All in all the newsreel is "The Aggie Own Story on Celluloid." The technical defects can be corrected in later editions and leave a permanent record of the activities of Aggies that cannot be equaled in words of any quantity of quality. The Chinese proverb that one look-see is worth a thousand tells will demonstrate this to anyone who sees the production.

On Kyle Field—

Jack Kimbrough and Marshall Robnett drew the two most beautiful.

"Thomason makes this Kimbrough" was heard time and time again from fans in the stands. It's true that these two work like cannon and cannoner together but each in his own way, and what ways carries a lot of force.

Southern Methodist tied their first wrong way game last Saturday against Pitt, 7 to 7. It was rough for the ponies and only the passing of Mallow and the punting of Johnston saved them from defeat. Johnston set a new record for punting, lifting the ball high in the air and far down the field from his own 6 to the Pitt 2, 98 yards.

Texas Christian lost to North Carolina for the upset of the conference intersectional tilts and Arkansas ran over the Baylor Bears. Rice closed out L. S. U. to remain unscored upon this year.

We called the Rice and the Aggie wins, but lost out on the Baylor and T. C. U. upsets, and tied on the remaining. So as "Mr. Williamson" says this gives us a .500 per cent average.

Longhorns—

He added that Arkansas is getting good guard and center support and play from Co-Capt. A. J. Yates, Milt Simington and Daryl Cato. In practice this week Bible indicated he would start a lineup quite different from the one which opened against Oklahoma, carrying out his policy of promoting deserving subs to the starting string. Among them were Tackles Bo Cohenour and Stanley Mauldin, Guard Harold Jungmichael, Frontback Jimmy Grubbs, Fullback R. L. Harkins and End Jess Hawthorne.

Mike Sweeney is considered the regular left end but gives way to Preston Flanagan when Texas draws the opening kickoff job. Guard Ted Dawson, Center Red Goodwin and Halfbacks Crain and Noble Doss completed the tentative starting lineup this week.

Of all these, the Razorbacks will be watching Crain closest. Last year, he broke away for 69 yards in the last 20 seconds to defeat Arkansas 14-13 at Memorial Stadium.

The Texas squad will leave here Friday morning and stop at Palestine for an afternoon workout. They will reach Little Rock early Saturday.

Yehudi Works—

In 1935 Kerns was transferred from the E. E. Department to his present position and has since proven himself invaluable to the college. Aside from being in charge of the swimming pool Kerns also applies himself to keeping the elevators on the campus in usable condition; all air conditioning units; hot water system; and many other things.

University of North Dakota is completing a plant for experimenting with two of the state's natural resources—sodium sulphate and lignite coal.

Williamson—

It's in the lap of the gods now, and we're riding the ratings.

The Williamson choices in the other outstanding games this week end are: Oregon State over Washington in a mighty close one; Ohio State over Minnesota; Pitt over Fordham, which is probably against a lot of other prognosticators; Michigan over Illinois; S.M.U. over Auburn, unless the Mustangs slow down or the phantom backs of the Plains Tigers get to galloping again; Georgia over Columbia.

Speaking of S.M.U., just remember that Fullback Preston Johnson punted a 92-yard record last week in the 7-7 game with Pitt.

We'll take Texas over Arkansas, in spite of the latter's 13 to 7 upset of Baylor last week.

The figures say Villanova will take Baylor at San Antonio, Boston over Cincinnati, John Carroll over Case but it's a toss-up, Catholic U. over Miami in a hard one, Tulsa easily over St. Louis U., San Jose over San Francisco, Michigan State over Temple, Ole Miss over Duquesne, Notre Dame handily over Carnegie Tech at South Bend. Texas Aggies over T.C.U., Rice to make it four-in-a-row losses for Tulane, and Southern California over Oregon.

The San Diego Marines, only non-collegiate team that plays a strictly collegiate schedule, get the nod to win over Spec Keene's Williamette Bearcats. They'll play at Williamette, from which comes one of the season's best press-information folders.

(NOTE: Home team is listed first; visiting team is listed second.)

Table of football game results and scores, including Baylor vs Villanova (67-27), N. Denton vs S.F. Austin (71-5), N. St. Louis vs Tulsa (77-0), N. Texas Tech vs Brigham Young (80-8), N. Arizona vs Centenary (80-2), Arkansas vs Texas (87-4), Baylor vs Villanova (67-27), California vs U.C.L.A. (84-39), Colgate vs Duke (87-6), Cornell vs Syracuse (99-58), Mississippi vs Duquesne (95-4), Oklahoma A. & M. vs Washington, St. L. (90-5), S.M.U. vs Alabama Tech (95-4), N. Texas A. & I. vs San Marcos (87-5), Texas A. & M. vs T. C. U. (87-4), Tulane vs Rice (84-33), Loyola vs St. Mary, Calif. (80-0), and St. Mary, Calif. (82-9).

During the afternoon, the visitors will see the scouring plant in operation which has been recently enlarged by their efforts.

Executive conferences and committee meetings will occupy the majority of Saturday morning, but in the afternoon, the group will attend the A. & M.-T. C. U. football game; for which a block of seats has been reserved by the athletic department. During the three days the various faculty members of the college experiments service, experiment station, and students in the animal husbandry department will act as guides for any visitor who may have some point he wishes to see. Dean Kyle has charge of the program for the meeting and is assisted by D. W. Williams, J. M. Jones, S. P. Davis, Norman Schuessler, Roy Snyder, and others. Among the prominent visitors will be Hiram Phillips, a former Aggie, who is editor of the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raiser. This publication is sponsored by the Sheep and Wool Raisers Association. The October issue of this magazine featured A. & M. and contained many articles and pictures of the various departments.

Baylor Freshmen Play Kilgore For Season's 1st Tilt

The Baylor Freshmen gridders get their initial test under fire this week when they open their 1940 football season against the Kilgore Jr. College Rangers.

The Cubs may find the going a little rough against the Kilgore eleven, because the Rangers don't lose many ball games. The last time these oil field boys lost a game was in 1938, and since then have gone through 19 tests without meeting defeat.

Coach Jim Crow has been working the frosh gridders long and hard trying to fashion a defense and offense to cope with the Kilgore powerhouse, but thus far has been handicapped by the size and strength of his squad.

There are only 34 boys out for the Baylor freshman team and the Cub mentor has had a hard time finding a good forward wall out of the handful of gridders capable of playing line positions. Right now it looks like Joe Donovan and Glynn Lake will open up at ends, Bill Stephens and N. A. Waters in at tackle; Jim Bean and Johnny Lampkin filling the guard slots; and Ace Bryan or Olan Rannels at the center position.

The Cubs can come much closer to matching the Kilgore boys in the offensive end of play. Kit Kittrell, shifty all-state performer from McGregor, and John Mack Curry, hard running fullback from Henderson, have both looked good in the daily practice drills and will carry most of the offensive power. Other probable starters in the Cub backfield are Bo Robinson, dependable back from Dayton, and Paul Cook, 185 pound runner from Tulia.

Coach Crow has several outstanding backs on the freshmen team and will get plenty of good reserve help from Bill Dowdell of Jackson, Tenn. Ralph Tucker from Denver, Colorado; Conrad and Wellfred Elliot from Galena Park, Texas; Albin Murski from Brenham; and Zack Muray from Eaden, Texas.

Beasley Addresses Meeting of Agronomy Society Tuesday Night

An explanation of a treatment whereby the chromosome number of plants could be doubled in order to get distant crosses was given by Dr. J. O. Beasley of the Agronomy society at its first cultural Experiment Station to meeting Tuesday night. The subject of Dr. Beasley's talk was "Modern methods of Plant Breeding."

A number of students signed up for their Agronomy society keys which are the same as the national societies adopted last meeting. The keys will be in about two weeks after they are ordered. The initiation of new members into the club is to take place next Tuesday night in the basement of the Ag building. Anyone who is majoring or minoring in Agronomy and has had 1 semester hour of college work is eligible to join.

Singing Cadets Is Nation's Largest

By Mike Speer The famed Singing Cadets of A. & M. college is the largest all-male chorus in the world. Originated and directed by J. J. Woolket, instructor in the Modern Language department, it is composed of 213 male voices, all students of A. & M. college.

In view of the fact that A. & M. has no music department, that it offers no credit for music work whatsoever, that no credit may be obtained from participating in this organization other than personal enjoyment, an unusual amount of enthusiasm and interest has been devoted to making the Singing Cadets an outstanding success by the student body as a whole. It has received favorable recognition from musical organizations and critics throughout the state.

One of the outstanding characteristics of this praise-worthy organization is that it does not attempt to sing any musical compositions characteristic of heavy opera. It limits itself to those immortal, soul-stirring, vibrant, heart thrilling songs that appeal to every type of individual. The Singing Cadets are now working diligently on five such songs for their first public appearance.

In this organization there are four sections composed of 20 first tenors; 64 second tenors; 79 baritone; and 50 bases. An interesting fact to note about the Singing Cadets is that it is entirely possible for each of the four sections to be carrying a melody strange from the rest, yet the melody that reaches the ear seems only to be one song, perfect in tune and in harmony. The organization as a whole practices on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7:30

Taylor Addresses Biology Club Meeting

The wildlife museum collection of the Fish and Game department was shown to the members of the Biology club by Dr. W. P. Taylor at its second meeting of the year Tuesday night. Dr. Taylor held an informal discussion of the specimens which he presented and allowed the students to examine them.

There has been some discussion of a key to identify the members of the Biology club. This will be brought up at the next meeting.

Dean Ernest Bessey of the graduate school at Michigan State College has returned from Hawaii with 600 species of fungi.

to 8 p. m. in Guion Hall. The tenor groups practice on Monday afternoon from 5:00 to 5:30. The baritone groups practice on Tuesday afternoon from 5:00 to 5:30. "Anyone wishing to witness one of these practice periods is cordially invited to do so," Woolket said.

The Singing Cadets have received considerable publicity for A. & M. and a great amount of recognition for themselves.

The primary purpose of every member of the Singing Cadets is to receive as much personal entertainment and enjoyment as possible from their efforts. It affords them a few minutes of relaxation; a veritable sanctuary from their everyday problems, studies and duties.
