chief of the Division of Cultural Relations of the United States Department of State, and submitted to them a course of study for Latin American students. Following the preliminary conferences, Mr. Cherrington in April advised Dean Kyle that the Division of Cultural Relations of the Department of State and asked the advice of several people well informed on Latin America and the needs of students wishing to complete their education in the United States. Mr. Cherrington stated that much favorable comment was received on Dean Kyle's outline of the course of study which also has received high commendation from the Houston Foreign Trade Council. At that time Mr. Cherrington reported to Dean Kyle that a number of other institutions were following the Texan's example by providing special courses and arrangements for Latin American students. At the same time Mr. Cherrington stated that he believed all of those institutions would wish to be well informed regarding what others were planning.

TSCW, Popular Sister School of A. & M., Is Largest Girl's School in Country

Here are a few facts of interest the latest available about the Texas State College for Women, formerly known as the College of Industrial Arts (C.I.A.), A. & M.'s sister school at Denton which is so near and yet so far!

T.S.C.W. and its students have always been highly popular with the Texas Aggies, who throng the campus nearly every weekend. T.S.C.W. is the largest residential college for girls in the world, with a 1938-39 enrollment of 2,900 students from 226 Texas counties, 26 states and seven foreign countries; and a 1939-40 enrollment of approximately 3,000.

The college physical plant is valued at over four million dollars by the state auditor's report, including a million-and-a-quarter dollar building program completed in 1936 adding seven new buildings to the campus. Residential buildings are nine regular dormitories and about fifteen cooperative halls, all filled to capacity. There are nine instructional buildings. The total campus acreage is 182, with a 20-acre camp on Lake Dallas.

Over 5,200 bachelor degrees have been conferred by the college since 1915, in addition to 200 master of arts degrees since 1930. The faculty has grown from 14 to about 175 members, all with master's degrees and about 40 with doctor's degrees. Instruction is offered in 42 groups of courses, with graduate work in seven departments. More than 50,000 students have attended the college.

The school is a member of the American Association of University Women, the Association of Texas Colleges, the Southern Association of Colleges, and the Association of American Colleges, and is approved by the American Association of Universities. It is, furthermore, the only college in Texas approved by the American Library Association for the training of school librarians.

The name of the institution was changed from College of Industrial Arts in 1934 because the original title was misleading as to the purpose of a liberalized college and caused confusion out of the state. Government of the college is vested in a Board of Regents consisting of nine members, appointed by the governor of the state with the consent of the state senate.

Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of T.S.C.W. for the past thirteen years, serves as the administrative head and carries out the policies formulated by the board.

Dr. Hubbard was born in the U. S. Consulate in Porto Rico, where his father was consul, and spent his early years in El Paso. Educated at the University of Texas, he served as teacher, principal, and superintendent in the schools of Sulphur Springs, San Angelo, and Belton. From 1924 to 1926 he served as dean of students at the University of Texas, and in 1926 began his long and progressive term as president of T.S.C.W. He is now in his thirty-fifth year of service in the state's educational system.

 THROUGH THE INTIMATE LETTERS
 of Helen Hayes' mother to Helen Hayes' daughter about

Helen Hayes

Here is a unique story: what the outsider does not see of Helen Hayes, the anecdotes the world hasn't heard. Here, as Helen Hayes' mother says, is "every little thing I can recall about my Helen Hayes" . . . In a series of letters called Mary, This Is Your Mother, she reveals to her granddaughter (and to Post readers) the struggles and glamorous career of America's great actress, who has spent thirty-four of her thirty-nine years in the theater and "on the road." First of eight parts—this week.

IN THIS SAME ISSUE

A half hour of excitement: Harold Channing Wire's yarn Glory Hole about a cave-in 1700 feet down! (Too bad they'd fired the lad they thought was "yellow," the only man who had the key to the rescue . . .)

AND a lively story of a girl reporter who went out to cover the races and ran into a story with a real news angle—when she fell in love with a gentleman rider, and he walked away!

MORE spine chills in the climax of Alec Hudson's vivid and authentic submarine war story, Battle Stations.

PLUS . . . an article, The Great Red Father, by W. G. Krivitsky, on the bloody undercover work of the Comintern in Germany; and If You Must Borrow—by Lowell Brentano. (Attention—students low on their pocket money!) Also stories by Zachary Gold and William Faulkner, poems, editorials, cartoons.

LILY-WHITE FOOTBALL or PLAY FOR PAY?

Why isn't a student who works on the football field for the profit of his school just as much entitled to pay as janitors or secretaries—particularly since the college gets a bigger return for his labors? Francis Wallace, sports authority, this week in the Post reveals the facts about the tug-of-war at the University of Pittsburgh between simon pure Chancellor Bowman and the rooters for Coach Sutherland, now ex-coach. You'll see what happens when a college tries to back out of the play-for-pay business.
