When the football season started the Aggies had two senior lettermen at ends, but after the Centenary game these two men, Joe White and Bill Duncan, find themselves way down the list.

Bill Buchanan and "Soc" Sterling, a junior college transfer and a sophomore, will be the starting wings Friday night in Frisco. Herb Smith looked good at the wing position while he was in. He was the Cadet captain for the fray.

John Kimbrough has started leaving devastation in his wake again. He ruined about four Gentlemen Saturday. Euel Wesson did not give an inch of ground over his tackle. When he grabbed the Gent ball carrier on one attempt and just held him it made the Centenary star mad. Someone in the press box yelled, "big poppa has him". Ernie Pannell, Charles Henke, Leon Rahn, Sterling, Buchanan, Marshall Robnett and Odel Herman were the outstanding linemen.

"Waltzing Willie" Conatser, John Kimbrough, Walemon "Cotton" Price, Derace Moser and Marion "Dookey" Pugh were the stars in the backfield.

Jim Thomason had a rough day. He said the end either slugged him in the stomach or the mouth every time he threw a block his direction. Price was injured during the fray. He received a twisted knee, but will be ready to go Friday night.

In noticing Dick Freeman's sport column in the Houston Chronicle Sunday we found him talking about golf or something right here in the middle of football season.

George White, sports authority for the Dallas News, picks Arkansas to win the pennant with S. M. U. and the Aggies tying for second place. The says the Mustangs will lose two games and the Aggies will lose one and tie two. He picks Arkansas to beat us and Rice and T. C. U. to tie us. If there

Ernie Pannell
To Fill One
Tackle Position

BY JIMMIE COKINOS

Pannell

Big Ernie Pannell, 207 pound, 6.2 tackle, is one of the two reasons why Head Coach Norton is not worrying about his tackle positions this year. Last season, due to the consistent play of George Bransom, Pannell did not see too much service but he played enough time to win his varsity letter. This season Ernie has won the starting job at one of the tackles and is capable of playing All-Conference if he so desires. He is classed as one of the hardest tacklers that the Aggies have. He is one of those heads-up Pannell calls Waco his home and came to A. & M. from John Tarleton Junior College. At John Tarleton he lettered two years in football and was selected all-junior conference tackle during his second year. He played football and went out for track while attending high school near Corsicana and received three letters in each sport.

Ernie is teamed up with Boyd to give the Aggies two of the classiest tacklers in the conference. If he continues his present playing he will see lots of service in the Aggies' forward wall this season.

Joe Boyd

Boyd

Joe "Boo Hoo" Boyd, has already been put on the so-called spot when Francis Wallace, sports writer for the Saturday Evening Post, picked him to be the number one tackle of the nation. Wallace put Joe in the tackle position in his "Preview All-American Team".

Boyd was selected last year as one of the tackles on the "All-Conference" eleven and if he picks up where he left off last season he will again be a choice for the all-conference team.

"Boo-Hoo" was only a sub in 1937 but before the season ended he won the starting berth and received his first varsity letter. He hold down the role of starting tackle last season and played a jam-up game at his position. In fact his playing was so outstanding that he was voted by his teammates as the most valuable player.

He played football at Dallas Technical High School and at Paris Junior College before coming to Aggieland. He won football letters at both places and in 1934 received all-city honors for his playing at the Dallas school.

Joe made his freshman grid numeral in 1937. He has played center, end, and tackle during his football career and is capable of is another tie with Rice this year, the state of Texas will not be large enough for both teams and probably some official better have a police escort to take him out of the state. "Rats" Watson is still remembered for being the "twelfth man" on the Rice team two years ago.

The conference did not pick up any glory this past week. T. C. U., Arkansas and Rice lost intersectional frays while S. M. U. tied Oklahoma, and A. & M., Baylor and Texas trimmed only fair teams.

Coach Norton's Aggies will practice tonight in El Paso and tomorrow night in Los Angeles. Santa Clara was held to a 7 to 7 tie by Utah. A couple of years back the Aggies trimmed Utah. It was at that time when the players cleaned up on a bunch of negro waiters in Salt Lake City.

John Kimbrough only has one leg hurt, but he has them both wrapped up so the opposition will not know which it is. In Oklahoma City he wrapped only one and the Cowboys tried to pull that limb off.

Intramural Managers Hold First Banquet of Season Monday Night

The senior and junior office managers of the intramural organization were introduced to those who attended the first banquet of the season given for all-organization leaders of intramurals in the banquet room of the old mess hall Monday night.

The banquet was the official opening of the '39 season with the nearing of the opening date of play next Monday. W. L. Penberthy acted as the chairman and explained to the group the principles of leadership in the games and the object of the program. Most of the students present were already familiar with the program, many having served as managers last year.

With Hub Johnson

Eats and more eats. A pretty nice banquet was held last night for all the intramural managers of the campus and organization force. I happened to be around and enjoyed it very well except for the presence of the same old green peas. Many of the boys met some of the men they had no idea had anything to do with the program.

Welcomed to the staff is W. A. Moore who is also serving the intramural office as a junior manager. Some first hand dope ought to come through him.

Battery funds have been collected and many new footballs have been seen floating around the grounds, especially in the dust bowl near the new dormitories. First Hq. Field Artillery, last year's leading football champions, are preparing for repetition of records, while "B" Coast Artillery, with its last year's Class B champions in the sport now playing in the lineup as upperclassmen, and "C" Cavalry second place holders rounding off the rough spots to give them a fight for the honors.

There is still need of some sophomore managers on the office staff. Some good men have reported and should give some noted service this year. If you are interested and happen to be in the sophomore class, drop around and see "Mr. Penny".

While "C" Cavalry has some of its men on the football field, another group is haunting the gym preparing for the opening games of basketball. This troop played some good ball to covet the title last season and is planning on returning to the floor as strong as ever with the return of Jake Wilk to school this September.

October 9 is drawing near, so beware the coming Monday if you aren't ready to face the unknown opponents. Tell you more Thursday and by Saturday sure there should be some definite schedule announced.

holding down any of these positions but prefers the tackle job. If you have seen him in action, you will agree that he was made for that position as he is a powerful and deadly tackle and loves to smear the opponent's plays.

As a freshman, Joe won the heavyweight boxing title of the freshman class and in his sophomore year he annexed the college heavyweight boxing crown. During the same year he turned "Londos" and won the heavyweight wrestling title. But last year he did not enter into ring competition due to a hand injury and could not defend his titles. However the titles did not pass out of the possession of the football team as Marshall Robnett entered both events and walked away wearing both crowns, keeping up with the tradition that heavyweight titles belong to football players.

Joe is playing his last year for the Cadets as he will receive his sheepskin at mid-term. He is majoring in accounting and statistics and hopes to become a C.P.A. when he gets into the business world. Although playing football takes up lots of his time he manages to find time to be near the top in his class work.

T.C.U. Horned Frogs Tackle Razorbacks In Arkansas Saturday

The records show plainly that the Arkansas Razorbacks are hard for T. C. U. to handle in Fayetteville.

Yet the Horned Frogs have the job of trying to handle the Razorbacks in Fayetteville this week, come Saturday afternoon.

Two years ago the two elevens battled to a 7-to-7 tie up in the Ozark City. In 1935 the Frogs managed to win by six points, but the Razorbacks handed the 1933 Christian eleven a 13-to-0 drubbing when Coach Francis Schmidt made his last trip there as head grid man for T. C. U.

The Frogs hold an edge over the Razorbacks on the 15-game series which started back in 1920, having taken 10, lost four and tied one. The all-time score is T.C.U. 204, Arkansas 144.

FACULTY TENNIS CLUB TO HOLD TOURNAMENT

A singles tournament of the Faculty Tennis Club starts this Saturday afternoon, October 7. Prizes are to be awarded the winner and runner-up of the tournament, and also the winner and runner-up of a consolation tournament.

Entries and dues may be turned in to Dr. J. H. Quisenberry of the Genetics Department, or to T. H. Terrell of the Engineering Drawing Department.

The Animal Husbandry Department is planning to send several head of cattle to the State Fair at Dallas. In addition to August-Hereford shorthorn steers and Aberdeen-Angus breeding cattle, the outstanding Angus heifer of the A. & M. herd will be sent. After the Dallas Fair the Angus heifer will be sent to several expositions over the country and finally to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago where, according to Professor Williams of the A. H. Department, has a good chance to be judged champion.

Moser, Kimbrough Star As Gents Bow To Cadets

With John Kimbrough crashing over for two touchdowns and Walemon Price making good both his kicks, the Aggies trimmed a strong defensive Centenary College team here Saturday by a score of 14 to 0 before a crowd of approximately 9,000 fans, included in which was the largest number of Aggies to ever witness a football fray on Kyle Field.

Marshall Robnett kicked off to the goal line and the Gents were forced to punt out. During the first quarter the Aggies stayed in Centenary territory all the time.

During the opening period John Kimbrough took the ball and after faking into the line, raced around left end for some 15 yards and a touchdown. The Gent that tried for a tackle near the goal line was knocked over. Price placed his try for extra point in the middle of the uprights.

Coach Norton then filled the field with his second team and they battled the visitors on even terms.

In the third period the Aggies worked the ball into scoring territory and again Kimbrough smashed across the pay line standing up. Price again converted.

Conatser took a punt on his own 47 and wiggled through the whole team for a counter, but the Cadets were offside and the play was called back. The Gents never threatened and with two minutes to go, ran two plays into the line in order for the time to run out.

They were a badly crippled crew when the fray ended. Kimbrough smashed some ribs on one of the Gents who tried to tackle him.

... but do you know what's back of them?

Here's the set-up back of the familiar blue Bell emblem—

1. American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which coordinates system activities—advises on telephone operation—searches for improved methods.
2. 24 associated operating companies, which provide telephone service in their respective territories.
3. Long Lines Department of A. T. & T., which interconnects the operating companies and handles Long Distance and overseas service.
4. Bell Telephone Laboratories, which carries on scientific research and development for the system.
5. Western Electric, which is the manufacturing and distributing unit of the Bell System.

With common policies and ideals, these Bell System companies all work as one to give you the finest and friendliest telephone service—at lowest cost.
