The ace sports announcer was overwhelming in his praise for A. & M. "My business includes traveling all over the nation," Stern said, "but nowhere else in the United States have I been treated better than here at A. & M. I have been given perfect assistance in every respect, and the three days which I have spent here have certainly been pleasant ones."

He added that, "I have heard of this famous so-called 'Southern hospitality,' but the term has been greatly underrated. And your Aggie custom of greeting everyone is something with which we have no parallel in the East."

Last Saturday's broadcast, which marked A. & M.'s first appearance on a coast-to-coast N. B. C. network, nearly failed to materialize. The tremendous expense of the broadcast to N. B. C., together with the fact that there were three other nationally significant games being played the same day, tended to make N. B. C.'s officials hesitant in bringing the important broadcast to Aggie land. The extensive interest shown in the game by West coast stations, however, proved to be the deciding factor in the case.

Stern arrived at College Station Thursday morning and spent the remainder of the day, and Friday too, meeting and talking with the players and coaches. He also spent considerable time seeing moving pictures of previous A. & M. games this season. Throughout the time Stern was here he was assisted by G. B. Winstead, director of publicity for A. & M., at whose home Stern was a guest.

"This is A. & M.'s first time on a coast-to-coast N. B. C. hookup," Stern said, "but not its last." He

Just Preceding Aggies' Winning Run in Saturday Game

"Big John" Kimbrough plunges through center for one yard, just before the Aggies made their only touchdown against the S. M. U. Mustangs in the game Saturday which the Aggies won 6 to 2 playing in the rain. At this stage the Aggies lacked only two yards of their touchdown. Kimbrough holds the ball, and the well-muddied Aggie looking on is Buchanan, No. 57. A steady drizzle left pools of water at places on the field, and the sky was so overcast that staff photographer Phil Golman was forced to use flash bulbs for his pictures.

Roosevelt Starts Red Cross Roll Call
President Roosevelt launched the annual Red Cross Roll Call in a radio address November 11 over the combined networks of the National Broadcasting Company, Columbia and Mutual Broadcasting Systems. He was introduced by Norman H. Davis, National Chairman of the American Red Cross.

The Chief Executive was the first speaker on a full-hour program bringing together some of the most popular stars on radio, screen, and stage. The broadcast, starting at 9:30 p. m., C.S.T., switched from Washington to New York and Hollywood for participation by such popular favorites as Fred Allen, Ben Bernie, John Charles Thomas, Clifton Fadiman, Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, Harry Von Zell, Don Wilson, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Connie Boswell, Major Bowes, and Jascha Heifetz.

The program was made possible through the courtesy of the three cooperating broadcasting systems and the donated services of one of the largest advertising agencies in the country, the chairman said. All stars on the program, as Red Cross members, volunteered their services.

1940 Census
to Rico, Virgin Islands, the Canal Zone and Alaska.

In preparation for the taking of the census, individual maps of all districts must be made, so that not one square foot of territory can be missed. Maps for this census, over 130,000 in number for the states alone, were started almost three years ago. Experts with their committees are setting up schedules for the census and formulating the questionnaires.

Even through this vast territory must be covered, and every home, factory, and business institution, must be visited, only thirty days is allotted for the job in the country, and two weeks in the city. Thus it can readily be seen why six or eight months has been spent in the training of the 14,000 enumerators previous to the actual taking of the census.

It can be understood why nine box cars would be needed to carry the entire equipment, why 8,000 persons will be needed in Washington to compile the facts, and why they will use 328,000 pencils, 600 typewriters, 300 calculating machines, 468 adding machines.

Among outstanding figures in the press sports world who were on the campus for the game were Gayle Talbot of New York and Felix McKnight of Dallas, both of the Associated Press; Jinx Tucker of Waco; Flem Hall of Ft. Worth; Jerry Hayes, Charles Burton, and Red Webster, of Dallas; Ward Burris, Fred Maly, and Harold Scherwitz, of San Antonio; Vin Burke of Beaumont; Dick Freeman, Andy Anderson, Lloyd Gregory, and Bruce Layer of Houston.

Boys from the following nine counties are eligible for membership: Hemphill, Roberts, Wheeler, Donley, Gray, and Collingsworth. The following officers were elected: president, Raymond Laycock of Wellington; vice-president, James Eiland of Wellington; secretary, Cecil L. Reeves of Shamrock; treasurer, Bill F. Anyone eligible for the club is invited to join by seeing anyone of the officers or by attending the next regular meeting, December 13.

Results Of Freshman Vocabulary Test Are Announced By Summey

Results of the vocabulary test recently given all freshmen English students have been compiled by Dr. George Summey, Jr., head of the English Department. Those taking the test were given 100 words to define, rather than 150 words as has been given in past years. The highest score was 99, the lowest, 8, and the medium, 56. Ninety students scored from 91 to 99, and sixty scored 93 or higher. Dr. Summey states that these tests are usually a fairly reliable indication of the individual student's reading habits, his ability to read accurately, and his general information.

WALTON LEAVES FOR LAND GRANT COLLEGE MEET IN WASHINGTON

President T. O. Walton left Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he is attending the annual meeting of the Land Grant College Association, of which he is chairman of the executive board.

H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. & M. The meeting lasts from November 12 through November 17.

Mexican Boys Plan Entertainment to Promote Goodwill

With a definite purpose in view, the students from Mexico have formed a club known as the Club Azteca to give a clearer picture of their country to the American boys at A. & M. To do this, each member will select one of his American friends for every meeting. This does not mean that the meeting will be open to them, but it does mean that a sizeable number of cadets will hear the story of Mexico and its people.

The programs will consist of a short prepared talk of entertainment by one of the members of the Club to be followed by an open discussion. One of the first programs will be a study of Mexican music, classical, popular and Mexico's own jitterbug style. Some of the club members are talented musicians and will furnish the music.

Membership of the Club Azteca is limited to students having Mexican parentage, but the club invites as many visitors as will come. Club officers are Emilio Tamargo, president; C. Gochicoa, vice-president; and F. Ruiz, secretary-treasurer.

Cornell University has a nine-hole golf course that requires the use of every kind of golf club.

Union College has abandoned debating in favor of forum meetings.
