about 25 offers, mainly to teach that subject, with men with knowledge of the metal trades most in demand.

Horticulture graduates, numbering 13, have been placed with commercial vegetable farms as managers and two of them are going to operate their own farms. Landscape art had four candidates and all of them are placed, one already in business before he completed the course.

A total of 42 of the graduates expect to continue their education by enrolling in law or medicine courses at other schools. Others are going into the field of research.

Other departments placing all of the graduates include: Physics 1; English 2; education 4; physical education 4; and biology 7.

Departments placing more than 75 per cent of their graduates and their percentage include: Dairy husbandry 91%; fish and game conservation 80%; agricultural economics 75%; economics 89%; animal husbandry 96%; entomology 77%; and poultry husbandry 75%.

Several of the graduates unplaced and not intending to continue their college education have indicated that they intend to apply for active duty with the United States Army or Marine Corps. Several others have placed applications for admission to Randolph Field as flying cadets. All of those applying for military service completed their courses in military science and tactics and will receive commissions in the Officers Reserve Corps upon graduation.

Class of '41 Elects—

also decided that senior hats would be worn with the boots in all cases.

A vote was called to decide the wearing of light khaki pants in the warmer months, but it was recalled when it was learned that if passed, the order would make their use imperative. According to a statement from the President's Office, the khaki pants would be replaced similar to the way khaki shirts replace serge shirts at drill now. In view of dissenting opinion, president Tom Richey appointed a committee to further investigate the matter and report their findings to the class next week, when the matter would be put to another and deciding vote.

SENIORS' FORWARDING ADDRESSES

All seniors are requested to leave a forwarding address with the College Station Post Office before graduation.

he plays for his audiences. People who come to hear him get what they want to hear and not what he wants to play, whether it be swing or sweet romantic tunes.

Dolly Dawn, who said that she likes radio and night clubs but prefers college proms, is also somewhat of a title holder herself. In 1937 and again in 1938 she received the Orchestra World Achievement Award as the vocalist who did most for the advancement of popular music via radio and stage.

Her phonograph records are tops in popularity on the coin phonographs, and as a vocalist on phonograph records she has outlasted even Bing Crosby.

ARTISTS NEEDED FOR '41 BATTALION STAFF

All men who delight in "doodling" while the prof spouts his spiel are invited to meet with Bob Nisbet, next year's Battalion editor, and Pete Tumlison, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 in room 122 of the Administration Building. An attempt is being made to organize a large art staff so that each man will have no more to do than is entirely within his ability. You do not have to possess a great deal of talent—the only requirement is a desire to do a little drawing. So come one, come all, and join up!
