

Dean Puryear Was the Father of Football At A. & M.; Was Manager of Team in 1893

Dean Charles Puryear, who passed away last week, was the father of football at A. & M. Texas Aggie football history began in 1893 when the Maroon and White team was organized, but no games with out-of-town teams were scheduled. In 1894 the Aggies played games with out-of-town teams, including the University of Texas, for the first time. Charles Puryear, who became a faculty member in 1899, was the first manager. When the Aggies won the national title last fall Dean Puryear was probably the most interested. He was able to give football its start and it was certainly fitting that he should live to see his team reach the peak.

After the Campus Cleaners had moved into a tie for first place with a win and a forfeit last week, they were set down 4 and 2 by Lipscomb Monday night to put them a full game behind with only an outside chance to tie Pugh's Pharmacists. If Lipscomb is upset in their remaining game with Bizzell Thursday night, the Cleaners could tie for first by defeating Seaboard which is their last game.

Campus Theater finished out their schedule with 5 wins placing them in second place. Bill Wahl's Hispano Club disbanded yielding forfeits to the Cleaners, Faculty, and the Theater. Seaboard Life, whose manager, Satch Elkins, has been ill, forfeited a game to Agronomy.

After yielding three hits which scored Hawthorne and Netherland in the first frame, Lipscomb's pitcher set the Cleaners down with no more hits. Only two men got on base, one in the second and one in the seventh, both as a result of errors.

Maxie Bloodworth gave up only three hits and two walks, but 2 hits, a walk, and two infield errors in Lipscomb's half of the second inning saw Price, Handley, Pickett, and Smith spike the plate to provide winning margin. Lipscomb picked up another tally in the fifth when Barton carried in one of the only two games played a contract to play Wallace Wade's Duke Blue Devils at Durham, N. C., Oct. 10, 1942. Duke should be back with a great team by then. The Aggies are also to play the Army in the East at an unannounced place and date in 1943.

A. G. "Bert" Pfaff of the class of '25 is the new president of the Association of Former Students. For the past 10 years Bert has been one of the most active members of the alumni group in assisting the Aggie athletic program. For four years he was a member of the Athletic Council. He is a true Aggie and certainly has the school at heart.

Anthony T. "Tony" Polanovich, '39, announces the legal change of his name from the above to Anthony T. Pall. I'll bet you two to one that she made him change his name before she would change hers.

This may be the last column this writer will ever write for The Battalion. Hub Johnson is due back after camp and will take over from then on. I started writing for this rag back in 1935 and it is going to be a hard job to stay away.

Unclassified — IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

BY MARGARET HOLLINGSHEAD

One of the first requirements of a column is that it have a name. And not just any name, or a different name each week so that any one objecting to its contents would not know where to lay the blame, but a name to more or less warn the reader of what he's getting into, sort of descriptive of the subject matter. Well, some one finally decided what this column is about, so here in the last issue for the first term it has a permanent name—as permanent as the column, that is.

An enthusiastic crowd turned out for the swimming meet last Friday night which was as interesting for the participants as for the spectators, just as we predicted it would be. The turnout was quite satisfactory, although it seems a shame the women are so shy—they steered clear of the diving altogether, and their free style event turned out to be a solo by the one entrant, Florence Hollingshead. Summer sports director Luke Harrison promises another swimming meet next term, and also another tennis tournament, with all present invited to join-up. And speaking of tennis, the first tournament is drawing to a close this week; in the men's singles, Fernandez plays Kraemer in the semi-finals, and Terrell or Lynch will play Coughlin or Mayberry. In the men's doubles, the teams in the semilast week, Earle Hawthorne's Campus blasted Maurice Bryant's Bizzell Hall boys ten to two. Eight hits and as many errors by the dorm boys gave the Cleaners their margin. Bloodworth, Bony, and Hawthorne accounted for 2 runs apiece, one of Bloodworth's being a homerun. Bloodworth was also the pitching star giving up only 4 hits and 5 walks. Three of the hits came in the final frame and accounted for both of Bizzell's runs.

In the other game Jimmie Davis Campus Cleaners pounded out a 10 to 4 win over Phil Golman's Aggie Pharmacy in a short five inning fray. Simpson held the Pharmacists to six hits and four walks while the Theater boys were toughing Putsejousky for 12 hits and a walk. Schoumack, Theater left fielder, walked and doubled twice for a perfect day, scoring 3 runs.

The remaining games, according to Director Luke Harrison, will put the Aggie Pharmacy and Faculty on Tuesday, and Cleaners vs. Seaboard, and Lipscomb vs. Bizzell on Thursday.

Plans are already being worked out for the second term league which should be even better than the first term league now drawing to a close. Anyone interested in playing ball next term should contact Director Harrison as soon as possible.

finals when this was written are Kresdorn and Fernandez, and Farrow and Kraemer. Betty Shelton and Bob Cockrell have dropped out of the mixed doubles, and up to now no games have been played in that division.

The week of the 4-H Club invasion was one of the warmest so far this summer, but it didn't seem to bother the visitors very noticeably—the ever-present baseball games went on incessantly, and the swimming pool made as great a hit as the mess hall—almost. Monday afternoon saw 500 boys enjoying the cool water. An outstanding item noticed by many during the six days of the short course was the cheerfulness and courtesy of the enlisted men who directed traffic about the campus—not an easy job, by any means.

From the Odd News department: The sun-tan situation is getting darker and darker—lifeguard Ned Ewing is about to catch up with the conceded leader, Fred Renaud, who is trying to stay ahead of several young ladies. Fencing team captain Tom Akarman has a real reason for getting one—he plays tennis to develop a toast color in preparation for a life-guard job on a New Jersey beach for the rest of the summer. . . . Walter Gannett's favorite exercise is walking, all around the countryside as well as here and there to class—ordinary enough so far, but not many of us prefer our walking barefooted. . . . and Art Rider has been nominated as the diver who makes the most amazing faces on the way down. . . . every swimmer should read the article in the last issue of Reader's Digest concerning the cause and prevention of ear and sinus trouble; they come not from the water, but from carelessness on the part of the swimmer.

And that seems to be all until next term—good luck to those who need it, good-bye and happy holidays to the rest.

First Semester Swimming Meet Sees Record Crowd

More talented splashing than usual filled the swimming pool last Friday night as the first swimming meet of the summer was held. Promoted by Luke Harrison, summer sports director, and managed by swimming coach A. D. Adamson, it attracted a large audience and set an excellent precedent for future meets.

Those taking first and second places in the events are as follows: Junior girls' free style, one width of the pool; first place, Sue Scofield, 13.4 seconds; second place, Shirley Holmgren; Junior boys' free style, one width; first place, Hugh Shelton, 12.4 seconds; second place, Van Adamson; intermediate girls' free style, one length of the pool; first place, Carol McFadden, 20.6 seconds; second place, Cynthia Lancaster; intermediate boys' free style, one length; first place, Jack Beezley, 17.8 seconds; second place, Bobby Scofield; intermediate boys' back stroke, one length; first place, Bobby Scofield, 34.4 seconds; second place, Jack Beezley; women's free style, one length; the only entrant was Florence Hollingshead, who swam it in 21.7 seconds; men's free style, one length; first place, D. J. Davis, 16.2 seconds; second place, Chester McDaniels; men's back stroke, one length; first place, D. J. Davis.

21.8 seconds; second place, G. E. Turner; men's diving; first place, Roland Nunn; second place, Alan McCorquodale; third place, Guy Hill.

The judges were W. L. Penberthy, Fred Renaud, and Bob Taylor; starter was Ned Ewing; announcer, A. D. Adamson; clerk, Luke Harrison; timer, E. C. Oates; and diving judges; Penberthy, Taylor, and Ewing.

Twelve works of art by ten American artists have been acquired for the permanent collection of the University of Nebraska.
