The examination this year will be slightly different and possibly some easier than last year's examination in that it will be a general type test throughout and unrelated to any particular one of the eight optional subjects. The main purpose of the examination is to measure the student's general knowledge and ability to adjust himself to his work, Dr. Jones stated. Each student who takes the examinaiton will indicate which of the following fields he would like to enter in case he passes the examination. The fields covered
