Main Worry of Coaches Now Is Whether Athletes Will Pass Exams

Texas Students Fight ROTC Bill

BY R. C. "JEEP" OATES
Battalion Sports Editor

It is not known just how many athletes were felled by the examination axe. It is expected that several of the freshmen football players will fail to make the grade. As for the varsity members, there is little to worry about except one or two. It has been rumored that Marshall Robnett, who has possibilities of being the best guard in the conference next year, may not make the grade.

Coach Art Adamson is afraid that the exams will wreck his swimming team.

Rice Institute met its second defeat of the year when Baylor dropped them this week. The win moved Baylor into undisputed second place and dropped the Owls into third place. The Daily Texan has accepted the challenge. The bet is that if the Aggies win over the Steers in their cage contest here Feb. 11, either Doss or I will write the story of the game for both The Battalion and The Daily Texan. If Texas wins, then editor Pat Daniels or sports editor Clarence LaRoche will write the story for both papers. Doss and I will roll high dice to see who writes the story when the Aggies win.

This fray between the two papers started when the Texan started panning our athletics. When the Steers come over here they will be the favored team by lots of critics, but they seem to have trouble winning anything around Kyle field. We are looking for the gym to be packed with cadets that night. There have been enough coupon books sold this year so that the cadets can fill the entire gym and we would like to see every holder of a coupon there Feb. 11.

The Aggie five will be keyed up to high gear for that game and it should be the best game of the year in Brazos county.

That bunch of guys over there that wear the faded orange and white seem to be on the Aggies' neck. There has been some talk of starting an R. O. T. C. unit there, but they are fighting it hard. When R. O. T. C. is mentioned they make slurring remarks about A. & M.

"Any day a University student will stoop so low as to pack a rifle in place of the freedom of democracy that reigns supreme here at Texas, he ought to turn tail and go to A. & M."

Another quote from the editorial page reads: "The University has had difficulty living down its past of violent hazing. Our sister institution, A. & M., still has such a system with domineering officers and privates brought to submission by violence. I know several boys who have quit A. & M. at the end of their first year because of the brutal treatment dealt out under the military hierarchy. Is this what Representative Patsch proposes for the University?"

The University would probably be a much better place if Mrs. Jones' little Pat who is a student at Texas was given a little something to do and a little licking that mom and pop failed to give him.

Old George Washington would probably turn over in his grave if he could hear some of the excuses for not having an R. O. T. C.

I don't care whether they install a unit at Texas or not. That bunch is about like a lot of the guys who start these wars. They are for peace until someone owes them some money and then they start yelling for war, but they want the rest of us to do their fighting for them.

Hold on type mangler! That sheet, The Daily Texan, has just reached this desk again. This time Mr. Joe, "Joe the dog faced boy," Neiser is the proud daddy of the two column stink.

It is to be remembered that last fall when this guy had one leg against a fire plug he made a statement about the Aggies that has never been proven.

Baylor Defeats TCU and Rice to Move to 2nd Berth

Baylor trimmed both T. C. U. and Rice last week and moved into undisputed possession of second place in the current cage race, but they move into the Ozarks this week for a pair of games with the towering Razorbacks.

Pete Creasy of Baylor was elected captain of their five last week and he moved out and celebrated it Saturday night against the Rice Owls by scoring 18 points.

Rice has two men, Carswell and Craddock, who are running one two in the high scoring for the conference, but their work has not been good enough to keep the Owls on top. They have lost one game to the leading Mustangs and one to Baylor. Carswell has rung the basket for 70 points and Craddock has produced 54.

T. C. U. is floundering around in the cellar with a big zero in the won column, but they are playing some basketball, since their terrific licking at the hands of Baylor in the first game of the season, they have not been beaten by more than six points. The Aggies beat them by six points which is more than Rice, S.M.U., were able to do.

The Aggies are sitting back waiting for exams to end and are getting set for their game with Texas on Feb. 11. There will be lots of heat in the Cadet-Steer fray.

Well, Neiser, now that you have gotten behind that handy and convenient tree and joined forces with that other guy of the same breed, that makes this feud even. You said it was even when you had two on that side and only one on this side. That is the opinion that I have always had. One Aggie worth two of the best Steers in the pasture.

You propose that we settle the feud by playing Mississippi River Folk Poker at some neutral field instead of using pistol, razors, clubs or any of the usual feuding weapons that might put knots or holes in your head. Now that you have picked the weapons it is only fair for us to pick the neutral grounds of battle. I suggest that we use the place just across the Brazos River west of Bryan. That is neutral ground and the loser will not be able to walk out. A Texas has never walked out of there anyway so there would be no scandal.

Talking about football again. It is a recognized fact not only in Texas, but throughout the nation, football at Texas is in a deplorable situation. Take a look at the national rating that they made last year and the year before. Maybe 13 years from now conditions will improve there.

TCU CAGERS LAY OFF FOR 10 DAYS NATIONAL SOCIAL

The Horned Frog cagers have quit basketball for a 10 day's round of study and final examinations.

"I sure hope the boys lay aside that 'almost' habit when they go up against those finals!" Coach Mike Brumbelew exclaimed.

Help for the luckless Christians is in sight. Brad Snodgrass, stellar senior guard, will again be eligible, come February. Milton Atkinson, 6-foot-4-inch junior college transfer, will also be ready to join the varsity squad with the new semester.

"These two men should strengthen us on both offense and defense," Coach Brumbelew says.

"Snodgrass is a first-class guard and has had a lot of experience. Atkinson, of course, is untried in conference play, but his height will be an asset.

"We have had our ears pinned back only once in five games. The Baylor Bears caught us in the opener with only three days of practice and beat us 34 points. A little more than two weeks later, we held them to a 4-point victory.

"We forced the Mustangs—top flight in the conference—into an overtime period for their 2-point victory. Rice, second place in the standings, was well satisfied to finish 3 points ahead. The Aggies downed us 6 points, but it was a battle all the way."

T. C. U. has seven conference games yet to play—two with Texas, two with Arkansas, none with Baylor, and one each with A. & M., Rice and S.M.U. The two Arkansas games and one Texas contest are in Fort Worth; the other four are road games.

The Frogs' next contest is not a conference game, however, but a return bout with the North Texas Teachers' five here. The conference schedule will be resumed Feb. 7, when the Texas Longhorns come to Fort Worth to meet the Frogs.

JOKING HIS WAY THROUGH classes seems to be the policy of a certain freshman in the school of commerce at the University of Alabama. When he came upon a particularly hard question in one of his mid-term examinations last week, the student wrote:

"I don't know the answer to this one, but I do know a good joke that I can write in its place." Whereupon he scrawled off a 150-word yarn, and at its conclusion, wrote: "I think this ought to be worth some credit, don't you? God bless you if you do, and God bless me if you don't!"

Attention Is Called To New Courses in Agricultural School

Attention is being called by Dean Kyle to students enrolled in the Agricultural School to several courses offered as electives in this school. These courses have only recently been introduced and should prove to be beneficial to students desiring to take the courses as electives, Dean Kyle said.

A list of the courses which have been added to the curriculum recently are as follows: Ag Eco 427, Domestic and Foreign Trade Policies as Related to Agriculture; Landscape Art 308, 308, Park and Recreation Development; Rural Sociology 418, Agricultural Journalism; Agronomy 318, Agrostology—a fundamental study of the approach of grass problems; and Agriculture 422, Soil Fertility—a thorough study of soil fertility plans.

85 Students Desire To Make Changes In Classification

Approximately 85 students have made applications to change their scholastic standing at mid-term, according to H. L. Heaton, assistant registrar. Of this number there were more students desiring to change their classification to a senior's ranking than any other class.

The changes in the different scholastic standings will be made after mid-term, Mr. Heaton said, and an announcement of the changes will be made.

PRO-ALL-STARS DEFEAT COLLEGE ALL-STARS 6-0

By scoring as a result of an O'Brien pass that backfired in the third period Sunday at San Francisco, the Pro-All-Stars, featuring Billy Patterson, defeated the college All-Stars, featuring O'Brien, Hall, Aldrich, and Hale, by a score of 6 to 0 on a mud soaked field. The charity game was witnessed by some 5000 drenched fans.

The college boys tried a field goal early in the first quarter and again in the last, but both went for naught.

About midway of the third quarter, Ray Clemens of the Los Angeles Bulldogs, intercepted an O'Brien pass and lugged it back to the college boy's nine yard line. A line plunge stopped at the line. Then Clemens circled end for the score.

The game was played during a continuous downpour and the passing of both O'Brien and Patterson was off of its regular form.

In the opening period O'Brien tossed a pass to Maulders of Drake that was good for 40 yards. In this same quarter Patterson tossed four passes and all fell incomplete. In the last period Patterson completed four passes for 19 yards.

OL' JUDGE ROBBINS
AFTER THE BIG STORM

HELLO THERE, JOHN! WE CERTAINLY DIDN'T EXPECT TO SEE YOU IN TOWN SO SOON AFTER THE STORM.

SOME OF THESE DRIFTS MUST BE OVER MY HEAD.

SHUCKS, MISS CHUBBINS, YOU AND YOUR DAD SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE A FEW YEARS AGO. WE WERE SNOWED IN FOR NEARLY A WEEK—

WELL, WITH A STORM LIKE THAT, I'M JUST AS GLAD WE WEREN'T.

— RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF IT ALL, I RAN OUT OF PRINCE ALBERT. HOW'D YOU LIKE TO HAVE BEEN IN MY SHOES?

NO THANKS, I CAN'T IMAGINE BEING WITHOUT MY P.A.

THAT SURE TAUGHT ME A LESSON, JUDGE. NOW I KEEP AN EXTRA TIN OF PRINCE ALBERT ON HAND—JUST FOR EMERGENCIES.

GOOD IDEA, CONSIDERING WHAT PRINCE ALBERT MEANS TO A MAN WHO KNOWS GOOD TOBACCO.
