Vance Serves On Committee to Plan Association Meet

Varied technical and operating problems of the oil industry will be discussed before the annual spring meeting of the Southwestern District, Division of Production, of the American Petroleum Institute, in Houston, Thursday and Friday, March 28 and 29.

Professor Harold Vance, head of the Petroleum Engineering Department of A. & M., is a member of the program committee planning the convention. Delegates from Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, and New Mexico will attend.

Among subjects to be discussed will be gravel packing oil wells in the Gulf Coast fields; paraffin removal from tubing in flowing wells; development of changing concepts of the fundamentals of oil production; supervisory training; artificial lift methods; oil development and production practices; causes, prevention and recovery of stuck drill pipe; limitations of electrical logging; comparison between electrical well logging and core analysis, and gun perforation and acidization in open formation of the limestone pays in the Permian Basin.

A style show and boat trip to San Jacinto are among special features planned for visiting ladies.

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY, WACO, has the world's largest collection of the works of the English poet, Robert Browning, and the second largest Texas History collection.

The Labor Board has been having a tough time explaining that it is impartial and whether it is more impartial toward the A. F. of L. or the C. I. O.

Oberlin College has a Pullman car named after it.

University to Observe "Uncle Billy Disch Day" in Honor of Baseball Coach

Ceremonies honoring one of the Southwest's most illustrious baseball figures will be held in Austin on April 4, a day designated as "Uncle Billy Disch Day" at the University of Texas.

William J. Disch, the honor guest, has given the university 20 Southwest conference crowns during his 30 years of coaching at Texas for a remarkable average of .666 in batting in winners. Surrounded by big-leaguers who got their start under him at the university, exes, students, and fans, the gray-haired veteran will be accorded a brief honorary ceremony during the afternoon as he starts his 1940 campaign. The ceremonies will precede the Texas-Southern Methodist University game.

A huge pennant symbolizing Coach Disch's string of victories will be presented during the ceremonies. It is a gift of F. T. "Star" Baldwin of Houston who at one time played on Disch-coached Texas team. Bibb Falk of Austin, Uncle Disch's most famous graduate, who was for years an American League star with Chicago and Cleveland, has been asked to assist Coach Disch in accepting the flag. Falk also has been named captain of the lettermen for the day.

Herman C. Pipkin of Amarillo, president of the ex-students' association, will open the ceremonies with a brief address of welcome. Following the game a banquet for Coach Disch will be given in the Texas Union.

Prominent Disch-men who received the "old man's" brand of baseball fundamentals and sportsmanship are: Pinkey Higgins, Detroit third-baseman; Oscar Eckhardt, former big-leaguer now with the American Association; Ernie Koy of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Joe Ellis, Dick Midkiff, "Tink" Reviere, Norman Branch, and "Potsy" Allen.

Cotton Field Leaders Will Meet in Waco

World Congress Is Planned at Meeting Held Here Recently

The world's outstanding authorities on cotton will gather at Waco June 27, 28 and 29 for a cotton research congress under sponsorship of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, it has been decided at a meeting held at College Station recently, attended by committee members who outlined a complete program.

A. B. Conner, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will be chairman of the cotton research congress and authorities from all over the world will be invited to attend the meeting.

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, will be program chairman for the first day's discussions June 27 which will be devoted to the future of the Texas cotton industry. These discussions will be on such subjects as the United States cotton policy, what it has been and what it should be; production of cotton in foreign countries and a discussion of consumption of both American and foreign-grown cotton. The future of the Texas cotton industry will be discussed by the foreign and domestic cotton experts.

The second day's program under direction of Dr. L. P. Gabbard, chief of the division of farm and ranch economics of the Experiment Station, will be set aside for discussion of production, harvesting, ginning and marketing of cotton. Particular stress will be placed on means of cutting the unit cost of production to enable producers to obtain maximum returns and to enable American growers to compete with others in world production costs.

Dr. E. P. Schoch, director of the bureau of industrial chemistry, University of Texas, Austin, will be chairman of the third day's program, June 29.

The Upsilon Iota (Mich.) Normal College has the first building constructed especially for the training of teachers of handicapped children.

Seen "somewhere in the United States" last Wednesday afternoon at 12:24 o'clock—

A young man walking in his shirt sleeves, whistling a merry tune.

A slightly older man putting fishing tackle into his car and starting off for a nearby stream.

An elderly man sitting on his front porch, drawing slowly on his pipe, resting easily in pleasant weather.

A young woman, down town shopping, picking out the newest things for Easter.

A middle-aged woman, hanging up curtains, dusting—doing the work which comes but once a year.

An elderly woman, also sitting on the porch, resting and watching her husband smoke his pipe.

Why? All because SPRING hit the United States—"everywhere"—at 12:24 Wednesday afternoon (Central Standard Time).

An early Spring portrait of the WILLIAM BLAKES

MILLY'S HUSBAND said he'd throttle her if she ever tried to buy him another shirt or tie. But Milly was a woman, and last Tuesday evening when Blake arrived home with a package under his arm, Milly had a tidy, little package for him, too.

MILLY GIGGLED, "William, especially for Spring, I bought you the latest thing in shirts. I know it is the latest, because the clerk said it was." William said, "That, my dear Milly, is not even remotely possible. I just bought the latest in shirts."

"MY SHIRT," he continued, "has a brand-new pattern... a combination of single and double stripes. It has the new soft shade of gray. It has an Arrow collar. It has an Arrow tie and handkerchief, please note, made especially to go with it. And..."

"AND," INTERRUPTED MILLY, "It is called ARROW AROLYN. It is the same shirt, darling, I bought, only I picked blue, you picked gray." "By gally, you're right," cried William. "Before I throttle you, suppose I take you to the movies."

COME IN TODAY to Arrow headquarters, and see this handsome new shirt... Arrow Arolyn. It comes in several handsome colors and costs just $2. Ties are $1; handkerchiefs, 35c; and Arrow's seamless-crotch shorts to complete the outfit, 65c.
