"We are particularly anxious," Fuermann concluded, "to impress on the corps the fact that it should not expect the first edition of Aggietone News to be flawless. The staff has done the best work in its power and we are sincerely anxious to receive any and all criticism which the corps may have to offer following the first showing."

To concern Aggie activities on and off the campus, the first edition of Aggietone News will include pictures of the Aggie-A. & I. game, the San Antonio corps trip, registration, College Night, intramural games, and general scenes around the campus.

Aggietone News is financed by Ben S. Ferguson, Dallas and College Station theatre man who is owner of the Campus Theatre.

Special equipment has been purchased which will show Aggietone News on the screen similar to regular newsreels. Fuermann said that the screen-size of the news reel would be the same as other screen-sizes, and, in respect to reproduction on the screen, it would be the near-equal of feature length pictures.

Kyle, Alexander Write High School Textbook About Agriculture

A new textbook on agriculture for high school students titled "Agriculture in the Southwest", written by E. J. Kyle, dean of the school of agriculture, Texas A. & M. college, and Prof. E. R. Alexander, head of the A. & M. department of agricultural education, will come before the Text Book Commission for approval at its October meeting, Dean Kyle has been advised.

The book has been prepared in response to requests for such a textbook by teachers of vocational agriculture, county agricultural agents, soil conservation service officers and others dealing with farm families.

Members of the Texas A. & M. college system who are recognized authorities in their fields have written the chapters of the book dealing with the phase of agriculture in which they are outstanding. A total of 19 such men contributed to the book which was finally edited by W. R. Sherrill, assistant professor of agricultural education at the college.

Those men cooperating in the preparation of the book and the chapter which they have written include: Henry Ross, "The Agricultural Situation"; R. L. Hunt, "Planning the Farm Business"; W. E. Paulson, "Marketing Farm Commodities"; L. G. Jones, "Soil Conservation"; D. T. Killough and J. S. Mogford, "Cotton"; P. C. Mangelsdorf, "Corn"; R. E. Karper, "The Sorghums"; R. C. Potts, "Small Grains and Forage Crops and Pastures"; Fred Brison, "Vegetable Growing"; Guy W. Adriance, "Fruit Growing"; N. G. Schuessler, "Beef Cattle Production"; C. N. Sheppardson, "Dairying"; A. K. Mackey, "Sheep and Angora Goats"; Fred Hale, "Hog Production"; D. H. Reid, "Poultry"; D. W. Williams, "Horses and Mules"; Fred Jones, "Farm Power and Mechanical Equipment"; and Walter P. Taylor, "Wild Life as a Farm By-Product".

Rip Snortin' Rodeo Promised Bronc Busters

Come on you so called Texas Aggie Cowboys. Here's your chance again to get a share of the Texas Aggie' Rodeo purse when on October 18, one of the biggest shows of its kind in the southwest will get underway.

Entries will be taken Wednesday night October 9 in the Animal Industries lecture room and every student who can rope, ride or bull dog is invited to attend. The entry fees will probably be the same as last year although there may be a slight change.

With "Shorty" Fuller directing the Show and Johnny Harclim handling the advertising, the rodeo promises to be one of the highlights of the year. Others selected to handle various events are Jake Hess in charge of calf roping, Travis Richardson, Steer riding, W. L. Pendleton, bareback bronc riding, and Jack Cleveland, Bill Hampton and Bill Ward in charge of building pens and chutes. Tommy Stewart is handling the programs while Victor Loeffler is taking charge of the tickets.

Any Aggie who thinks that he can hang on to a bareback buckin' bronc is invited to enter or throw a Brahma calf is invited to enter.

Sleeping Sickness In Horses And Mules Found Recently In Brazos County

Sleeping sickness in horses and mules which has been found in North Texas is now making its way South and has made its appearance in the vicinity of Brazos county, Dr. A. A. Lenert, head of the department of veterinary medicine and surgery at Texas A. & M. College said Friday.

We have had approximately 20 cases of the disease recently and they all came from nearby Edge, Kurten, Normangee and Madisonville," he said. "We do not keep the animals in the hospital here but simply give them treatment and prescribe the nursing to be followed at home."

He explained that while the disease is infectious it is not contagious and can be prevented by inoculation done by a veterinarian. After the animal takes the disease early treatment may save it but in many cases it dies due to delayed treatment, he added, in advising preventative treatment.

"The animal may stand up alone for five or six days with the disease and still be cured but once it gets down the chance of recovery is very small," he explained.

Team Entrains For California Late This Evening

is expected to be a thriller from the start to the finish. The two tie second-stringers for a touch-down to the fray, and the turf should hold the tread of scintillating runs and blasting power drives after the final gun.

The pick of the Southwest sports writers will accompany the Aggies on the trip. From Houston will come Dick Freeman and Bruce Laver; Dallas will send Charles Burton; from Waco will come the indomitable "Jinx" Tucker; and the Aggies own newspaper, the Battalion, will send their sports Editor, H. O. "Hub" Johnson, and Photographer Phil Golman.

Aggietone News, the A. & M. newsreel, will be covering the game to bring back a filmed description of the clash.

The Aggies, in their conflict with the Uclans, will be going after the third win of the season, and nationwide predictions are inclined to believe that either club will have to play championship football for any kind of a victory.

Inter-Church Council Meets For Organization

The new-born Inter-Church Council of Texas A. & M. held its first meeting for organization in the parlor of the Y.M.C.A. with an attendance of 18 members. Frank Loving, senior student in the band, the originator of the idea and the chairman of the group, was in charge.

Formed for the purpose of coordinating and combining the efforts of all the churches on the campus in one concentrated drive toward their common goals, the Council was formed under the sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A. and selected as the faculty advisor, Alfred C. Payne, newly appointed secretary in the Y. M. C. A.

Those who attended the meeting include the following: Harold Ramsden and W. A. Collins of the Presbyterian Church; L. J. Smith and Morris Lichenstein of the Hill Club; J. T. Duree and Clayton Collins of the Methodist church; Charles Baker and H. B. Springfield of the Church of Christ; Leroy Brown and Doc Watley of the Baptist church; Lynn Maxwell and Clyde Morgan of the Episcopal church; Ralph Mulvey and Curly Provost of the Catholic church; Donald Burrus of the Christian Science.

times lack the final bit of oomph to finish the evening in good shape. After the season they'll expect a bit more of the regular routines.

This favor will be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

There is a big question on the top of our note book. That is how Mr. Williamson can rate the Aggies in No. 2 place for this week's poll? With a rating of 99.7, the cadets go to the show spot. Southern Methodist won two good games, one from U. C. L. A. and one from the strong little Denton Teachers who boast one of the fastest backfields in the South.

U. C. L. A. goes far down the list because of its two losses. Both were surrendered in the last period. The first in the last six minutes and the second in the last four minutes, and both 9 to 6.

From San Antonio comes a few red notes and also a few black marks. Cece Hollinsworth scouting for the U. C. L. A. Bruins not only drew out all the plays used by the Aggies, but also recorded about eight records with individual characteristics of the various players being noted. Joe Rothe followed some beautiful interference on his punt return. Bama Smith seems to love the side lines as he and the body on the field of clean sports are to be highly commended and furnish a fine background for good citizenship.

We extend our most cordial and sincere good wishes to the group from A. & M. on this occasion, and assure them that they will always receive a hearty welcome in San Antonio.

Maury Maverick,
Mayor

Shortly after the Aggie band assembled and sent the strains of the "Aggie War Hymn" blasting down Houston street a large part of the "Twelfth Man" met before the Gunter Hotel and gave the San Antonians a preview of how Aggies can yell. No small number of people stood awe-struck as "Buster" Keeton, flanked by his assistants Bill Beck and Skeen Staley, hung over the railing on the Gunter Hotel and led the group in yells that seemed to rock the buildings. For the benefit of those who lived beyond the city limits of San Antonio and could not hear the yells directly, KTSA had a broadcasting set-up to carry the noise.

Then came the afternoon and the Aggies yelled, swore, sweated, and yelled some more as 20,000 people saw the Tulsa Hurricanes turned into a calm. At the half the band put on its first official performance of the year and San Antonio's own Betty Jameson welcomed the crowd in the new Alamo Stadium.

The week end of events was only getting into full swing at the close of the victory. And when night came again the Aggies scattered to make the best of it. The San Antonio A. & M. Mothers Club furnished dates for the band boys, and the corps furnished the "bird dogs".

And on into the not-so-small hours of the morning the Aggies rumbled.

When and if all the boys get a back there will be a unanimous decision that San Antonio is a real place for a corps trip.

Draft Bill—

3. Sec. 5 (a) Students who are "cadets of the advanced course, senior division, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, or Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps, shall not be required to be registered and shall be relieved from liability for training and service" under this Act.

4. Sec. 5 (e) Deferment is provided on the basis of dependents, physical, mental, or moral deficiency and for "those men whose employment in industry, agriculture, or other occupations or employment, or whose activity in other endeavors is found to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest."

5. Sec. 3 (a) Any person between the ages of 18 and 36 shall be afforded an opportunity to volunteer for the period of training and service (12 months) prescribed in this act.

6. Sec. 3 (a) Foreign students (male aliens) must register, but only those who have declared their intention to become citizens are eligible for service.

7. Sec. 5 (d) "Ministers of religion, and students who are preparing for the ministry in theological or divinity schools . . . shall be exempt from training and service (but not from registration) under this act."

8. Sec. 5 (g) Any person "who, by reason of religious training belief, is conscientiously opposed to participation in war of any form" is not required, subject to approval of his claim, to be subject to combatant service but is subject to either non-combatant service or to "work of national importance under civilian direction."

REGISTRATION

The President has set October 16 as the date for registration. It will be conducted by election officials or such other individuals as the county clerk may appoint for each election district. The county clerk may, upon the request of a school or college, appoint a special registrar to conduct the registration within such institution. The student may register at any convenient place regardless of legal residence or domicile. The county clerk will mail his registration card to the local selective service (draft) board having jurisdiction over the area which the student indicates as his place of residence.

CLASSIFICATION

Each student (as well as other men 21 to 36) will be assigned a number and will be subject to call for classification. Prior to receipt of call he will receive a personal data sheet, one section of which provides for recording the individual's education and includes a specific question relating to attendance at school or college during the current academic year. If the student requests deferment and if his attendance during 1940 is verified by the college, his training may be deferred until July 1, 1941, or until the end of the academic year. Although a literal interpretation of the Act, a s worded, might exclude some students from its deferment clause, there is no reason to think that the Act will be liberally interpreted through rules and regulations now being drawn, to carry out a policy of deferring those students whose major occupation is the pursuit of a program of studies leading to a degree or certificate. Local boards will have discretion in deferring students in educational institutions or in courses of study not clearly within the Act (see par. 2 above), and part-time students, who may or may not be deferred because of their course of study, or other occupation. Authority for classifying any individual, subject to the process of appeal, lies with the local board.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

Some have felt that the exemption from registration of students in the advanced ROTC course will jeopardize colleges and universities without ROTC. The following facts should be borne in mind: (1) The War Department does not now contemplate the establishment of additional ROTC units. (2) In established ROTC units the number of men permitted to continue into the advanced course is only one in four of those who take the basic course (84,000 in the basic Army ROTC course, 19,000 in the advanced). (3) The young man who received his ROTC commission will be subject to active duty for such time after graduation as the Army or Navy may then require. (4) The War Department contemplates setting up officer training facilities in selected Army camps.

ANSWER TO BRAIN TWISTER

The adding of three is a bit of camouflage and since you must multiply the three by five and then by ten, you must subtract one hundred fifty. The other multiplications merely move the numbers to the left into their proper positions.

A good furniture wood should be hard and strong enough to resist normal stress and strain, yet soft enough that nails and screws won't split it; resistant to denting under ordinary use; an attractive figure, able to take strain without spoiling its natural appearance; and resistant to warping, swelling and shrinking.

Nearly 11 years ago Dr. C. W. Root, head of Syracuse University's bacteriology department placed a hermetically sealed flask of cows milk, along with a flask of nutrient agar, both purified of bacteria, in the cornerstone of Hendricks Chapel.
