Pistol Team
the Bayou Club. You will notice it back in the glass case in the Academic Building.

To keep the boys in practice and on their toes, Captain Enslow requires them to fire competition among themselves to decide which of them will compose the team for the week. Six men compose a team, five of them to shoot and one reserve.

One of the good points about the pistol team is that it can fire matches with schools all over the country and never leave school or miss a day's classes. The two schools in competition agree to fire on a certain day and compare scores. A member of each faculty acts as witness and each mails the other the results. But the boys do get to make trips. This year the boys have accepted invitations to Galveston, Houston, and to Austin to fire against the State Police; and have already defeated the Kaufman Trophy and taken a number of medals.

Last year the team encountered 21 colleges and universities throughout the nation, defeating 20 of that number. This year the team has again challenged these teams and a few more besides. Their schedule for the next few months, as far as it is completed, runs as follows:

Week ending February 24—Pennsylvania State College, Ohio State University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard University.

Week ending March 2—Illinois University, Arkansas State College, Xavier University.

Week ending March 9—Cornell University, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

Week ending March 16—Yale University, Colorado State College, Purdue University.

Week ending March 23—Oklahoma University.

Week ending March 30—St. Bonaventure College.

Week ending April 6—Iowa State College.

Week ending April 13—Michigan State College, University of Utah.

Week ending April 27—University of Wisconsin.

Also deserving of praise is the little-mentioned freshman team, which shoots every week just as does the varsity, and has the possibility of shooting fully well. The following named men have been deemed eligible to fire on the freshman squad: F. D. Albritton, J. T. Chapman, R. T. Cook, J. E. Handy, J. G. Korman, T. K. Pierce, J. L. Robertson, G. R. Thenn.

Judges for National Youth Contest Named
WACO, Texas.—Dr. Max Reiter, Cobby de Stivers and Prof. James Thomson, leaders in Baylor University's Waco Symphony orchestra, have been named judges for Central Texas district competition for places in the National Youth orchestra which will tour South America under the direction of Leopold Stokowski.

The district competition, among young people from 22 countries, will be held on the Baylor campus February 15. Winners will go to Austin for state eliminations and winners there to New York for competition judged by Stokowski himself.

All music students from 16 to 25 years of age are eligible.

student and no educational value to the institution."

A report by Dr. Alvan E. Duerr, chairman of the scholarship committee of the conference, showed that for the tenth successive year fraternity men had surpassed non-fraternity students in scholarship in 178 American colleges and universities. A total of 86,132 undergraduate fraternity men in 2,338 chapters were included in the scholastic record.

"This exemplifies one of the real values of fraternity to the educational institutions: it furnishes a cohesive and interacting group which can be made responsive to any influence brought to bear on its members, a fulcrum altogether missing in the relations that faculty and administration have with non-fraternity men," Mr. Duerr said.

Traveling Aggies

On arriving at the camp, we were greeted by about twenty Arabs with their "Siedas" which means hello, good morning, good night, or goodbye in Arabic. The twenty Arabs, we later found out, were our cook, waiters, drivers, rodmen, and general flunkies. We had trouble training the drivers and rodmen to be much help, but later they did well enough.

While camped near Suez we would take a sail boat across the canal to Port Taufic and then take a train into Suez and see an American movie. The talking at the movies would of course be in English, but a screen to one side carried the dialog in Arabic, French, and Greek.

Egypt is a very cosmopolitan country. There are people from every country here and consequently every language is spoken. Most everyone knows at least three languages; fortunately English is one of them. Languages as they are spoken most are Arabic, English, French, Greek, German, and occasionally Russian. One of the

George Barnes, Former Aggie Gridiron Star, Heads Fort Worth Baby Beef Show

George W. Barnes has spent more than a quarter of a century striving to improve beef cattle in the Southwest.

The fruits of his work are shown each year at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and every day on the ranges of the cattle country.

Since 1923, Barnes has been cattle specialist with the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. A year after joining the extension staff, Barnes became superintendent of the boys' baby beef show at the exposition. In that connection his work is with the farm boys who will be the adult exhibitors at livestock shows tomorrow.

"The 1940 show will have some of the best calves the 4-H Club boys have ever exhibited," Barnes has informed the show management. "Last year many visitors made the remark that the boys' beef show could not be improved upon, but I do believe that it will be better than ever this year."

Barnes is a native of Coleman County and a graduate of Texas A. & M. He was a member of the extension service staff of Oklahoma A. & M. from 1912 to 1914. The following two years he was with the extension service of the University of Arizona. From 1916 to 1923 he was manager of the Perrin Land and Cattle Company of Seligman, Arizona.

Europeans working with us spoke these seven languages besides being an electrical engineer.

During our work along the canal we worked the old World War battlefields and found the remains of the old trenches and great masses of barbed wire entanglements, also thousands of duds. One of our California boys, a confirmed pacifist, brought in a couple of 155 mm. duds. He had loaded them into a pick-up and bounced over fifteen or twenty miles of rough sand!

AGGIE SENIORS, COACH HONORED AT AUSTIN DINNER

The senior members of the 1939 Aggie football squad and Coach Homer Norton were honored at a banquet at the Driskill Hotel in Austin Saturday night.

Included in the entertainment were the pictures of the Sugar Bowl game played in New Orleans on New Year's Day between A. & M. and Tulane.

Senior members on the squad who were present included Walemon "Cotton" Price, quarterback; Herb Smith, end; and Joe Boyd, All-American tackle. John Kimbrough, the All-American fullback, was also at the banquet.

There were 300 grid fans at the banquet in this city, home of the Aggies' most hostile rivals.

Works With Youths

He is the boys' sponsor in the raising of better beef—George W. Barnes, superintendent of the boys' baby beef show at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show since 1924. Barnes also is beef cattle specialist at Texas A. & M. College.

When a student at A. & M., Barnes was a star football player in the position of right tackle. His friends remember him as a stalwart of the gridiron back in the days when brawn counted for more than deceptive plays.
