It's little Audrey again. She found her boy friend reading "Descent of Man" and she laughed and laughed for she knew the guy had gone low enough.

Irate Father (discovering his daughter on young man's lap): "Jane! What does this mean?"

Daughter: "Come back in about fifteen minutes, Dad. I ought to know by them."

YAH!

Probably the shortest book ever written would be "Who's Who in Germany."

—Banter

"Do you live here?"

"No."

"Are you married?"

"No."

"Do you have a sister?"

"No, but my sister has."

"What in the dickens are you doing down in the cellar?" demanded the rooster.

"If it's any of your business replied the hen frigidly, I'm laying in a supply of coal."

Her name was "Checkers" because she jumped everytime you made the wrong move.

We quarrel about the slightest things,
I'm all upset and harried;
We're getting on each other's nerves
It's time that we got married.

"How do you keep your roommate from reading your mail?"

"Nothing to it: I just stick the letters in his books."

Student in car (to sweet young thing): "Pardon me—er—but—"

Sweet Young Thing: "No, you've never met me at Palm Beach, Newport, or Saranac Lake. I wasn't in the Pullman car on the New York Express—last Tuesday afternoon. I know I'm good looking and I'm not bashful. I'm not going your way and I wouldn't ride with you on a bet. I didn't ever go to school with you; I'm not waiting for a street car; I don't want a lift and I knew plenty of college boys. Furthermore, I have a 220-pound fiancée waiting for me. Now, were you going to say something?"

Student in car: "Yes, darn it, you're losing your underwear!"

—Froth

Counsel (to police witness)—But if a man is on his hands and knees in the middle of the road, that does not prove he is drunk.

Policeman—No, sir, it does not. But this one was trying to roll up the white line!

An insurance salesman tells about a valuable wardrobe which his firm insured for a client during a European trip. Upon reaching London she wired: "Gown lifted in London." After due deliberation he sent this reply: "What do you think our policy covers?"

Policeman: How did you get up that tree?

Tramp: Ain't you got no sense? I sat on it when it was an acorn.
