

Freshman Disappears Following Baylor Game

Webb M. Carnes Still Missing; Last Seen Catching Waco Ride

Texas police and officers of Waco and San Antonio are on the lookout for Webb M. Carnes, Jr. of San Antonio, pre-med freshman at A. & M., who has not been heard from since he thumbed a ride at Waco, about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, on his way to San Antonio to spend Sunday at home.

According to Alvin Leske, Jr., also a freshman student from San Antonio, Saturday was Carnes' birthday and his mother had intended coming to college to spend it with him. As he planned to go on the Aggie-Baylor game, she did not make the trip.

Carnes saw the game and he and Leske had a double date, took in the dance, and he then said that as his mother could not visit him, he was going to seek a ride home, surprise his parents and have dinner with them.

Leske and the two girls took Carnes out to the highway, where he hailed a car, a New Pontiac coupe with white sidewall tires, driven by a man well dressed and of good appearance. He agreed to take Carnes with him as far as he was going.

After being stopped, the man drove into a filling station to fill up with gas. Carnes was in the car with him. While the gas was being put in, Carnes got out of the car and again talked with Leske and the two girls, saying the man was going to take him part of the way home. The man came and they drove off.

That is the last that has been seen or heard from him.

College authorities are cooperating to the fullest extent with Carnes' parents in trying to locate him.

Fisk Jubilee Singers

Fisk Singers Present Town Hall Program Monday

The Fisk Jubilee Singers, one of the outstanding groups of Negro spiritual singing groups in the country, will present a Town Hall program Monday night in Guion Hall. The story of the Fisk Jubilee Singers is one of the most dramatic tales in all musical history. It traces the dizzy ascent of eleven young Negro men and women from breakfast in slave cabins of hominy and salt bacon to dinners in the mansions of the wealthy and receptions in drawing rooms of European nobility. They were organized soon after the war between the states by General Clinton B. Fisk, the distinguished soldier-educator, who established a liberal arts college for Negroes in Nashville, Tennessee.

A few months after the college opened a young man named George L. White came to join the little group of teachers. He was the son of a village blacksmith of Cadiz, New York state, but was blessed with a sensitive soul and a perfect ear for tone. He began picking (Continued on Page 4)

Singing Cadets Have Begun Active Season

The Singing Cadets, the largest male chorus in the nation, have begun the year with a group of experienced and well trained singers. Two performances have already been given, one for the Sheep and Goat Raisers convention, and one for the Women's Club of Bryan. This Friday night, the club is to sing before the Cattlemen's Association who will convene here at that time.

A novelty song, sung to the tune of the "Beer Barrel Polka", has been sent down by students of T. S. C. W. and is entitled "Aggie Sweethearts." They have requested that several of the juniors in the Singing Cadets learn the song and sing it at the junior prom in Denton, which is the Friday night preceding the S. M. U. game and tentative plans indicate that this will be done.

Will Be Guest Of Honor At Arkansas Game Here Saturday

When the general arrives, he will be met by Col. Ike Ashburn, Pres. T. O. Walton, Lt. Col. J. A. Watson, and Dean E. J. Kyle. Troop C Cavalry will act as the mounted escort for the military dignitary and will escort the official party to the entrance of Kyle Stadium. Battery D Field Artillery will have its guns set up at the south end of Kyle Field and will fire an 11-gun salute for the general. The Aggie band will then play the national anthem as the flag is raised, while the corps will stand and salute.

Prior to the game all seven units of the R.O.T.C. at the college will put on demonstrations and exhibits for all visitors from 11:30 till 1:30 on the old drill field showing instruments and weapons in use at the college for training the students to be commissioned officers. Official Drill Field Changed; Reviews Will Be Held In New Area

The official drill field for reviews and other military functions has been changed from the old area to the space immediately to the rear of the new mess hall. This announcement was made by the Military Department through Major J. B. Wise, adjutant.

The reason given for changing from the drill field which has been used for years past is that the new area offers more space for the corps and for spectators as well. The difference in location will be only slightly farther for the students residing in the old area than the old drill field was for those living in the new dormitory area.

The new field will be used for the first time next week when the entire corps will form for a practice review. This review will be held to prepare the students for

Joint Student And Faculty Committee Names 1941's List

Twenty-one students of Texas A. & M. College were selected for the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities for 1940-41" by the coordination of a faculty and a student committee. This list includes 19 new selections for this year plus two that made the list last year.

The student committee was composed of the cadet colonel and the regimental commanders. The student Activities committee was used as the faculty committee for the selection. D. W. Williams served as chairman of the faculty committee.

Two Instructors Escape Injury As Airplane Crashes

In an airplane crash about a 100 yards south of the college airport early Monday morning, Guy Smith and T. C. Carlisle, instructors in the advanced flying course, sustained slight injuries as their plane nosed toward the ground clipping off several tree tops.

The instructors had been checking the ceiling for the students just before the time of the crash which was around 7:30 a. m. According to Capt. C. A. Miller, in charge of the student flying instruction, the cause of the crash was due to a misunderstanding between the two instructors.

The plane, one of two new Meyer's Advanced Trainers recently purchased by the college at an approximate cost of $6,000 each, was said to be a total loss by the authorities who made an inspection of the wreck.

Smith suffered a broken nose and several cuts on his body and was taken to the St. Joseph hospital in Bryan for a few days observation. Carlisle was released to go home after treatment for a slight face cut.
