Sugar Bowl—

 cents, and only one in the first place, it's the only one in existence today and its value as an antique—not even considering its tradition—is not an inconsiderable amount.

It was a hundred and ten years ago that the trophy was made during the reign of King George IV and it bears the hall mark of that period. Then too, the trophy is made of sterling silver and, logically enough, the Athletic Council can't see eye-to-eye with any policy which might make the Sugar Bowl the thieving target of anyone who might not have the best interests of the college at heart.

The original Sugar Bowl is retained by the winning team throughout the following year and is then returned to the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association for the next competition. As a permanent memento, however, an exact replica of the bowl is presented to the winning team and this, when it is received, will be on continued display.

Corps Dance—

As to something about Weeks himself let it be said that he stayed on the campus of the University of California just long enough to register for his freshman year. One day was sufficient to convince Anson that he had another destiny in life. He eloped with his childhood sweetheart and thereby took his first step toward becoming one of America's favorite dance bands.

Since then Anson Weeks has been the personification of a success story. Six years at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco was one of his first triumphs and since then he has broadcast under the sponsorship of Lucky Strike Cigarettes on a program over NBC. The St. Regis Hotel in New York, the Trianon Ballroom of Chicago, and the Aragon Ballroom of the same city have also engaged Anson to entertain their patrons.

But all this is past history and the present cry is now, "Let's go dancin' with Anson."

Editorial Expression— From Page 1

Station and Bryan have arraigned themselves against the monopolistic contract which for so many years has dictated that the community of College Station may not have a moving picture until 45 days after it has appeared in Bryan.
 Even the regular waiters in A. & M.'s two world's largest dining halls have aligned themselves in support of the Aggies against the high-pressure theater discrimination to which the Aggies have so long submitted.
 Probably never before in the entire history of the college has feeling been so unanimous, spirit so high.
 After years of pleading and arguments the cadet corps has given up such futile efforts and is acting.
 Eventually the animal that is cornered will turn and fight its oppressor.
 So have the Aggies. And they have the spirit to win, whether it takes them two weeks or two years.
