

College Community Chest Goal of $6,000 Is Reached

Budget Is An Increase of $1,000 Over Last Year's Goal

By Mike Speer

This year's College Community Chest goal of $6,000 has been attained as a result of a final drive made by the Community Chest Committee, Dr. C. H. Winkler, head of the psychology department, announced late yesterday afternoon.

The College Community Chest annually sets a sum, which in their estimation will cover the various expenditures incurred by them and then sets a date for the beginning and end of a drive to obtain this sum. The date set for the drive this year was from Nov. 1 to Nov. 14. This drive is made for the purpose of collecting funds for the different organizations of College Station and Brazos County in order to keep them from soliciting haphazardly throughout the year.

President Walton was chairman of the drive and the vice chairman are Deans F. C. Bolton, E. J. Kyle, T. D. Brooks, R. P. Marsteller, Gibb Gilchrist and Directors A. B. Conner, H. H. Williamson, and E. O. Siecke. Solicitors for the College are the heads of all the college departments and superintendents of college divisions and of local business houses.

Contributions are made to cover the many needs that arise during the year, and the organization receiving benefits from this drive are the Brazos County and Bryan Chambers of Commerce, the Y. M. C. A., P. T. A., Boy and Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Red Cross, crippled children fund, county-wide hospitalization and various other organizations.

This year's budget of $6,000 is an increase of $1,000 over last year. However, the community chest last year incurred a deficit of $1,807.76.

In contributing, each employee of the college is asked to give the amount equalling one day's pay.

Date of Bonfire Dance Changed to Night Before Texas University Game

The annual A. & M. Bonfire Dance, proclaiming the end of football festivities on A. & M. campus for the 1940 football season, will be held in Sbis Hall Wed. night, Nov. 27, from 10 to 1 o'clock, following the burning of the bonfire for the Texas University game. Ed Minnock and his Aggieband orchestra will furnish a varied type of dance tunes, playing all of the current hits and featuring the many A. & M. school songs.

This will be the last official corps dance until after the Christmas holidays. For that reason, freshmen desiring to attend the traditional ritual may go with or without dates.

This dance, entitled the Bonfire Dance, is as traditional as the burning of the bonfire before every A. & M.-Texas game. Heretofore, it has been the policy of the dance committee to hold the dance two nights preceding the date of the game, so that students desiring to observe another A. & M. tradition by leaving early for a corps trip, may attend the dance. However, in this particular instance, this is not the case.

Social Secretary Jack Nelson said that more girls would be available on Wednesday night than upon Tuesday night as before.

The script for this dance will be the same as for all the preceding ones, $1.10.

Red Cross First Aid Group Operates During Home Contest

A Red Cross first aid tent sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. has been operated during the T.C.U., Arkansas, and Rice football games on Kyle Field.

The tent was furnished by Mr. C. L. Baker of the geology department and was located on the front lawn of the home of Mr. E. J. Howell. The tent operated from 12 o'clock Saturday morning until the close of the game. It was supervised by Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, a trained nurse from Bryan, and K. T. Blakely, a graduate of a red cross first aid training course.

The first aid tent has treated a great many medical cases among the football crowds. A man suffering from a badly lacerated face resulting from a fall, a person with a broken finger and a boy whose hand had been badly cut by a broken soda water bottle were all successfully treated in the first aid tent. In addition to this, several cases of fainting and sore throat received medical care. During the Arkansas game a member of the Bengal Guards was treated for concussion of the brain. The girl received the injury before arriving at A. & M. but fell unconscious during the game. Another sick person who was brought to the first aid tent was examined and found to have appendicitis and was rushed to the hospital.

Minimum Home Needs Discussed By TSCW Students

Ten students from T.S.C.W. arrived on the campus yesterday to meet with ten seniors in A. & M.'s architectural department to study the designing of an ideal home for an average family of four members with about a $1000 income.

The girls are majoring in home economics and fine arts in Denton. The home economics students studied the family needs and determined their minimum living costs, and the fine arts students planned the interior decorating and decided upon the necessary household equipment. Each of the A. & M. students designed a home which was discussed at the meeting. The plans of these homes will be taken back to Denton for further study by T. S. C. W. architectural students.

The T. S. C. W. girls, the A. & M. students, and six professors of the architecture department met last night at the home of C. J. Finney of the architectural department where they enjoyed an informal party. The girls also had lunch at the mess hall today after the discussions.

Barry Franks, Ex-Student Of '41 Class, Receives Air Corps Commission

Barry C. Franks of Brady, who immediately took his place as a pilot in our ever increasing national defense. This is the seventh class of like size to graduate since the first of 1940.

After graduation all of these new officers began active duty with the regular army air corps. One hundred of these men were assigned to the air corps training center as flying instructors for the continually increasing classes of student pilots for the army. The balance of this class was assigned to the many fighting units of the army air corps which are now located throughout the United States, Panama, Hawaii and the Philippines.

These new officers, as flying cadets, at first reported at one of the nine civilian primary schools, located in various parts of the country where they received elementary training in the arts of being a soldier and 65 hours of dual and solo flying in primary training planes. Upon successfully passing the primary training, they were sent to the basic training school at Randolph Field, Texas, where in addition to receiving ground instruction in the technical aspects of flying (Continued on Page 4)

Finn, Bellows Are In Charge Of Plans, Construction

By E. M. Rosenthal

Work on the six new dormitories to be built west of the college hospital started yesterday when the first loads of materials were delivered.

These new dorms, planned and under the construction of the same firms that built the twelve other new dorms last year will go up under the direction of Alfred C. Finn, Houston architect, and the W. S. Bellows Company, contractors from Houston. Martyn Brothers of Dallas have the plumbing contract and Eugene Ash of Houston will handle the electrical installation.

The plans call for construction very similar to that of the other new dormitories. In fact reports are that there will be little difference in the appearance of the two groups of buildings.

Each one of the dorms will have 112 rooms and will increase the capacity of all the project houses and other 21 dormitories to over 6,100 students. However, even with this increase in rooms there will be a necessity for some day students next year.

Nine hundred thousand dollars was allotted for the cost of these reinforced concrete and brick buildings, which is very close to the figure allowed per dormitory last year. The contract calls for completion by September 15, 1941.

So far no names have been selected by the Board of Directors for the dorms, and the Commandants office has not announced which organizations will occupy them. But it is believed that the band will be divided into its component parts as the Infantry and Field Artillery Bands and that one of them will be located in the new section.
