looking for a goofy burglar who stole a coat, a curtain and a victrola from a house in that city. Then, either through absent-mindedness or fright, he left his pistol behind when he escaped with the loot.

Only human tracks were visible from a spot where a cow was stolen in Orangesburg, S. C., but a policeman followed them and arrested a suspect who admitted he had put shoes on the cow to mislead pursuers.

Dance Season

The dance, held in the old mess hall, begins at nine o'clock and lasts till twelve. Refreshments, probably punch and cookies, will be served.

Since the plans have already been completed, Marketing and Finance Club members are assured a successful dance. All ex-club members are invited, and present members may invite one guest. The dance will be held in the Banquet Room of the old mess hall from nine till twelve Friday night.

At this dance there may be rivalry between the professors in the department and the many rug-cutting Marketing and Finance majors. The more gray headed of the department do not believe that said students have much chance against members of their own crew. Of course, this remains to be seen. Reports have it that the date problem this year was solved better than expected.

Sugar Bowl

school with the sugar bowl, the committee will present each member of the squad with a gold football that will forever mark him as a member of the nation's number 1 football team of 1939.

The presentation of the Sugar Bowl awards will be made by Herbert Benson, president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association. He will be accompanied by Abe Goldberg, vice-president who is due to succeed Mr. Benson as head of the association; Hap Reilly, publicity chairman of the committee; Fred Digby, sports editor of the New Orleans Item-Tribune, one of the original Sugar Bowlers; Warren Miller, first Sugar Bowl president and organizer; Clarence Straus, secretary of the committee; and Joseph David, treasurer.

The banquet following the Kyle Field ceremony is open to the public, and reservations should be made not later than January 25 through Colonel Ike Ashburn. Those in charge of the banquet expect some 1,500 to attend the banquet to see the victorious Aggies receive their awards, and are laying plans to accommodate that number. It will be held in the old mess hall, and tickets can be purchased at Colonel Ashburn's office for $1.00. The spirit of the dinner will be to express the appreciation of A. & M. College for the fine performance of the coaches and team.

NEW FISH AND GAME COURSE TO BE OFFERED

The board will meet in the following Southern cities on the dates listed below:

Atlanta, Georgia, Feb. 20 to 28. Houston, Texas, Mar. 11 to 20. New Orleans, Mar. 27 to April 4.

Elective Course To Teach Game, Fish Conservation

The Fish and Game department will offer a new course on fish and game starting with the second semester according to notices released by the department recently. The course will be offered to students not majoring in this field, but who desire to know something about these subjects.

The new course will be known as Fish and Game 406. It will constitute a survey of principles of fish and game development. Attention will be given to national problems and public policy in the wildlife field as related to conservation and development of soils, water, range resources, forest and farm lands. Special emphasis will be placed on the need for food and cover if wildlife resources are to be maintained and increased. The course is designed to give a sound but not too detailed insight into wildlife problems to students in engineering, arts and sciences, veterinary medicine and various departments in the school of agriculture.

The course will not be open to majors in fish and game. Only juniors, seniors and graduates in other departments will be admitted. It is felt that every community leader and indeed all intelligent citizens should know something about the important problems in wildlife conservation that are up for solution, and the new course should assist interested students to secure the requisite information and insight.

Cotton Ball

New York and Paris. This year the Agronomy Society plans to have a leading business house in Texas put on the style show. A completely new floor show with new talent will also be featured.

Proof of the quality of the style show and pageant is the noticeable amount of national recognition they have received by virtue of past performances. Many important figures will attend this year's festivities. Among them will be Oscar Johnson, president of the National Cotton Council. He has consented to crown the king. Mr. Johnson, who has an international as well as national reputation, is also president and director of the world's largest cotton plantation, the Delta and Pine Land Company of Scott, Mississippi.

As usual the profits from the festivities will be used to send three Agronomy seniors, selected by competitive examinations, on a tour of foreign countries.

Virginia snakes just can't take it, it seems. A poisonous copperhead bit J. B. Cash twice and then fell dead. Cash cleaned the bitten places with kerosene and lived.

Naval Aviation Board To Visit Texas May 8-15

According to information released by the Navy Department, a board of naval officers from the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Florida, will tour the Southern States starting in February, for the purpose of examining and selecting candidates for naval aviation training. This board is headed by Lieutenant A. Laverents, war-time aviator, with long experience in selecting and training aviation students. He is accompanied by Lieutenant Commander W. W. Davies, a foremost authority on aviation medicine, who conducts the physical examinations.

The board will meet in the following Southern cities on the dates listed below: Atlanta, Georgia, Feb. 20 to 28. Houston, Texas, Mar. 11 to 20. New Orleans, Mar. 27 to April 4. Oklahoma City, Okla., April 10 to 17. Jacksonville, Florida, April 24 to May 1. Dallas, Texas, May 8 to 15.

Due to the immediate expansion of naval aviation, Lieutenant Laverents states that all candidates who can meet the requirements have an excellent chance of being ordered to this duty. He strongly urges any one interested in this unusual aviation opportunity to write to the Senior Member, Naval Reserve Flight Selection Board, at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Florida.
