PREVIEWS and REVIEWS

BY RAY TREADWELL

"JOHNNY O'BRIEN AND HIS HARMONICA HIGH HATS," a stage show coming to the Palace Wednesday. With my sincerest regards I give you another stage show presented by the Interstate. It seems that due to a slight difference between the press sheets and the show that a darn good burning was administered to this column by the last vaudeville troupe, "The Jitterbug Revue." Press sheets showed that act to be one of the best stage entertainments of the year but for some reason the show presented resembled the press sheets in name only, not in anything else by any means, so it is with a big grain of salt that I look at press sheets for this one. If it is the same original harmonica band that has broadcast over NBC with Rudy Vallee, Bing Crosby, Al Pearce, Horace Heidt, and Ben Bernie it is a band that is a whale of a show within itself and well worth anybody's money, being a harmonica revue similar to those presented by Borrah Minevich's Harmonica Rascals; but if not? ! ? Reports from boys that have seen the act presented in Dallas and San Antonio say that it is all that it is advertised and then some; so it is with these authentic reports that I turn it over to you. Me! I'm not sticking my neck out.

"MADE FOR EACH OTHER," Selznick-United Artists picture, directed by John Cromwell from a screenplay by Jo Swerling. Showing Friday and Saturday at the Palace.

THE CAST:

Jane Mason — Carole Lombard

- John Mason — James Stewart
- Judge Doolittle — Charles Coburn
- Mrs. Mason — Lucile Watson
- Conway — Eddie Quillan
- Sister Madeline — Alma Kruger

If there ever was a show that a person could not afford to miss this is it. Without a doubt it is one of the best shows that has been turned out by any major studio this year. On top of that it has three all-star performers that turn in more than just a top performance, namely, Carole Lombard, Jimmie Stewart, and Lucile Watson.

The story is about a young, unsuccessful lawyer who meets and loves and marries a girl suddenly and brings her home to a small apartment in which his mother must also live. Without a flinch the picture presents a cross section of young married life with all of its troubles and happiness. The trouble all starts when the mother starts the nagging and the baby comes. It does not sound like much of a story for entertainment but don't pass judgment on it until you have seen it because it is that kind of a show. The whole climax comes with a heartbreaking scene in which the young couple decide to call it quits, but just as they do word comes that the baby has pneumonia. Things then develop, with a dying child, and a mercy flight through a storm ending the whole thing up very dramatically, but all right for everybody and after all, that is the way everyone wants his own life to come out.
