed until the half when the score was 16 to 15 in their favor.

Dawson

The second period was slow at the start, but gained speed as time went on. Lang opened the scoring in the second session after each team had missed a gratis toss, but then Creasy dropped in a luck shot to close part of the gap. Tinker gave the Cadets two points and then Smith dropped in a two point-er.

At this stage Bryski dropped in a gratis shot and then sunk two hoops right along to tie the score. Walters lucked a long one to put the Bears in the lead for the first time, but then Dawson dropped in a couple of shots to again put the Cadets in the lead. Bryski came along and tied the score again with a pretty shot. Shahan

INTRAMURALS HIT NEW LOW IN GAMES

Intramural sports took a new low this week as not many games have been played due to the wet weather. Volleyball, handball, and a few games in basketball were all that was played. Class A handball got as far as the semifinals with E-FA and 2nd Hq FA to play off the finals.

Penny and Hoke had hoped to finish up all the sports this week and next so as not to interfere with the exams. But due to this seige of wet weather it is doubtful that they will be finished by that time.

Beginning with next semester Art Adamson plans to start the "fish" swimming team. The senior division have been hard at work for a number of weeks. A number of fish have shown desire to try for the team already.

Here's something interesting to note. E battery Field Artillery hasn't lost a handball game this year. A feat seldom accomplished among intramural teams. Every bit of the credit goes to the members of the team: Clinton Uhr, Jack Burke, Loyd Walls, Dan Foote, A. G. Howard and Heot Gibson.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY HAS established 20 scholarships of $500 each for refugees from Germany.

sent the Bruins into the lead only to see Tinker, who played a fine game, come along and tie the count again. Vaughn sent the Bears into the lead again, but "Big Dog" was not through and he again knotted the count at 30 all.

Walters then stepped out and put the Bruins in the lead with two points and they were never headed again. Walters sunk two more shots which kept the Bears in the lead.

The Aggies play Rice next Monday night in Houston.

200 Persons Attend Annual Football Banquet In Mess Hall Wednesday; All Football Awards For Year Are Made

BY "CUEBALL" DOSS
Battalion Editor-in-Chief.

Around 200 persons, including many guests as well as all the A. & M. varsity and freshman gridsters and other athletes, attended the annual football banquet Wednesday night in the banquet room of the mess hall.

J. W. "Dough" Rollins, business manager of athletics and track coach at A. & M., was toastmaster.

SPECIAL AWARDS

Joe Boyd and Dick Todd received trophies presented by the Great American Life Insurance Company as members of the All-Conference team determined by a poll taken by that company. The awards were bronze football statuettes on a black plaque.

Todd and "Slick" Rogers earned captain awards along with high praise from Mr. Rollins. These awards were presented by the Aggeland Pharmacy.

Setting a precedent, the freshman team selected a captain this year, and to him went an award in the form of a pen set, given by the Aggeland Grocery.

Burt Pfaff, a member of the Athletic Council, was donor of awards to Joe Boyd as most valuable player and Jim Thomason as best blocker. They were selected for the honors by a committee. Last year Dick Todd received the most valuable player trophy and Virgil Jones the blocking award.

Keeping a promise he made to those present, Mr. Rollins allowed no speeches and made very few introductions. "We're all among friends tonight and we all know each other; introductions would only be a waste of time."

Serving as a climax was the presentation of athletic awards to varsity football, freshman football and varsity cross-country athletes.

VARSIITY LETTERS

Head Coach Homer Norton read a list of 31 football players to receive varsity awards. Sophomores received "T" medals and football bars; juniors received football bars, and seniors received football bars and "T" blankets.

Following are the varsity footballers receiving awards: Bill Audish, Joe Boyd, George Branson, Rankin Britt, Bill Conatser, Zed Coston, Bill Dawson, Pelly Dittman, Bill Duncan, Bob Hall, Henry Hauser, Charles Henke, Odell Herman, Mariand Jeffrey.

FISH NUMERALS

Fish Coach Hub McQuillan called the following list of freshman gridsters who earned numerals this year:

George Williams, Marshall Spivey, Cullen Rogers, J. A. Abbott, J. R. Sterling, Julian Walker, Fount Wade, Buford Dagger, Roy Bucek, Elvis Simmons, Pete Henry, Charles Bumpas, Derace Moser, Willard Clark, Ed Robnett, Grant Smith, Zolus Motley, Kyle McPhail, Leonard Joeris, R. W. Mansfield, Leonard Holder, Martin Ruby, Harold Cowley and Euel Wesson.

Cross-country awards announced by Coach Frank Anderson were made to Mickey Hagan, O. W. Hamilton and Clarence Hall.
