Referee Harry Viner Threatened To Penalize Aggies For Yelling So Loud

Referee Harry Viner threatened to penalize the Aggies Saturday for unsportsmanlike yelling. A penalty like that is for 15 yards. Harry had asked Bodie Pearce to get the Corps to quit yelling when Baylor was in the huddle and calling signals. Bodie did try to stop it a little, but then that is just the opposite of his job. A few minutes later the Baylor team again complained and Harry told Bodie he would have to penalize the Cadets if they didn't stop yelling when Baylor was on the offense. Bodie complained that he had no right to do so and said that Baylor was yelling when the Aggies were on offense. Harry said they were not making too much noise. In other words, the Cadets won on the field and in the stands too. Really it was a compliment to the Cadet yelling body. It is true that the referee has this power, but it will probably not come up again. He does not work here again until the game with Texas and you can yell until... freezes over.

Juniors Sitting in Senior Section Are Running Risk of Jaws of Senior Court

Many complaints about juniors and other underclassmen sitting in the senior section at football games have reached this column. Several of the offenders will be called before Senior Court this week. The senior section consists of the rows from the band to the top of the stands and the top rows on down to the goal line.

The juniors wanted to know where they were to sit and said that the sophomores and freshmen would not move. Well, what have you learned after being here for three years? Where there is a will there is a way.

Villanova beat Arkansas 7 to 0 and Santa Clara beat Purdue.

Arkansas Is Tough Opponent in Ozarks; Aggies Have Tough Row Yet To Hoe

Coach Norton will leave here Thursday for Arkansas where his charges will attempt to win a game over Coach Thompson's oft-trodden Razorbacks. You can lose more ball games and more money playing in Arkansas than any other place in the world. Arkansas continues to have the hard luck of losing a ball game in the last minute after having romped all over the field. Texas' Jack Crain raced about 80 yards to trim the Porkers in the last minute two weeks ago and Villanova shook a man loose for a long touchdown run Saturday to win. Kay Eakin, star Hog junior, is as good a passer, runner and punter as can be found in the Southwest. He has two of the tallest ends in the country to shoot passes to and they know where to run when they get the ball. By the way, that Arkansas is another one of these jinx bunches to bowl over. The two teams started their battles in 1903, but it was not until 1934 that they began playing every year. The teams have met 12 times with the Porkers winning seven games and the Aggies four. One game in 1934 ended in a 7 to 7 draw. Arkansas was one of the favored team to win the conference this year and with that material they

Kimbrough, Moser And Smith Star

By "Jeep" Oates
Another jinx, as well as a good fighting Baylor team, went down in defeat before the powerful Aggie eleven Saturday afternoon before some 21,000 spectators as Smith, John Kimbrough, and Moser tallied touchdowns and Price added two extra points. The odd play of the game came when Herb Smith took the ball away from Wilson, when he was back to pass and ran 29 yards for a touchdown to put the Aggies ahead 6 to 0 before the game was a minute old. The 20 to 0 defeat for the Bears was the same as the one Nebraska plastered on them last week.

Baylor came over with a good ball club, one that refused to be pushed around during the first half. Their line was as good as any that will be found in the Southwest, and that is the reason the Cadets looked ragged during the first half.

Statistics at the half showed each team with three first downs and Baylor leading in running plays with the Cadets holding the lead in yardage on passes.

But the second half of the fray offered a different picture. The Cadets had been humiliated by having their running attack halted during the first 30 minutes and they came out raging. The Bruin forward wall had worn down some during that first half and they had no capable reserves to throw into the breach.

After the Aggies kicked off in the third quarter, they got the ball when Grumbles was hit so hard that it flew out of his hands, whereupon Thomason grabbed it. Moser, Price and Kimbrough started eating up the ground behind some great line plays and neat blocking. They carried down to the Bruin two and "Jarrin" John crashed through to pay dirt. Price added the extra point and Baylor was out of the ball game.

In the last period the Aggies rolled up six first downs to the Bruin's one, that one coming as the result of a penalty. The Cadets rolled up 78 yards rushing and 59 yards passing during the last quarter. They lost 13 yards rushing when Spivey and Pugh were thrown for losses. The Bears made two yards rushing and none passing, and lost 18 yards on attempted rushes during the last period.

Moser completed the scoring in the last period when he raced around the Cadet left end as Kimbrough faked a plunge into the line.

Nelson at center was the outstanding player for Baylor throughout the game. Others looked good during the first part, but could not last. The Aggies used 36 players in all and they all showed up well. Jack Lummas, Baylor end, said after the game, "The Aggies are the best team we have played against counting Nebraska; and Kimbrough, Thomason, Pugh, Robnett, Boyd and Pannell are the best I have ever seen."

Wilson, explaining how Herb Smith took the ball away from him said, "My shirt was wet and I had the ball in my hands to keep it from getting wet when all of a sudden the little... took it before I knew it was gone."

Statistics show the Aggies netting 239 yards to 37 for the Bears. Grumbles of Baylor and Conatser, Moser and Thomason of A. & M. put on a kicking demonstration. All four men averaged over 40 yards on punts from the line of scrimmage.

may still have a superb bill game left in them. Rice didn't outscore Jack Crain over at Texas and we missed on pick, but then we didn't know that this Crain, who has had uncles playing ball at A. & M. since time began, was another SUPERMAN.

We hope that little Jackie doesn't get killed before the season is over, but he is in for a bit of roughing if his opponents are lucky enough to catch him... they say Rice has made application to get in the six-man football league... Chink Manning and Jess Landrum were back for the game Saturday... Herb Smith is a stealer; ask Wilson... they say football players in college are paid... some of 'em don't get enough... on our rating system A. & M. is in the first five... the other systems, they stink... THIRTY.

Aggies Travel to Arkansas to Meet Razorbacks and Another Old Jinx

Playing one game at a time, the Aggies travel to Arkansas next Saturday to meet the Arkansas Razorbacks. Sport experts may pick the top teams in all the conferences and the top teams of the nation, but this is the Southwest Conference.

The jinx of all jinxes is before the Aggies this week but this is the year that the "hop-doo" seem to fall. Last year was the first victory for the Aggies against Arkansas since 1927, and in that year it took a conference championship team to do it.

The Aggies came out of the Baylor game without injuries and unless some turn up in scrimmage this week, they will present their full strength against the Ozark team. Arkansas has dropped four of their six games this season, losing to Villanova last Saturday, 7 to 0. The game was the South's team all the way through until the third quarter when a sophomore substitute for the Wildcats raced 82 yards for the lone tally. The Razorbacks boast a trio of 200-pound veteran wingmen who range from 6-2 to 6-8 in height. Howard Hickey, Maurice Britt, and John Freiberger, brother of Louis Freiberger, Aggie basketball star, all won their letters last season.

Statistics run about equal, with the Aggies leading in some branches and the Hogs holding higher averages in others.

AGGIES JUMPED TO 6TH PLACE

By Paul B. Williamson

In a week which showed a settling down to form of major teams but considerable fitfulness in minor circles, Coach Fritz Crisler's Michigan Wolverines justified the System's prediction by smashing Yale 27 to 7 and retained national leadership with a rating of 99.3. Cornell clung to second place with a rating of 98, by beating, a predicted, one of the best Ohio State teams in several years 23 to 14. Texas Aggies, by their clearcut 20 to 0 win over Baylor and the recent return to power of Santa Clara (which the Aggies beat only 7 to 3 in an early season match), climbed to sixth place with a rating of 96.2.

Duke, after a hard battle with the great "little" Wake Forest team to win 6 to 0, dropped to ninth place with a rating of 93.9. Although losing to Cornell, Ohio State remained in the first 10 of the nation with a rating of 93.1.

The A. & M. polo team came out on the heavy side of an 11 to 10 score Sunday afternoon in a fast rough opener with the Army-Faculty Freebooters in the opening game of the season.

The Freebooters spotted one by handicap, jumped off with a rush and held a one-point lead at the end of the half with the score five-four. At the opening of the second half, the Cadets paced by Captain Asa Jones and Sid McDonald, went on a scoring spree and tallied five times. The Freebooters made their bid for goals in the second half through Hay and Barry, and retaliated with a four-goal burst in the sixth chukker. The game ended with the Aggies holding their one-goal lead.

Maloney's sparkling play for the varsity was cut short in the fifth period when he was forced to withdraw with an injured hand.

The fouls, which are to be expected in so fast a game, were well distributed—six against A. & M. and five against the Freebooters.

| Summary: | | |
|------------|-------|-------|
| A. & M. | Goals | Fouls |
| McDonald | 4 | 2 |

A. & M. will see action next against New Mexico Military Institute, a school which has recently produced an intercollegiate champion team and should provide some stiff competition for fast games. These games will be played at Jackson Field next Saturday and Sunday.
