"Of course I love you, Tom," and she took off her stockings. "We will have the sweetest little bungalow," and she took off her sports sweater. "We will have a lot of little flower beds," and she took off her skirt. "Tom, dear, why can't we be married in the spring when the world is filled with laughter?" and she took off her camisole. "If you prefer the fall I prefer it too, because we are as one, sweetheart," and she took off her petticoat because she was an old-fashioned girl. "Tom, dear, tell me once more that you love me," and she removed her last vestige of clothing. "Tom, honey, I better say good-night for I have to get up early in the morning." And she hung up the receiver.

Do you know why the little pig left home?

Answer: Because his father was an old boar and his mother was always littering up the place.

Maid: "There were two men standing outside the window while you cressed, madame."

Madame: "That's nothing. You should have seen the crowds when I was younger."

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free.
A girl with hungry eyes not fixed
Upon the drink that's being mixed;
A girl who doesn't like to wear
A lot of junk to match her hair;
Girls are loved by guys like me - - -
For who on earth would kiss a tree?
