BEAT LIPSCOMB 3-2 IN TILT FRIDAY NIGHT

Cleaners, Bizzell Hall And Pharmacists Loom As Teams To Beat Next Term

By Sunny Campbell
Earle Hawthorne's Campus Cleaners came through when the chips were down to win the first term Twilight League Championship and 3rd place in the District Softball Tourney held in Bryan. They edged out Pugh's Lipscomb Pharmacists 3-2 Friday night.

The Pharmacists were virtually champs after having defeated the Cleaners previously, but Maurice Bryant's surprising Bizzell Hall boys slipped up and patted them 8 to 5, knocking them back into a tie with the Cleaners, who received a forfeit from Seaboard Life.

Both the Cleaners and the Pharmacists were defeated in the semi-finals of the tournament in Bryan, and by mutual agreement decided to let their play-off for 3rd place in the tournament count as the Twilight League Championship play-off.

With 2 out in the first, Bosco Netherlands walked and scored on Robert's homerun to give the Cleaners a 2-run lead.

The Cleaners picked up another run when Grady Elms, who had signed, scored on Netherlands' scratch hit. After little Maxie Bloodworth held the Pharmacists to two scratch hits and a double through the first five frames, Lipscomb picked up a tally in the sixth when Audish, safe by error, scored on Marion Pugh's screaming drive that was dropped by the Cleaners' short fielder.

In the first of the seventh Hay doubled and Barry was safe on error, but both died on base. Going into the last of the seventh only 5 runs down, the Pharmacists fell one man short. Handley was safe on an infield mis-cue, and went to third on Jim Carden's single. Ogdée lifted a long fly to deep left which was labled for a homer, but for a beautiful catch by Dan Kelly. The drive scored Handley, but Carden died on third as Stump grounded out.

Kelly not only pulled the fielding gem of the night, but hit three for three. Extra base hits included Holbert's homerun and doubles by Hay and Barry of the Cleaners and D. Carden of Lipscomb.

Most teams have added strength for the second semester, and at this writing it appears that the champion Cleaners, Lipscomb, and Bizzell Hall will be the teams to will meet the Green Bay Packers in Chicago August 29. He is in first place with Nick Cutlich of Northwestern running a close second.

It is certain that Joe will get enough votes to place him on the team and if he does it is assumed that his employer will allow him the time off so that he may participate.

The football players who are attending the second term of summer school are Jim Thomason, All-Conference back; Tommie Vaughn, senior center; J. R. Sterling, junior end; and Marion Pugh, senior quarterback.

Coach Homer Norton will be back next week. He will be around a few days before going to Austin for the Texas High School Football Association's coaching school. Norton will be the head instructor at the school and will coach the Southern All-Stars in the North-South game. After that he will return to College and get ready for the A. & M. coaching school.

Coach Harry Faulkner went to Galveston last week-end and ended up eating breakfast with orchestra leader Glen Gray who was playing at the Hollywood Club. Harry had a lot of trouble finding a room there. He said he thought everyone in Texas took that week to go to Galveston.

Col. Moore estimates that A. & M. will be allowed about 1,000 contracts for juniors and seniors enrolled in the advanced courses in M. S. & M. When he came to A. & M. there were only 515 contracts, but last year we had over 900. It is thought by military authorities that if a boy has completed his basic R.O.T.C. work that he will not be required to take the compulsory military training now being considered by Congress.

TERM TOURNEYS TO BEGIN SOON; WOMEN URGED TO SIGN UP

Extra-curricular activities are as important for summer school students as for those of the long term, and at A. & M. those along the sports line rank high. Softball tournaments have been popular for several years, and now the tennis and swimming contests, begun last summer, promise to become equally important.

The tennis tournament for the second term will start as soon as possible. Entry blanks were out during registration Monday morning, and may be turned in at the Y.M.C.A. in the small box on top of the mail box just outside the chapel door. Extra blanks will be beside the box. So far there has been an excellent turn-out among the men, but not very many women have been playing, and it is urged that more of them sign up for the women's and mixed doubles classes. Entry blanks should be turned in by Sunday night, July 28. The first term tournament ended with X. H. Fernandez defeating P. O. Mayberry for the men's singles championship, and Fernandez and A. H. Kresdorn carrying off the championship in the

First Course In Range Management Completed Here

The first class in Range Management ever offered at Texas A. & M. was recently completed in the Department of Agronomy and established some interesting records.

Half of the class of sixteen were mature and established professional workers who came back into this course to get a type of training badly needed in their professional work. Five of these men are in the employ of the Soil Conservation Service, one is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; one with the State Fish, Game, and Oyster Commission, and one is a vocational agriculture teacher; two others are graduate assistants in this institution, and of the remainder; three are graduate students and three undergraduate students.

Although Texas is an enormous state, men in this class represented every section of Texas, as well as other states. One student was from El Paso, approximately 800 miles west of College Station. One headquarters at Perryton, approximately 600 miles north of College Station. Another headquarters at Victoria, 180 miles south, and his professional territory reaches to the Mexican border. One of the graduate students was from East Texas and another from New Iberia, Louisiana, about 450 miles East of College Station.

Seven colleges or universities other than Texas A. & M. were represented by this group. The institutions where these men took their undergraduate work ranged from Colorado State College on the west to the University of Missouri on the north and Mississippi State College on the east, with other state institutions and other Texas colleges in between.

The Instructor, Dr. W. C. McGinnies, Chief of Range Research, Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station was from Tucson, Arizona. His wide experience, together with the background and experience of this group of students, contributed greatly to making the course a valuable and effective one.

A field trip for range management studies was made to Gatesville in Corvell County where a number of ranches were visited and a 3,200 acre ranch was studied in detail. The vegetation on every pasture was carefully investigated and analyzed and a complete range management program for that ranch was developed on the basis of its forage producing ability.

Norton to Lecture To 400 High School Coaches at Austin

Austin, Texas, July 25.—This capital city is preparing to entertain the biggest football coaching school in the world and enjoy the first football game of the season, come August 5-10.

The Texas High School Football Coaches Association will hold its annual gridiron clinic on University of Texas premises during that period, and as usual the school will wind up with an all-star football game between his school seniors of north and south Texas. House Park, Austin high school's lighted field, will be the game site on Saturday night, August 10.

A week of entertainment as well as instruction has been promised the 400-odd coaches expected to hear Texas A. & M.'s Homer Norton and Texas Christian's Leo "Dutch" Meyer lecture on their favorite formations.

Coaches respectively of national championship teams in '39 and '38, Norton and Meyer will be assisted by Marty Karow of A. & M., Mike Brumelow and Walter Roach of T.C.U., Dell Morgan of Rice and Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech, as well as various demonstrators and the 50 high school players who will work out daily under their direction.

Meyer will have the North team and Norton the South, and oddly the squads seem to suit each coach's system.

While the South is not devoid of a passing threat, its best offensive weapon is likely to be a

Senor Grillo Speaks To Seed Analysts On Brazil, Agriculture

Approximately 25 seedsmen registered for the annual Seed Analysts Short Course which opened here Tuesday morning and were welcomed to the campus by Dr. E. P. Humbert, head of the college genetics department, who also explained the purpose of the course and told the visitors that he hoped that immediate and practical help will be given those who handle field seeds.

Morning sessions are devoted mainly to discussions on various phases of the seed industry while a good part of the afternoons are given over to laboratory work. Evening meetings consist of additional talks by leaders in the field, both educators and seed experts, as well as motion pictures dealing with a variety of subjects.

Speakers on the opening day's program included Dr. Ide P. Trotter, college agronomy department head; Miss Wynona Robbins, State Seed Laboratory, Austin; Miss Mildred W. Pladeck, Federal Grass Nursery, Soil Conservation Service, San Antonio; George Werner, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station; and Senor Heiter Grillo, director of the National School of Agriculture in Brazil, S. A. crushing ground game with Wink's big J. R. Callahan pounding into the line and fleet backs like Travis Raven of Austin, Jay Francis of Midland, and Ollie Clark of Taylor going wide.

In other words, Norton can make believe that Callahan is John Kimbrough and utilize the same type of running offense that featured the Aggies' march to Southwest Conference and Sugar Bowl glory last season.

Three thousand reserved seat tickets were placed on sale here this week for convenience of fans, particularly those from out of town, who will not want to scramble for general admission tickets on game night. Both types of tickets will be $1. Mail orders are being taken at the athletic office of the University of Texas.

College Has Better Softball Players Than Bryan Despite Tournament Results

We have been told that Bryan had better softball players than College, but this is the bunk. Take the tournament for an example. Gulf of Bryan slipped out a 4-3 victory from Lipscomb Pharmacy. Lipscomb should never have lost that game. One man's mistakes cost the College team the game. Two of the Gulf stars in that semi-final game were boys who should be playing for College teams. Bill Carl and Newt Williamson have both been playing out here for several years and are definitely College players, who have been playing in town because they could play at night. Of course there are other reasons why they play with Bryan. If they want to that is where they should be playing. The league at College will never be much more than it is now until the City of College Station is able to put in a lighted field.

Getting back to the tournament games though, Campus Cleaners came back and beat Lipscomb and looked much better doing it than did Gulf. Gulf, by virtue of the way tournaments run, played the Ax-men for first and second place. The Ax-men, who by the way, have one of the best clubs in the business, soundly defeated the Gulf entry.

The Ax-men's first baseman was Jimmy Hallmark. Jim was at A. & M. in 1934 as a freshman end.

Bull Stanzel, former Rice Institute tackle, had his right hand severed above the wrist and is in a critical condition after a crash with a truck as he and Quincy Couger, also a former Rice star, were en route to Columbus to accept a job with an oil company. Bull was one of the best tackles in Rice Institute's history.

Joe Boyd, the All-American tackle of the Aggies last season, is certain to be one of the tackles on the college all-star squad that
