LAST FACULTY DANCE
 The last Faculty Dance for the current season will be held in the Sbis Hall Banquet Room Monday, May 6, from 9 to 12 p. m. The date has had to be advanced over that previously due to student demand for the Banquet Room.

This dance will be the SPRING INFORMAL and it is suggested that very informal sports wear be the dress keynote with sports clothes of any type being worn, and slacks suits for men—cotton dresses for ladies, or any other very cool attire, being quite satisfactory. The wearing of sports clothes is merely a suggestion and if for any reason it is more convenient to attend in other attire by all means do so.

All staff members of the college are cordially invited to come and bring their friends. It is hoped that a large number of couples will find it possible to be present.

ENGLISH CONTEST

4. Each examination will include high-value questions that will test the student's ability to organize and develop short papers, with enough options in subject matter to allow for differences of training and special interests.

5. The examination will be held in the Library classroom (third floor) between 6:50 and 9:30 p. m. on Thursday, May 9. All who are admitted to and actually attend the examination are invited to attend the Mathematics-English Contest dinner at 9:30 on Tuesday, May 21, tickets for which will be furnished without charge.

Movie Campaign—

spirit and stating it will never yield until our demand is granted."

Administrative officers and faculty members are maintaining a hands-off policy, said Colonel Ike Ashburn, executive assistant to President T. O. Walton, who is ill. They feel that the affair is one for the students to handle and one in which they cannot interfere properly, he said, adding that Ashburn said the officials could not order the students to go to Bryan, but that they regret they took the boycott route.

View of Townspeople
 Bryan merchants declined to talk for publication, but indicated that they felt the faculty should take a firmer attitude against the movement. The townspeople's belief that faculty members are almost all in sympathy with the students seems entirely correct.

Students and merchants apparently have made up their minds to sit tight, although Bryan businessmen would like to see a settlement reached. Clothing and drugstores particularly have suffered from the lack of student trade.

Plans were announced two years ago by Mrs. Schulman for building a movie theater in a new addition on the highway close to the campus. Legal and financial difficulties arose, Mrs. Schulman said, adding that she never intended the theater to be a first-run show and never so announced. The sign on Mrs. Schulman's lot announcing plans for a movie still stands, to the irritation of the students.

In the town of College Station, at the campus North Gate, A. P. Boyett, former Aggie, has built a movie theater. V. A. Walker, the manager, was reported in Dallas Wednesday trying to arrange for films. His assistant, C. E. Lewis, said the show would open soon. He didn't know whether first-run films would be available. Mrs. Schulman said she was approached to take over the theater but declined. She said she could not operate a first-run show at College Station as long as the Y.M.C.A. operated a second-run show on the campus.

Picketing Stopped
 During the first few days of the boycott students appeared in town apparently watching for classmates who might go to the Bryan shows. This practice was dropped after Ashburn, beloved by students, suggested it might be considered picketing and bordering on intimidation.

"A committee of students demanded that I give them a first-run show at the college," Mrs. Schulman said. She explained that she could not do that without giving up her contract with film distributors in Bryan, which she said she could not do because of her investment.

"The administrative officials are in entire sympathy with the boys in their objective," said Ashburn. "They regret the boys felt it was necessary to follow the course they have followed, but frankly they knew of no other recourse they might take to bring about the desired results—movies of current-run pictures on or near the campus. Our chief concern has been to preserve a neighborly relationship between the college and Bryan."

Mrs. Schulman said the merchants in Bryan feel that the faculty is sponsoring the strike and that while the movement is aimed at her, the whole town is being boycotted.

The boycott has not been entered into by persons not conducted with the college living at College Station, according to E. E. Yeager, president of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce.

Bryan merchants are suffering, D. L. Wilson, chamber secretary, admitted. He said the feeling exists that the students want the merchants to put pressure on Mrs. Schulman to accede to their demands, while the merchants so far have no disposition to do.

"Merchants have done nothing definite, expecting the boycott would blow over," said Wilson. "They think the whole affair is unjust to them, since they are not in the picture business."

Go 20 Miles For Movie
 Some students hitchhike to Navasota, twenty miles away, and to Hearne, twenty-five miles, to see movies, which is a further irritant to Bryan merchants. Reports were heard in Bryan that students for a time advised College Station residents not to attend Bryan movies and also that the A. & M. military organization is being used by the leaders to enforce the boycott. Varner denied that these practices have been followed.

Talk on the campus was that the boycott will be carried along as an Aggie tradition if Bryan businessmen are unable to find a seniors Woody Varner, Jack Bibbs, and J. E. Copeland; and juniors W. L. Mayfield, J. P. Ledbetter, and A. V. Hamilton.

This committee is to make its report on the advisability of the rating system to the Welfare group at a special meeting soon to be called. If the rating scale as set up by this group is recommended by the Welfare Committee, the plan is to go to the faculty for consideration and final adoption.

All students are being urged to express their opinions of the plan and the rating scale to the members of the sub-committee making the study, in order that it may be made as accurate and just as possible.

Proponents of the plan express the opinion that it should afford opportunities for more students to handle the positions open; should create incentive for more students to run for these offices; and should afford greater time for study and recreation to all the student leaders.

Also to come in for discussion was the present state of the moving picture campaign being waged by the student body. Cadet Colonel Varner and other student members of the committee stated emphatically that there is no pressure being brought to bear to prevent any student from going to Bryan for ordinary business; and that the campaign is not directed against the merchants of Bryan but only against the discriminatory theater enterprise.

Varner expressed confidence in the ultimate success of the movement. Numerous motion picture distributors of Dallas, he said, have been to College Station for conferences with local leaders, and he said that they are in sympathy with the purpose of the movement.

Yell-Leaders—

Over 700 members of the two classes were assembled in Guion Hall for the meeting which was held under the direction of Cadet Colonel Woody Varner. Each candidate was given the same opportunity to appear before the meeting and give a demonstration of his ability to hold the post. No discussion was entered into by members of the two classes.

Staley, petroleum engineering student, is a member of E Engineers. Beck, majoring in straight agriculture, is a member of the Field Artillery Band. Both junior yell leaders pledged themselves to full cooperation with senior yell leaders, the A. & M. football team, and the student body.

They will be introduced to the corps at a yell practice to be held before the end of May.
