 en returning lettermen on the hardwoods. They make up the team that won the Southwest Conference championship last year with the exception of one player. Only Levi Craddock, forward and polished "hole" performer, finished his eligibility among the lettermen. With eight wins under their belts and a weakened Texas team yet to play the Owls will be hard to stop and will require all of the skill and cunning commanded by the Aggie quintet to curb them.

 ard Payne College will be the speaker. The Little Symphony Orchestra of College Station, under the direction of Col. R. J. Dunn, will furnish the music. Mrs. Daniel Russell and Euell Porter will have a place on the program.
 Members of the nominating committee were E. E. Yeager, W. R. McCullough, and Ivan Langford.

AAA

 project can be handled with less loss of time by the Bryan Housing Authority. This decision was made Tuesday morning, though the alternative of a private corporation has not been abandoned. If the BHA is not able to work out the problem, which there is reason to believe it will be able to do, then the other plan likely will be adopted. Subscriptions are being taken on this basis.
 Interest in the project is reported growing rapidly, as all who are approached realize, it is said, that the community cannot afford to see the offices of the AAA moved from this community. The fact that they will continue to be located here, if a suitable building is provided, and that contributors to the fund will be secured, either by bonds or stock, depending on which plan is followed, is being emphasized by the committee.

Cotton Bowl
 the 15 yard line came the second touchdown run over by Blumenstock.
 Henke Blocks Kick
 The game once more hung on the educated toe and the tall Aggie line. Henke went high to interfere with the ball. Down it came close to the cross bar on the field side. A sigh of relief came from the stands as the Aggies still held the lead.
 The Rams marked up 13 first downs to the Aggies 8. They gained 118 yards to A. & M.'s 52, but the cadets accounted for 101 via the air route while the Fordham eleven gained only 62. Aggie punts averaged 32.9 yards and the Rams averaged 30.4. Fordham ran back all kicks for a total of 55 yards while the Aggie returned 73 yards.
Hard Fought Contest
 The game was a hard fought contest. Elbows flew wide and tackles came hard. If ever the revolution narrowed down to a football game, this was the game.
 John Kimbrough played his same great ball and closed his A. & M. career with a good show for the home state people.
 Jim Thomason blocked the same and led the way for many of the Aggie runs. Marion Pugh passed the skin around in great fashion as did Marland Jeffrey. Bill Conatser, Derace Moser and Earl Smith all added their valuable bits to the win.
 On the line Chipp Routt and Charlie Henke played the best games of their final year. Marshall Robnett and Ernie Pannell played hard ball but left the game with slight injuries in the last quarter. Odell Herman and Tommie Vaughn called good defensive signals though the Rams had never been scouted. On the ends Bill Henderson, Jim Sterling, Boots Simmons, and Bill Buchanan stood up well.
 A record that will top that of the great fighting Aggies will be a long time in coming. The '39 and '40 Aggies go down in the books as the team of all time from the Southwest Conference.

Holmgreen

 1925 to 1927 he was county agent of Galveston county. In 1927 he was appointed poultry husbandman for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, a position which he held until 1934 when he became administrative officer of the AAA's corn-hog program in Texas.
 With the reorganization of the AAA in 1936, Holmgreen was named administrative assistant to the director of the Extension Service and had charge of the AAA program when that agency was separated from the Extension Service.
 Vance also studied at Texas A. & M., taking post graduate work in 1929. Previously he had attended Baylor University and graduated from North Texas Teachers' College. Throughout his school career, however, he farmed and taught school in Wise county. From 1929 to 1933 he was county agent in Madison county and from 1933 to 1935 in Young county. In 1935 he was appointed Extension Service agent for district 3, a position he held until he resigned in 1939 to become assistant administrative officer of the AAA.

Engineering Graduates Sought By Naval Reserve
 The United States Navy has recently instituted a program to bring college engineering students into its commissioned personell. Because of the great expansion of the navy at the time, a large demand exists for trained graduate engineers as officers of the navy.
 Many advanced naval engineering courses require as a prerequisite graduation from an engineering college. The navy is making a special effort at this time to urge engineering graduates to take advanced courses in marine engineering and naval architecture. All students completing this work are eligible for appointment as commissioned officers in the Navy. Men with training in Diesel, Radio, Aeronautical or Aerological engineering are also being accepted as officers.
 All A. & M. engineering students are being encouraged to apply for Naval Reserve Commissions upon graduation. Captain Randall Jacobs in a letter to the college says that "Graduates in all branches of engineering are being considered prime material for commissions." All students interested in the Navy should write to the Navy Department, Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D.C., for further information.

The regular fee of $1.50 will be charged for these special section pictures. These pictures should be turned in to Joe Jones, G Infantry, Room 101 Dormitory 5, on or before January 20th.
 With the making of all freshmen pictures at the Aggieland Studio to be completed by January 8th, all class sections will be completed.  Baggett is in a cheerful humor, and suffering very little pain. When asked what he thought of the accident, he replied "It's a swell way to lose about twenty pounds."
