Conference Plans More Cotton Uses; Many Benefits Seen

Fifty industrial and educational leaders attended the mattress conference called here October 2 by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

The means of launching a mattress campaign through which it is hoped to put a million new mattresses in Texas homes, and incidentally use up around 100,000 bales of cotton, were discussed. It was decided that each of the agencies, organizations, and programs represented at the conference would form a cooperative sponsorship of the movement. This would carry the leadership directly to the various counties and districts. As this program is to be statewide, each county, district, and local club will have direct activities in the introduction and education of the program. The members of the cooperative sponsorship will select a smaller committee to outline the immediate plan and field of activity.

There are three classes of people who will benefit from the program. These are in order of their importance; those now on the relief rolls; those whose income is just above relief requirements; and those who are considered in the middle income bracket.

The surplus of cotton in the United States totals approximately 13,000,000 bales of which 6,000,000 have been accepted by England in trade for rubber and other minor commodities. The importance of home use of home-grown products was stressed with direct emphasis on this surplus. The inadequacies of bedding in many of our urban and rural homes was also stressed, and special attention paid to the use of the fiber in mattresses and comforts.

Texas farm women and 4-H club girls, working through their agents, made 3,417 cotton mattresses in 1938. Many of these women and girls will be able to pass on to their neighbors what they have learned.

Churches

The series of meetings in progress at the A. & M. Church of Christ will continue through Saturday night. The services begin at 7:30 each evening and last only one hour. Rev. Burton Coffman, minister of the Central Church of Christ in Houston, is the guest speaker, and his messages are being enthusiastically received. All students and others are invited to attend these services.

A cordial invitation to the public to come and enjoy the services being held each evening this week at 7:00 is extended by the First Baptist Church of College Station. Rev. L. B. Reavis will speak each evening at 7:30, following a short song and prayer service.

Christian Science Services
"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, October 8.

Taylor last week. Boys that are out for the team are Denver Marsh, Alvin Price, Howard Dalton, W. C. Foster, and Ben Gleason.

The actual team will not be definitely announced until just before the group is scheduled to leave for the contest, according to professor A. L. Darnell. Mr. Darnell will accompany the cattle team but Professor A. V. Moore, products team coach, will be unable to make the trip. The group is scheduled to leave Oct. 15, and return Oct. 30.

MICHIGAN STATE PROF HAS SENSE OF HUMOR

A bit of a wag is C. C. Hurd, mathematics instructor at Michigan State College. On the door to his office is the following injunction:

"Please knock before entering. If you don't give a rap, you won't get an answer."

Maybe the last part of that should have read, "you won't get Hurd."

TODAY, OCTOBER 5, IS THE last day students may register for new courses or drop courses for the fall term.

SALE OF ROSE BOWL TICKETS STARTS MONDAY

Tickets for the A. & M.-Villanova football game will go on sale next Monday morning and will be sold until the following Wednesday night, E. W. Hooker, Secretary of the Athletic Council, announced Wednesday.

The Athletic Office will have both student and regular tickets. The regular tickets from the 30 yard line to the 30 yard line will be $3.30 and from the 30 to the goal line $2.20. There will be 600 student tickets at the usual price of $1.10.

Mr. Hooker also announced that 4,125 student athletic coupon books have been sold to date. This represents a substantial increase over last year's sales total which was only 3503.

Names of freshman intramural managers are asked to be turned in as soon as possible so that the start of the Class B games will not be delayed too long after the beginning of the upperclassmen, whose events are scheduled to start on October 9.

Glamour girls don't make good wives!

"What does that child of 19 know about making a home? She's never done anything but enjoy herself. Why, she can't even cook a hamburger—and she thinks having a baby would 'spoil her tennis'!"

That's what people said when Nancy Barr, society glamour girl, married hard-working young Toby Stearns. And what, they wondered, would happen when Toby woke up and realized the truth? . . . Turn to page 5 of this week's Post.
