

FROM SOME FRATERNITY'S MORAL CODE

... "When you take your sister out driving, drive with both hands. When you take your fraternity brother's sister, drive with your left hand. If she's nobody's sister, don't drive—park."

"Have you ever had people try to walk all over you?"

"Oh, yes. I've had seats on the aisle in the movies lots of times."

It's easy for a man to bowl a girl over—especially if she's right down his alley.

Stranger: Why is it that none of these autoists around here put out their hands when turning corners?

Cop: You see, this is a college town and the young chaps ain't octopuses.

Someone claimed that inflation and hot air are both the same, but we beg to differ. When an economics teacher mentions the devaluation of the dollar, that is inflation; but when he tries to explain it, that is hot air.

It's all right to tell a girl she has pretty ankles but don't compliment her too highly.

"Would you like to join our baseball team?"

"I don't know enough about the game to play, but I'm willing to referee."

"Is the head of the house in, Sonny?" asked the caller.

"No sir. There's nobody home but Dad and me."

Father (calling on family doctor): "Doctor, my son has cholera, and the worst part of it is that he admits he caught it from kissing the housemaid."

Doctor: "Oh well, young people will do thoughtless things."

Father: "But doctor, to be quite frank, I kissed the girl myself."

Doctor: "By jove, that is too bad."

Father: "And to make matters worse, since I kissed my wife every morning and evening, I'm afraid that she to will..."

Doctor (wildly): "Oh, my gosh, we'll all have it."
