

College Students of U. S. Would Take Communism

56 Per Cent Vote For Communism, 44 for Fascism

Communism would be the choice of a majority of American college students if they had to decide between that system and fascism. This trend has been revealed by the latest nation-wide poll of the Student Opinion Surveys of America.

Within the last two decades fascism and communism have come into the front in the news as a result of the set-ups in operation in Russia, Germany, and Italy. During that period of time today's college youth has been growing up.

Because of the directly opposite policies of the two forms of government, in theory at least, speculation as to which is better has developed, especially in halls of learning. Frequently asked is the question, "If you had to make a choice, which would you prefer, fascism or communism?" When this hypothetical question was put before the nation's college students, representing in the Survey's cross-section every creed, race, and political affiliation, the results were:

Communism	56.4%
Fascism	43.6%

When the same question was asked to the entire nation a little more than a year ago by the American Institute of Public Opinion, exactly opposite results were shown. Then 57 per cent of the voters favored fascism. Therefore, either college students differ with their elders, or recent events in Europe have changed their opinions. Accurate comparisons are not possible since no national collegiate poll had been taken regularly until the organization of the Surveys last December.

Everywhere at least a bare majority favored communism, though there were variations, as seen below:

East Central	50.7%
New England	50.9%
Far West	53.6%
Middle Atlantic	57.8%
West Central	59.3%
South	61.8%

JOHN PATRICK, FAMOUS BASSO, TO SING HERE

A promising career as assistant purchasing agent for the Grace Lines, International Steamship Operators, was ruined by difficulties in Chile in 1932, and, as a result the music world now has one of the most promising Bassos of recent years in John H. Patrick, whom an A. & M. audience will hear on the night of April 11. He is being brought here by the Bryan College Station Entertainment Series to present a program of best-loved songs.

Upon his graduation from Hamilton College in New York State, and upon the completion of his graduate work at Cornell University and the New York University Graduate School, Patrick went to work for the Grace Interests in New York City and was finally transferred to South America, only to see business almost ruined because of political upheavals. This gave him the opportunity to do the one thing he had always wanted to do most professionally, and that was to sing. Since then his success has been phenomenal.

This year alone so great have been the demands upon his time that Mr. Patrick has been forced to utilize every mode of travel available to cover over 35,000 miles filling concert, oratorio, and opera engagements.
