Musical entertainment for the luncheon was furnished by the 215-man Singing Cadets who sang "Stouthearted Men" and dedicated it in particular to Prof. Alexander. They also sang "God Bless America", during the program, and concluded by singing "The Spirit of Aggieland", alma mater song of Texas A. & M.

Handballers Derrick, Faulk, Drumwright, and Covington gathered in two matches to cinch a game for B Engineers when they played G Field Artillery Friday. Wagner and Hancock took the third match and limited the score to 2-1.

Another 2-1 game ended in favor of B Coast Artillery when Gillette, King, Gillis, and Azier won two matches from L Infantry. The other match was taken care of by the fast playing combination of Mills, Rideout, Kerby, and Beard.

Dougherty-Hill and Cokinos-White had tough going to down the boys from A Chemical Warfare 2-1 for H Field Artillery and found Overbeck and Swain a little too ready when they won a match for the "test-tubers".

mark the score board 7 to 0.

The second quarter was a "saw-saw" affair, with the ball traveling through the air time and again, with Kimbrough intercepting one on the Aggies' 7 and carrying it to the Arkansas 49. The half ended with the score 7-0.

Conatser, led by great blockers, set the stage for the next points early in the third period as he raced from his 45 to the Arkansas 19 on a punt run back.

The Aggies took to the air and then returned to the ground where they were stopped hard by Simington and Bynum of the Razorbacks.

Jake Webster entered the game to try for a field goal with the ball on the 17 yard line and close to the side line on the west side of the field, Webster booted the ball right through the posts to change the score 10-0.

Here the haze took its leave and many a soul rested a bit easier.

Back came the Aggies, striking quick as Kimbrough intercepted another aerial and Jeffrey sailed an end zone pass to Sterling. Robnett kicked the extra point, and the Aggies held the 17 to 0 lead the remainder of the game.

In the final quarter Hamberg connected with Haynes, Pitts and Frieberger to threaten for the Hogs.

On the six yard line the Aggie line buckled down and held for four tries.

From then on time passed fast as Norton sent a unit of substitutes into the game for the closing minutes.

The Razorbacks made 16 first downs to seven for A. & M. They picked up seven rushing, six on passes, and three on penalties, to four on rushing and three on penalties for the Aggies.

A. & M. gained 90 yards rushing to the Razorback's 76 and passed for 95 while the Hogs took to the air for 151.

On Kyle Field

took to the huddle and then to the line but with the snap of the ball, an outburst of the same chatter so well known wherever the twelfth man goes came across the field.

For many years we've been criticized for the unsportsman like act and now the change has been made. What we're wondering now is what fault the "unknown they" will find with the Aggie corps or their team next?

Saturday a week ago the Southern Conference played a double crossing hand, but this week we came through with three of four correct callings although the scores were off on a few. We called all seven of the here and there games correct, so as Williamson says, this ought to bring the average up a good bit.

Arkansas failed to score on the Aggies but they did just about everything else while the cadets played a great defensive game.

Little Texas A. & I. came near taking up the Sam Houston Bearcat roll and held the Rice Owls to a 6-6 tie until the last seconds. A field goal by Bob Brumbley gave it still going strong and took a tennis game from the hard driving Fifth Corps Headquarters team 2-1. Beard and Pump won their match while Mills and Patterson took one the easy way. On the loser's side we find Ezzel and Cooper taking the winning match.

"Fish" Newberry saved the day for C Infantry by sinking one just as the whistle blew to end their basketball game with E Coast Artillery. The basket broke a 3-3 tie and left the game ending 5-4 in favor of the Infantry.

T. C. U., after falling to Tulsa and the Aggies, climbed back on the road with a 14 to 12 win over the Bears.

But Texas went down again. The Southern Methodist Ponies proved a little too much all around and came away with a 21 to 13 win.

The Sooner Ags topped Creighton, Stanford turned back U. C. L. A. in the Bruin's best of the year, Ohio State defeated Indiana, Minnesota eaked a one point win over Northwestern, Cornell closed out Columbia, Notre Dame ran into a hard Army team but came away one touchdown better, and Tulsa knocked Detroit from the undefeated, untied list.

The Tulsa game came as a surprise to many but to those players who have faced the Sooner gang, their roughness helps a lot it is claimed.

The yell leader's sweaters at long last have made their appearance on the campus. It seems that the manufacturer got off the line and sent the two white ones down with Texas University insignias thereon.

More than 80 university-given scholarships were recently awarded students at the University of Texas.
