SOUND MOTION PICTURES
"Safety Glass", a fifteen minute movie will be presented today, Tuesday, December 10, at 5:15 p. m. in the large lecture room of the Petroleum Engineering Building.

The film is one of a series being presented by the Industrial Engineering Department in their visual instruction program for preparing men for production jobs in industry.

Sequences will be shown of glass being made continuously from a 900 ton furnace, and will illustrate the effective use of a special handling equipment to reduce breakage. The units shown in the picture are tremendous in size and the investment in machinery is very large in proportion to the labor required. The public is very cordially invited to attend.

CONCESSION HOLDERS
All concession holders who expect to continue the operation of any type of concession on the Campus are requested to report to the Chairman, Student Labor Committee, at the Office of Student Employment, Room 215, Administration Building, prior to December 21, 1940. The names of all agents of the concessionaire must be available at that time. Failure to report during the time specified will be sufficient cause to revoke operation privileges of concessionaire.

W. R. HORSLBY, Chairman
Student Labor Committee

27208 "Anything"
"Another One of Them Things"
—Tommy Dorsey and his Orchestra

Dance band musicians are harsh critics of popular songs and it is a rare thing when one of the melodies they play entirely meets with their approval. "Anything", Tommy Dorsey's latest offering is one of these. It's a musician's tune, written by musicians, no less a combination in fact that Phil Napoleon, famed New Orleans cornetist; Frank Signorelli, hot jazz pianist, and Eddie DeLang. In slow ballad tempo, the number is simple but extremely effective, opening with Tommy's trombone soloing in the middle register against sustained chords in the sax section. Frank Sinatra voices the second chorus and Dorsey solos out. The reverse, "Another One of Them Things" is a Sy Oliver arrangement punched out in medium swing time. Ziggy Elman with his powerhouse trumpet is the feature performer.

27204 "One O'Clock Jump"
"Blues In Thirds"
—Sidney Bechet and his New Orleans Feetwarmers

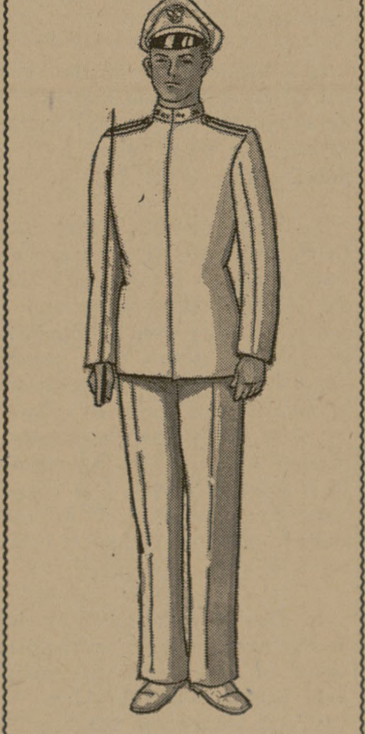

The first is a fast tempo affair with Sonny White on piano, Wilson Meyers, bass; Charlie Howard, guitar, and Kenny Clarke, drums. The latter, as indicated by the title, is a blues tune with a double melody developed in a parallel line a musical third apart. This side is a trio performance with Earl Hines at the piano, and "Baby" Dodds, drums; in a composition by Hines himself.

B-10940 We'll Meet Again"
"Make It Another Old Fashioned, Please"
—Mitchell Ayres and his Fashions-in-Music

Mitchell Ayres takes a turn at the wheel of the Cole Porter—"Panama Hattie" bandwagon with a smooth interpretation of "Make It Another Old Fashioned, Please". The reverse is "We'll Meet Again", displaying Mitchell Ayres' decidedly different style, gradiose phrasing, skittering alto and full tonal quality. Mary Ann Mercer sings both.

26790 A HANDFUL OF STARS
—F. T.

Artie Shaw and His Orchestra
Artie Shaw rolls another double down the groove he has worn smooth in the past few weeks, leading his full band through two film tunes: "A Handful of Stars", from MGM's "Hullabaloo", and "Love of My Life", from Paramount's "Second Chorus" (Shaw's own picture). The orchestrations are rich and Artie's clarinet as intricate and skillful as ever. Vocalist is Anita Boyer.

OR HAVE I—F. T.
Vaughn Monroe and his Orchestra

A new one by Mitchell Parish and Peter DeRose, "The Moon Fell In The River", is served up by Vaughn Monroe and orchestra, coupled with an enigmatic "Or Have I?", from the pens of Charlie Tobias and Sam Stept. The maestro and his boys keep up to their usual high standard with excellent ensemble work and smooth rhythm. Monroe's baritone is heard on both.
