ALL-COLLEGIATE SQUAD PICKED BY COACHES' POLL

Kate Smith, the "Songbird of the South" is shown above with Jim Crowley, head football coach of Fordham University, looking at one of the specially designed and engraved 17-jewel Bulova wrist-watches is 14 kt. gold, presented to the standout gridiron players chosen for the Kate Smith All-Conference football team.

On a recent broadcast of her regular Friday night show the names of the members of the team were announced. They were determined by a direct poll of 500 football coaches throughout the country.

This is the fourth consecutive year of the All-Collegiate poll, which is supervised by an executive board of coaches, whose chairman is Jimmy Crowley, Fordham University mentor. Coach Homer Norton of A. & M. again served on the board this year.

In her telegram to Coach Norton, Kate Smith informed him that Joe Boyd and John Kimbrough, both named on many other All-American teams this year, were outstanding men on her team.

Christmas Spirit—

 round the new dormitory area softly singing to the strains of an accordion played by one of the freshmen.

All last week and this week the various organizations are having their own Christmas parties. These parties are given by the freshmen who get together and give some sort of a program. Then they give presents to the upperclassmen and usually anything that has been missed recently by the upperclassmen will turn up in the form of a present. Usually refreshments are served and everyone has a jolly old time.

The spiritual side of Christmas is not being neglected as many students are attending special Christmas services given by the various churches.

All in all the Aggies should be well prepared to go home and enjoy the holidays to the fullest extent.

Team Ready—

 student tickets remain and that they will be taken off of reserve Wednesday. "There are already more orders on file than there are tickets left and the students should get their tickets as soon as possible," Hooker pointed out.

It has also been announced that any student so desiring may make the trip on the band special at the special rate.

Norton is not planning anything special in the way of an attack against the Wave, but he is expecting to work Dawson and Hauser at tackles during the short practice season in order to have plenty of reserve strength at that position to combat the continuous pounding that Tulane gives the tackles.

Every man on the Aggie squad is in fine condition and the starting lineup will find Smith and Sterling at ends, Pannell and Boyd at tackles, M. Robnett and Henke at guards, Vaughn at center, Price at quarter, Moser and Thomason at halves, and Kimbrough at full.

Records Prove—

 The college livestock judging team stood fourth among the twenty-nine teams competing. Our meats judging team stood sixth, with fifteen colleges competing.

The Animal Husbandry Department showed one Aberdeen-Angus heifer, bred here at the college. This heifer won her class, was reserve junior champion, and sold for $2,000, which is the highest price ever received for a single animal by this college. So far as I know, this was the highest priced female sold at the Exposition.

Very truly yours,
 D. W. Williams
 Head of Department.

Rumors Fly About Kitts' Successor

Houston.—Rumors have been flying thick and fast around Rice Institute, which has dismissed its head football coach, Jimmy Kitts, after one of the most disastrous seasons in the Owls' history.

Kitts brought the Nightbirds their first two Southwest Conference titles in history during his six-year tenure. But 1938, when Rice failed to win a conference game after being boomed for the title, and managed to score their only victory over impotent Centenary, was too much to endure for the powers that be.

The simple statement that Kitts had been "relieved of his duties" came as somewhat of a surprise because the coaching staff had received commendation at the annual banquet of the R Association Wednesday night. A few hours later Lou Hertenberger, line coach for ten years, submitted his resignation, which was accepted. The next day the seven-man committee on outdoor sports announced that Kitts was out, too.

Question of the successor to general Jimmy became more intense than ever. Recent grapevine talk has listed these as some of the candidates: Jess Neely, coach of the Clemson team which plays in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day; Raymond (Bear) Wolf of North

Dr. Jennings Will Represent A. & M.

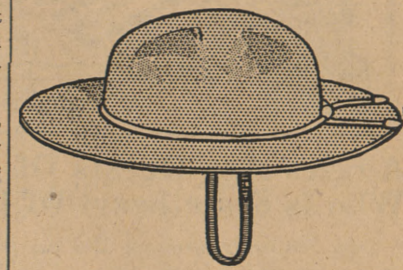

Dr. Walter Jennings, of the Mathematics Department, will represent the college at the forty-sixth annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society, to be held at Ohio State University, December 26-29. The meeting will be in conjunction with the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Dr. Jennings will deliver a paper, "Some Implications of the Continuum Hypothesis," before the Logic and Theory of Sets, section of the Society.

Recently Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Marsteller had as their house guests Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Haring of Berkeley, California. Dr. Haring is the head of the division of veterinary science in the University of California. While on the campus, Dr. Haring visited the School of Veterinary Medicine here and complimented Dr. Marsteller highly on the work that was being done.

It was Hit or Miss in Grandfather's Day

When your grandfather needed tobacco he probably went to the tobacconist in his community and had a lot of fun blending different types of tobacco together and trying out the different mixtures.

HE MAY HAVE FINALLY HIT on a combination of tobaccos that was pretty much to his fancy... that tasted all right to him and wasn't too strong. So the tobacconist, with an eye to future business, would make up this private blend and keep some of it on hand for him.

THIS HIT OR MISS METHOD of tobacco blending was never very satisfactory. But it proved one thing to both smokers and manufacturers, that you must have a blend of tobaccos to get better smoking results, because no one tobacco by itself has all the qualities necessary to a good smoke:

THE CHESTERFIELD tobacco buyers select and bid in at the auction sales the tobacco types that best fit the Chesterfield blend, which is the right combination of exactly the right amounts of Maryland, Burley and Bright with just enough Turkish. These tobaccos and the Chesterfield way of blending them make Chesterfield different from any other cigarette.

THAT IS WHY there are millions of enthusiastic Chesterfield smokers clear across the country. They find Chesterfield COOLER, BETTER-TASTING and DEFINITELY MILD... just what they want for real smoking pleasure. You can't buy a better cigarette.
